A MESSAGE FROM ALL THE FOLKS AT KORDEL HOME FURNISHINGS

WE ARE GRATEFUL PEOPLE HERE AT KORDEL HOME FURNISHINGS. Our Wall-to-Wall Sellout was a grand success, and many folks got some fabulous bargains. We saw most of our old friends and met many new ones. We made a promise at the beginning of this historic event.

We promised a revolutionary concept in home furnishings would follow our sellout. It's time to give you more information about this concept.

For Fifty-Seven years, the Kordel Folks have asked themselves: "How can we give our customers more exciting values, wider selection, and even better service?"

For fifty-seven years we have, we believe, successfully answered that question. But times are changing, and it becomes more and more difficult to reach higher and higher levels of service and value. At last, however, we have discovered a way to continue to give the same personal service, the same dedication, and yet offer dramatically superior values and selection.

In a short time we will unveil our new concept. We will team-up with Slumberland,the fastest-growing furniture chain in America, and be able to give you MORE selection, BETTER selection, and LOWER PRICES. This is possible because we will benefit from Slumberland's national buying power and their priceless relationships with some of the greatest names in home furnishings. Kordel's new Slumberland Furniture will offer an even more outstanding selection of famous brand products — better than ever before. In addition to the top brands such as La-Z-Boy, Broyhill, Beautyrest by Simmons and Bassett, we can now offer prestigious Natuzzi, Guildcraft, Sealy Posturepedic, Thornwood, Michael Howard, Serta, Harmony and many others. Our great prices will be even lower with the addition of national buying power.

So, please watch your TV, newspapers and mailbox for more news. Furniture and mattress prices are going down in the Thief River Falls area — because now your friends and neighbors have national buying power. We look forward to seeing you at our Slumberland Grand-Grand Opening!

No injuries in Fosston airport mishap

Fosston - Two Grand Forks residents escaped injuries recently when the light plane they were flying landed on a closed runway at the Fosston Municipal Airport and hit a cut out portion of the runway that had been removed for repairs.

The front nose wheel on the tricycle landing gear collapsed when it hit the missing two-foot portion of runway, causing the plane to tip forward. The prop was damaged and the plane the tipped.

The airplane was owned by Crookston Aviation and was being used as a training airplane. The Thirteen Towns

Citiaa compete for Grand Forks residents

GrandForks, ND - Small towns and communities surrounding Grand Forks are trying to lure Grand Forks residents forced to leave flood damaged homes to their communities using everything from newspaper ads to press releases offering cash incentives for buyers of high-and-dry building lots.

Halstad is offering free building lots and other incentives while mentioning in their advertising that their community is protected by a dike certified by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Warren and Argyle have set up a tax increment financing deal that gives rebates to people building new homes in either city. The Crookston Daily Times

Red Lake Falls - Rhonda and Ed Hagl had only been gone a few hours on vacation when they recieved a call that their home had been vandalized. Juveniles had torn apart every room of there home causing over $10.000 in damage.

This is one of numerous vandalisms that have occurred in Red Lake Falls in the past few weeks.

Red Lake County Sheriff Al Morken talked with the RLF City Council about some possible solutions. Everyone agrees that keeping youths out of trouble will require the joint effort of everyone in the community. The Gazette

NCTC will help train Northwest mechanics

Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls is included in a $400.000 grant from the Minnesota Job Skills Partnership to train an estimated 400 air transport mechanics for Northwest Airlines.

Northwest is contributing $1.275 million to the training project which will be implemented as a joint project by the state, Northwest Airlines, the International Association of Machinists and the four colleges offering the training—Northland Community and Technical College, Lake Superior College, Minneapolis Community and Technical College and Red Wing/Winona Technical College.

The grant was announced at a news conference conducted Thursday, July 3, in Duluth. Interim Chancellor Morrie Anderson of Minnesota State Colleges and Universities (MnSCU) said the partnership "will help our institutions provide training for Northwest, whose trainers are now working at full capacity."

Roger Hughes of the Minnesota Job Skills Partnership told the Northern Watch that the funds will be used to add new courses at the schools and to provide upgrade training for instructors to teach the courses now required by the air transport industry. The grant is effective July 1, but it is not known when the course instruction will begin for students.

SPEED LIMIT 55

It's still the law. Until the signs change to a higher posting, the speed limit remains 55. In this region only a couple of highways are expected to see an increased speed limit. Last week, Minnesota State Patrol and the Public Safety Department initiated their Safe and Sober campaign. Teal colored ribbons were tied to speed limit signs to remind motorists of the speed limit. Last year 17 people were killed on Minnesota highways. Officials hope to see a reduction in the number of fatalities and serious accidents. Pictured above, is the new captain of the State Patrol in Thief River Falls, Capt. Dick Wittenberg.

Safe and Sober campaign kicks off for weekend

Minnesota State Highway Patrol officers will be out in force this holiday weekend. The Minnesota Department of Public Safety kicked-off its Safe and Sober campaign on Tuesday. As part of the campaign, teal colored ribbons will be tied to speed limit signs all over the state.

Capt. Dick Wittenberg of the Minnesota State Patrol in Thief River Falls, said the purpose of the ribbon is to catch driver's attention and remind them to watch their speed and to be aware of the new speed limits.

Last year, Capt. Wittenberg said, there were 17 fatalities during the holiday weekend. Greater awareness of stepped up enforcement and the Safe and Sober campaign will hopefully cut down on those statistics.

The new speed limits, said Capt. Wittenberg, will probably not be in place until after the holiday weekend. He said he has been hearing a lot of confused remarks about the new speed limits. A rule of thumb, he said, is to "follow the signs. That's a good thing to do anytime," he said.

Especially during this holiday weekend, following the speed limit signs could mean the difference between a nice holiday trip and a speeding ticket, he said.

The public will definitely be aware of a greater presence of state patrol on highways this weekend. Capt. Wittenberg said they would be stepping up enforcement, as well.

That stepped up enforcement is expected to carry over when the new speed limits signs are in place. Capt. Wittenberg said there will be less tolerance for speeders. He said they have added 12 shifts per week for the next several months, and have purchased 11 new radar sets.

There may be some unhappy people. "Overall," he said, "we'll see less leniency."

With the greater speed limits, Capt. Wittenberg, expects to see more serious accidents. At higher speeds, he explained, people have less time to respond, and no doubt there will be more fatalities and serious accidents.

Officers are concerned that drivers will maintain higher speeds on two-lane highways when they go from higher speed limits on four-lane highways. Capt. Wittenberg said that's dangerous. Some of the two-lane highways might not be designed for higher speeds. In addition there will be a disparity of speeds among the vehicles traveling on the highway. That disparity of speed is more prevalent during holidays when there are more recreation vehicles and recreational equipment being towed.

Capt. Wittenberg hopes that the increased presence of State Patrol officers, combined with the Safe and Sober campaign will increase public awareness and decrease the number of accidents this holiday.

County requests $481,820 reimbursement disasters

Pennington County has requested to be reimbursed for $481,820 in expenses incurred during the recent federally declared disasters.

Pennington County Sheriff Gerald Moe said that he was satisfied with the conclusions reached by Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) inspectors investigating the claims in the county. He said they were very thorough in investigating each claim for reimbursement submitted to FEMA.

Each claim submitted for reimbursement was investigated by a FEMA representative, a state official, and a local official. Sheriff Moe said their conclusions will be reviewed by more FEMA investigators before each claim is approved, but he doesn't expect many changes.

Of the $481,820 total, $1,097 was submitted for Inter-County Nursing, $203,500 for the sheriff's department, $159,875 for the county highway department, $82,632 for the City of Thief River Falls, $23,610 for townships, and $11,000 for the golf club in Thief River Falls. Northwest Medical Center and Northland Community and Technical College submitted separate reimbursement requests for a total of $25,000.

Sheriff Moe said there is still some research and investigating being done. Silverton township, for example, purchased flood insurance for its town hall prior to the disaster. That puts it in a different class and because of its historical significance, could involve the Minnesota Historical Society. For the most part however, FEMA finished its investigations on Tuesday, July 1.

Most of the reimbursement request were for highway and bridge damage. The sheriff's department has requested reimbursement for truck drivers hauling sandbags — $96,000 for the entire sandbag operation. They also requested $35,000 for the Evangelical Free Church evacuation center, $21,500 for the shelters set up during the ice storm, and $15,000 to cover costs associated with supporting the Good Samaritan Nursing Home.

The sheriff's department should be 100 percent covered, he said. The city, townships and the golf course are in different categories. They might receive 100 percent coverage on some things, but more likely 75 percent.

Sheriff Moe said he wasn't sure when the checks would start to arrive. He said because of the way they are processed, they will come in a series of payments.

Judy Yutrenka is Rural Mail Carrier of the Year

Judy Yutrzenka of Viking has been selected Rural Carrier of the Year by the Minnesota Rural Letter Carriers Association. She received her award plaque at the annual awards banquet of the association June 24 during the state convention in Alexandria.

There are 3,100 rural mail carriers who are members of the state association, in which Judy has been an active participant for a number of years. Clarence Peterson, now deceased, received a similar award while a rural carrier out of the Goodridge Post Office.

Mrs. Yutrzenka has been a full-time rural mail carrier for 22 years, working at Ulen, Fergus Falls and Argyle before serving Route 1 out of Viking and Route 7 out of Thief River Falls for the past eight years. Her present combined routes total 112 miles and include 427 boxholders.

Judy has served in the offices of secretary-treasurer, vice president and president of the Northern Minnesota Chapter of the MRLCA and the same offices in Area 5 of the state association, which has six area divisions.

She also served on the state board for 10 years. After six years as a director she served a two-year term as vice president and in 1993-95 served a two-year term as state president.

Judy was unaware that she was to receive the award until it was announced at the banquet during the state convention. Her husband Tom had secretly supplied the state association with information about his wife's involvement with the association and her rural carrier and family background.

Tom was in attendance to see Judy receive the award, as were her son and daughter-in-law, Patrick and Janell [illegible] of Bloomington and her other son Paul of Casselton, ND. Patrick's wife Janell is the former Janell Kain of Thief River Falls. Paul is married to Julie Rapacz of Argyle.

Tom and Judy also have three daughters. Pam is married to Gary Pieper and lives in Warroad; Peggy is married to Joe Miller and lives in

Coordinator of School-to-Work Initiative named

Sandra Fabian of Herman has been appointed as technical assistance coordinator for the School-to-Work Initiative in northwestern Minnesota, according to Eugene Piccolo, Assistant Commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Children, Families and Learning and state director of the School-to-Work effort.

Fabian's main responsibility will be to assist communities throughout northwestern Minnesota in the establishment of School-to-Work partnerships, which will include businesses, K-12 schools, colleges and universities, learners, labor organizations, employers and community based organizations.

Assistant Commissioner Piccolo said School-to-Work is "based on the proven concept that education works best when students apply what they learn to real life and work situations. It is about focusing student achievement on the state's graduation standards which take into account work skills as well as academic knowledge."

"School-to-Work is the systemic change needed to connect learning and life," Fabian said. "It enables learners to broaden their perception of opportunities and to direct their learning in ways that excite and interest them. It will also offer business and industry a voice in creating successful learners who will ultimately become the successful employees and employers of tomorrow."

Fabian said she is excited that School-to-Work links community and parents in the dialogue, responsibility and process of learning. "The program, at its best, is a comprehensive approach to life where the excitement and energy of learning is the expectation," she said.

Minnesota was recently awarded a $22.8 million federal School-to-Work grant. Funds will be distributed to local/regional partnerships as "venture capital" to help educators, employers and other community leaders create a more coordinated system of education, employment preparation and employment training.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Since the Fourth of July will last into Sunday, let's have some simply delicious ideas for holiday dining.

That barbecued chicken will taste especially good made this simple way:

HONEY BARBECUED CHICKEN

1 (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
1/4 cup cooking oil
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 cup dried oregano, crushed
1 teaspoon salt
6 peppercorns
1 clove garlic, minced
1 chicken, cut up
Honey Mustard Glaze

In large jar, combine all ingredients except chicken and glaze. Cover and shake vigorously to blend.

Place chicken pieces in shallow dish and pour mixture over. Cover and marinate for 2 hours at room temperature or overnight in refrigerator, turning occasionally.

Drain, reserving marinade. Grill chicken over medium coals for 45-50 minutes, brushing with marinade and turning frequently. Just before serving, brush with Honey Mustard Glaze.

Honey Mustard Glaze
1/4 cup honey
1 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard

Mix together.

Easy to make ahead, these potatoes are always delicious - add some veggies like carrots, peppers, celery or parsnips to the potato packets for a special treat:

ONIONED POTATOES

6 medium baking potatoes
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1 envelope onion soup mix

Scrub potatoes, unpeeled. Cut each in 3-4 lengthwise slices.

Blend butter and soup mix and spread on slices, then reassemble slices. Wrap each potato in foil, overlapping ends.

Bake in oven until done, turning once, or grill on grill 45-60 minutes.

Beans put the pizz-azz in a meal, especially when they are easy to make as these - cook them on the grill if you have one of those fancy ones:

THREE BEAN CASSEROLE

1 pound hamburger
5 slices bacon
1 onion, chopped
1 cup celery
1 medium can pork and beans
1 medium can kidney beans
1 medium can butter beans
1/4 cup ketchup
1/3 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper

Brown hamburger and chopped bacon. Add onion and celery and saute until transparent.

Mix hamburger mixture with remaining ingredients and place in bean pot or casserole. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

OLD-FASHIONED APPLE PIE

Crust for double pie
3/4 to 1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon salt
6-7 sliced (1/4 inch thick), peeled apples (2 - 2 1/2 pounds)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine sugar, flour, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt. Mix lightly with apples. Heap in pastry-lined 9 inch pie pan and dot with butter. Adjust top crust and flute edges. Cut vents in top crust.

Bake at 375 degrees for 50-60 minutes or until crust is browned, apples are tender and juices are bubbly.

Never Fail Pie Crust
2 cups flour
6 tablespoons solid shortening
6 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons water
3 tablespoons cream
Pinch of salt

Blend flour, salt, shortening and butter, using fingers to mix crumbly. Add cream and water and mix with fingers until dough holds together in a ball. Let stand 15 minutes to rest.

Roll out on floured board. (Recipe makes 4 pie shells - freeze extra balls for later.)

On June 29, Matt Nemec of Plummer reported that his 1994 Ford pickup had been stolen out of his garage in the early morning hours of June 29. It was located in a ditch east of Plummer the same morning.

Mullen, Carriere and the 17-year-old male were caught inside one of the vehicles. Baker faces two counts of theft, contributing to the delinquency of a minor, consumption under age, and open bottle. Demolition in Grand Forks to begin this week

The first of more than 125 flood-damaged structures condemned by the City of Grand Forks is scheduled for demolition this week.

Demolition of condemned houses and garages is part of the plan to clear unstable buildings posing an imminent health or public safety threat, city officials announced. Tim Manz, acting city building and zoning administrator, said that while most of the targeted structures are located in the hard-hit Lincoln Drive and Central Park areas, the demolition is not related to any proposed buyout or to other property acquisition efforts.

Manz said, "The reason these structures are being removed at this time is because they are structurally unsound and pose a threat to public health or safety if left in place."

A contractor, under the supervision of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will perform demolition work. The Corps awarded the demolition contract June 27 to Johnny F. Smith Truck and Dragline, Slidell, LA. Cost of the demolition will be paid by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Grand Forks City Attorney Howard Swanson said, "The City has given notice to owners through posting of notices on structures, mailing of notices to last known addresses of property owners, publication in the Grand Forks Herald, and a majority of property owners have been contacted by the Army Corps of Engineers and have signed permits allowing demolition."

Approximately 20 structures will be demolished per week and the project will take about two months to complete.

New speed limits go up on July 7

Minnesota Department of Transportation will be putting up new speed limit signs in the Northwest district on Monday, July 7. The new signs being posted will allow motorists to travel up to 65 miles per hour on rural four-lane divided highways. In the Northwest district, this will include T.H. 2 from the North Dakota border to Hubbard County road 45 east of Bemidji and on T.H. 71 north of T.H. 197 in Bemidji to the end of the four-lane near Glidden road.

Final date to certify acres set for July 15

According to the Marshall County Farm Service Agency office in Warren, the final date to certify planted acres is July 15. Producers that have planted fruits or vegetables, producers with CRP, or producers wishing to take a commodity loan must certify their acres.

Although certification is not mandatory, we strongly encourage producers to report their acreage by this deadline because of the impact that crop history has had in the past for farm programs.

Please call the Marshall County FSA office at 218-745-4251 for an appointment.

Gov. Arne Carlson approved $500,000 for TRF dredging

Governor Arne Carlson recently signed into law $500,000 in funding which will help the community of Thief River Falls with dredging efforts. The funding was part of the omnibus environment and agriculture bill Governor Carlson approved on May 30.

"Maintaining the beauty of our natural resources while simultaneously advancing economically is often a difficult balancing act," Governor Carlson said. "The dredging of the Thief River Falls power dam will help to maintain the cleanliness of the river and the efficient running of th dam."

The goal of this project is to restore the lake to its previous condition.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I am writing to say I have to agree with Harold Kelly's letter. I have lived in a number of different cities but have never seen one like Thief River Falls. The leaders of this city do not listen to their public and seem intent on spending, not considering the taxpayer's pocketbook.

Don Baron seems to like to see his name in print. One of his letters asked us to call our Senators and Congressman in response to a bill he did not like. I really could not comprehend why he thought this would do any good. When he was called and found out I was not in favor of the depot project, he wanted nothing to do with my opinion and did not want to listen.

Thief River Falls needs new leadership from top to bottom, minus a couple who want to see this city survive another 100 years, not ones that want their names on buildings and be in debt with no way to go but under.

Sincerely,
Wayne K. Wood

ECOSYSTEMS - PIECES OF NATURE'S PUZZLE

by Rebecca Leach
Age 15, Grade 9
Lincoln High School

An ecosystem is "inter-relations of living and non-living things," which basically means that it's how everything reacts to its environment. Everyone and everything are part of an ecosystem. Ecosystems are all different sizes; it could be a tree or a rain forest. The Earth is a big ecosystem called a biosphere. There are three major ecosystems in Minnesota. First is the Tall Grass Prairie Parkland. This is located in the western portion of Minnesota.

The second is the Eastern Broadleaf Forest, which is a strip from the northern border to the southern border that is mostly in the middle section of the state. The third is the Laurentian Mixed forest in the northeastern portion of Minnesota. The three ecosystems are divided into eight sections. These, in turn, are divided up into 24 subsections. Ecosystems are important because the healthier your ecosystem is, the stronger your economy is.

One important factor in the health of your ecosystem is population. Population is all the organisms of one species in the same place at the same time. There are three major factors of population: density, spacing and size. Density is the number of organisms in a given area. Spacing is the arrangement of them. Do they group together or spread out? Size is calculated by how many births and deaths there are and by how many organisms come and go. Many populations make up a community. In the community every organism has its niche, or what it does. For example, how it hunts, if it hunts.

Another important factor in the health of an ecosystem is the transfer of energy. This is when energy moves through populations. It starts with the producers. These are plants; they make the energy by transforming sunlight. Next, consumers, which are herbivores, omnivores, carnivores and decomposers, get the energy from the plants through the food chain. Then, the decomposers break down waste to carbon, oxygen and nitrogen, the elements needed by producers to make energy. So, everything depends on all inter-reactions.

Ecosystems are endlessly changing. One cause of change may be erosion, another may be drought, or an extra hot or cold period. Or maybe a human affected it by polluting. As you can see, anything can affect an ecosystem. They're incredibly fragile.

You are responsible for your own ecosystem. There are some guidelines to follow to make a healthy ecosystem. First, you must "look at the big picture," which means you should set goals for yourself as to how to manage your ecosystem. Next, "treat the source, not the symptoms." To do this you must understand the bottom of the problem. Work for the long-term solutions, not short-term solutions. They just put off the problem and delay it.

Also, you must "recognize the uniqueness of local ecosystems." Don't manage your ecosystem according to a different one because they are not the same, therefore they need different things. Also, make sure the plans you make for your ecosystem are flexible, so they can change with the ecosystem.

Fourth, "don't throw out any of the pieces." Ecosystems thrive on diversity, don't limit it to a couple of populations. Be sure to "identify and manage for inter-relationships." Think about the consequences the little ecosystem may have on a larger one.

Last, always remember to "be open to new ideas and new approaches." Scientists are continuously coming up with new technology and different theories to help people manage ecosystems.

Hopefully, now that you know how much you depend on ecosystems and how important they are, you can make good decisions for your ecosystem which, in turn, will affect all surrounding ecosystems. This is how ecosystems are "pieces of nature's puzzle." They all fit together.

Set flood relief benefit concert at LHS July 18

"Floodlight '97" is the theme for the flood relief benefit concert to be presented by Carolyn Arends and her band Friday, July 18, at the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Arends has had chart-topping success in both the United States and Canada with her blend of folk and rock stylings. Also on the concert bill will be the regional band Allame.

"Floodlight '97" will raise funds for Valley Inter-faith Coalition to Recovery (V.I.C.T.O.R.Y.) which will receive the proceeds from the event and distribute them to Red River Valley churches in need.

The concert is sponsored by Shine the Light, Inc., a non-profit organization actively promoting ministry and outreach in Minnesota and North Dakota. Tickets are $10 in advance at Christian bookstores or $12 at the door.

Thieves, Muskies to meet in TRF Sunday

The Thieves and Muskies are scheduled to play a nine-inning game at Irv Wilson Field Sunday starting at 6 p.m.

Thief River Falls is 5-5 for the year.

Thief River Falls VFW team has homestand

Thief River Falls' 1997 VFW baseball schedule is a two part format. The Rick Ostby-coached 16-year-olds are penciled in for 14 regular season doubleheaders this summer – seven in June and seven in July.

However, six of their seven first-month playing dates were on the road, and following 10-9, 9-7 Monday losses at Crookston, the team is 4-10.

They meet the same seven teams again this month, but only one of those six doubleheader rematches will be played on the road.

Thief River Falls' homestand was scheduled to start with Wednesday-Thursday games against Moorhead and Perham, respectively, but those games were rained out. New make-up dates have not yet been announced. Crookston will be at Irv Wilson Field Monday for a 5 p.m. twinbill.

The steady diet of home games will carry into post-season play when Thief River Falls plays host to the VFW District 9 tournament July 25-28.

Elementary students win in SWCD essay contest

Elementary Division second and third place winners in the essay contest sponsored by the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District included Jason Hicks (right), second place and Marissa Dehaan (left), third place. First place winner was Alexander Nelson who was pictured with his winning essay in the editorials of the July 2 issue of "The Times."

Essay contest sponsored by the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District produced three winners in each of three age divisions. Cash prizes of $50 for first, $30 for second and $20 for third were awarded in each division.

The Times and Northern Watch is publishing the first place essay from each age division as a guest editorial in succeeding issues. Alexander Nelson won the elementary division and his essay was published in the July 2 Times. Contest theme was "Ecosystems: Pieces of Nature's Puzzle." Published below are the second and third place entries.

Sponsors for the essay contest were Farmers Union Oil Company, Thief River Salvage, Farmers Co-op Grain and Seed Association, Evergreen Implement Company, Anderson Power and Equipment, Nelson Implement and Northwest Grain.

SECOND PLACE ENTRY
ELEMENTARY DIVISION

by Jason Hicks
Age 11, Grade 5
Our Saviour's Christian Academy

All living and non-living things depend and interact with each other in our environment. These living and non-living things make up our ecosystem.

The size of an ecosystem can be very small or it can be very large. Ecosystems are just like pieces of a puzzle. They are all different sizes, but all fit together. All ecosystems are connected just like pieces of a puzzle. All these ecosystems fit together to make our planet.

When one species lives together at the same time, and the same place, it is called a population. For an example, all the people which live in your town make up a population. There are three different characteristics of a population that affect an ecosystem. They are density, spacing and size. The density is the number of organisms in any given area. The spacing or arrangement is the amount of people evenly or unevenly given in an area. The size is determined by the increasing and the decreasing of the population of any given area.

An ecosystem is the interaction of all of the living organisms and all of the non-living organisms in their environment. Some of these interactions have competition with the population for some of the available resources.

Another interaction is when energy is transferred in an ecosystem. In photosynthesis green plants, called producers, trap the sun's energy. Producers produce food for the whole community and for themselves. Grass is an example of producers.

There are four consumers in the community. The first one is herbivores. Herbivores are consumers that only eat plants. The second one is carnivores. Carnivores are meat eaters which eat herbivores. The third one is omnivores. Omnivores are consumers that eat both plants and animals. The fourth one is decomposers. Decomposers are consumers which break down dead plants and animals.

Other interactions are called cycles. A cycle takes place when a resource is used, decayed, and returned to the environment. The water cycle is an important cycle. First the water rises from the rivers, lakes and oceans into the air. Next, the water drops come together to form clouds. Third, the clouds start to drop water. These three steps are called evaporation, condensation and precipitation.

Ecosystems are always changing. Every season ecosystems are changing. Some changes affect our ecosystem and some help our ecosystem. Some changes happen very fast and some happen very slow.

For years, most people didn't think of managing our resources as a whole but as parts. We now realize that all living and non-living things interact with each other. This interaction is what we call an ecosystem.

THIRD PLACE ENTRY
ELEMENTARY DIVISION

by Marissa DeHaan
Our Saviour's Christian Academy

Survival of all living things depends on a carefully balanced system called an ecosystem. For example, the sun is the energy source for all living things. Let's say the sun gives nutritional energy to a plant, the plant is eaten by a mouse, so then the mouse gets the nutrition that the plant got from the sun.

Then the mouse is unfortunately eaten by an owl. Once again the energy is passed on. The owl dies and decomposes into the soil making it fertile. Then the rich soil grows a strong plant.

This cycle could keep on going and never stop. It's like a circle of puzzle pieces that fit together and intertwine. This is called a food web or a food chain.

An ecological unit that contains a certain general type of vegetation is called a biome. Many biomes of North America have been changed by civilization. Without the interference of humans, biomes are determined by temperature, moisture and soil. There are five natural biomes in America north of Mexico.

The first of the five biomes begins in the Arctic region with the tundra. The tundra is a cold plain where average temperatures remain below freezing. The tundra is very dry and the only plant life is lichens, mosses and grasses. Fox, wolves, musk oxen, lemmings, caribou, ptarmigan, ducks and geese are some of the wildlife found there.

South of the tundra is the coniferous forest, or more commonly called taiga. The beginning of this biome is marked by the timber line, the point at which trees begin to grow. The temperature is higher and there is more rainfall. The types of trees found are pines, spruces, firs, cedar and redwood. Plant life is wood sorrel and sphagnum moss. Some of the animal life consists of moose, mule deer, bobcat, lynx, snowshoe hare and red crossbill.

In the eastern United States we find the temperate-deciduous forest. This area receives a lot of rain and temperatures are generally moderate. Forest animals flourish in these conditions and the tree leaves change color in the fall before they drop to the ground.

The fourth biome is the grasslands. In the central part of the United States the rainfall begins to decrease. Big bluestem grasses, curd grasses, little bluestem, psoralea and clover grow here. Bison, pronghorn antelope, prairie dogs, prairie chickens and mice are the kinds of wildlife in this system.

The last biome is the desert. Temperature ranges from moderate to very hot and dry. Yucca, sagebrush, desert palms, mesquite and desert dandelions are the types of plant life in this area. Jackrabbits, owls, snakes, kangaroo rats, lizards and roadrunners populate this area.

A lot of people never think of our ecosystems. Since they are not aware of the ecosystems, they could do a great amount of damage to it. For example, if a river got polluted people, fish and all life that relies on this food chain would be affected. The damage could be never ending. We must all do our part to preserve our ecosystems—pieces of nature's puzzle!

Warroad teacher receives grant to build program

Kathy Scheving of the Warroad Education Association has received a second-year $3,000 grant from the Minnesota Education Association's Foundation for Excellence in Teaching and Learning to support her Hand in Hand program.

Last year's story-time services are being expanded to offer a broader range of teaching and learning opportunities in Warroad's daycare community.

Early Childhood Family Education teachers conduct parenting workshops and facilitate support groups for parents and daycare providers. They also compile a Warroad Community Resource booklet of community parenting resources for families and daycare providers.

The grant was part of the latest round of grants totaling $117,000 and bringing the total awarded from the teacher-funded foundation to just over $550,000 since its inception in 1992.

Valley Housekeeping celebrates 20 years

Julie Smude, director of Valley Housekeeping, a program of the Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, Inc., says the program now has more than 80 housekeepers and over 400 clients in Pennington, Polk and Norman counties. Valley Housekeeping recently celebrated 20 years of service to seniors in the three counties.

Valley Housekeeping, a program of the Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, Inc., celebrated 20 years of providing service in northwestern Minnesota with a staff recognition June 25 at the Mt. St. Benedict meeting center in Crookston.

From household chores to errands like buying groceries and even baking, Valley Housekeeping has helped hundreds of clients in the three-county area of Polk, Pennington and Norman counties to remain independent in their own homes.

"We now have more than 80 housekeepers assisting more than 400 seniors," states Julie Smude, director of the program. "And we are expecting further program growth as the nation looks at the needs of the elderly and ways for older Americans to maintain their dignity and independence."

Valley Housekeeping originally began in 1976 as a chore service sponsored with a grant from the Region I Area Agency on Aging.

"We started out as Valley Chore Service in Crookston and Beltrami," Smude said. "Our goal was to give people who were elderly or who were physically or emotionally challenged a chance to maintain their independence by giving them a hand with household chores.

"The help we provide gives elderly homeowners the assistance they need to maintain their investment, improve their living environment and break the barrier of isolation too many elderly Minnesotans face daily. So many of our clients are homebound. Valley Housekeepers really brighten their day and help them manage their homes without taking away their independence."

While Valley Housekeeping is a huge undertaking, Smude says, it runs smoothly thanks to the coordination of program assistants Richard Moronez-Jensen and Brenda Bozyk and area coordinators Judy Johnson in Thief River Falls, Mary Scott in eastern Polk county and Ruth Huffman in Ada.

"Our program assistants work with clients and staff and maintain day to day operations," she said. "The area coordinators make home visits and assure that the needs of seniors are being met."

Smude said that services are administered by the Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, along with a grant from the Northwest Minnesota Area Agency on Aging, county support and donations from clients themselves.

"Our referrals often come from families, from other programs within the Tri-Valley agency and from county social service offices," the director added. "Although no one is charged for services, and no one is turned away, many seniors donate toward the cost of housekeeping and donations have really made program growth possible."

New Pennington county extension educator gets award

Glenice Johnson, former assistant professor of sociology at the University of Minnesota Crookston (UMC), received the Distinguished Teaching Award at the recently Faculty and Staff Recognition Banquet. As of July 1, Johnson was appointed Pennington County extension educator specializing in community resources for the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

Johnson joined the UMC faculty in 1976 as an instructor in the home and family services division. In 1982 she was promoted to assistant professor in the arts and sciences division. She was responsible for classroom instruction in sociology, family relationships and social gerontology, plus floral design/flower shop management courses for the horticulture department.

She has taught Elderhostel sessions, provided in-service training, guest lectures and workshop sessions for area agencies and groups, served on various University committees, was faculty advisor to the Collegiate 4-H club and Multicultural club. She has developed curricular and programmatic changes and advised approximately 20 students annually.

In 1997 she was the campus nominee for the national "Service Learning Award" for incorporating community service into classroom projects and requirements.

Johnson has a bachelor of science in home economics education from the University of Minnesota, master of education in human development education from the University of Maryland, and master of arts in gerontology from the University of Northern Colorado.

Northwest District Extension Service Director Deborah Zak said, "Glenice is an excellent educator who uses a variety of teaching methods to hold the attention of adult learners."

Several of her colleagues indicated that she contributes to education leadership. Her leadership in the integration of genealogy, core components and vocational applications into education is shown through her work with the Crookston Campus, Northwest Technical college, and through collegiate 4-H activities.

"Glenice saw the ultimate benefits to our graduates if our institutional purposes could be clearly implemented across the curriculum. She was one of the first faculty to integrate the core components and shared her examples of 'how to' in presentations to other faculty on how to implement the components. Her work in that area is still outstanding. She has involved her students in projects that assess their progress in achieving the core components," said Marsha Odom, chair of the arts and sciences division.

From a graduate of her program at UMC, "I always felt that Glenice was a very effective teacher. The major class projects were innovative and pertinent to current issues within the scope of the class.

Glenice Johnson, who has been appointed Minnesota Extension Educator for Pennington County, recently received an award from the University of Minnesota at Crookston. She received the Distinguished Teaching Award. She was an assistant professor of sociology at the school.

96th Pennington County Fair opens Tuesday

New carnival, professional bullride, Johnny Holm show, exhibits to be attractions

Another year older but always with something new, the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls will begin its 96th annual run when the Rogers Brothers Funland carnival opens at 5 p.m. Tuesday, July 15. Also featured that evening will be Gospel Music Night beginning at 6 p.m. at the bandshell.

"We're looking at Tuesday as sort of a preview night for the carnival," stated Floyd Erickson, past president of the county fair association who has been working on carnival and entertainment for this year's fair. "Tickets will be available for five dollars at the midway ticket office which will permit holders to unlimited rides from 5 p.m. until closing Tuesday."

Also available are a mega pass for $25 which permits unlimited rides Tuesday through Sunday, a full-day pass for $15 which covers any one day's afternoon and evening sessions, and a single session pass for $10 which will permit unlimited rides from noon to 6 p.m. or 6 p.m. to closing on any one day.

The extra session of rides on the mega pass is being offered by the fair board in response to a less than satisfactory carnival at the 1996 fair.

Mega passes and other carnival ride passes are available through Tuesday, July 15, in Thief River Falls at Arnold Avenue Store, Amoco 24, Erl's Market, Super Valu, Pennington Main, Seven-Eleven, Hugo's, Pennington Square and Petro Pumper and in St. Hilaire at Kruse In. One price armbands will be available at the midway July 15-20 at the regular price of $12 per session.

County fair attractions will continue through Sunday with the Johnny Holm Show in front of the grandstand at 7 p.m. Wednesday, July 16, area talent show at 7 p.m. and teen dance at 9 p.m. Thursday, July 17, Bullride 97 professional bullriding sessions at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, and the annual Jaycee Demolition Derby at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, July 20.

The Johnny Holm Band will perform at one 7 p.m. show Wednesday in front of the grandstand. Tickets will be $8 at the gate but may be purchased in advance for $6 at Kezar Music and Hugo's Supermarket. Errors regarding date and performance times for the Johnny Holm show were made on posters, in the county fair premium list and in some other fair advertising.

Entry day will be Thursday, July 17, beginning at 9 a.m. 4-H club conference judging will be held as exhibits are entered and entries will close at 3 p.m. The Times will take photos of 4-H Grand Champions beginning at 4 p.m. in the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. Photos of 4-H livestock, poultry, waterfowl and rabbit Grand Champions will be taken Friday beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the exhibit areas for those entries.

Entry day for open class exhibits will continue until 6 p.m. at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center and at the curling club building for flowers, crops and horticulture. All flowers must be entered by 5 p.m.

Free entertainment program at the bandshell begins at 2 p.m. Thursday, July 17, and will continue on an hourly schedule with the last show at 10 p.m. On Friday, Saturday and Sunday the entertainment program begins at noon. Performing this year are a magician, Matt Vorderbruggen band, J. Bobby Hamilton and country singer Key Lane (Friday through Sunday).

The Johnny Holm Band will provide entertainment at the grandstand Wednesday, July 16, at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls. There will be one show only, starting at 7 p.m. Early information in the fair premium list and on posters was incorrect. Holm has been dubbed the "Pied Piper of the Midwest" because of his ability to direct crowds into doing things they thought they would never do and enjoy. He conducts mass sing-alongs, dance lines and turns average citizens into stars for a night. His goal is to entertain, not to impress and to let his audience participate, not just watch. With his band backing him, Holm sings a variety of music adjusted for the crowd, ranging from rock and roll and his original songs to country rock and a show tune or two. He performs more than 40 college shows a year. Tickets are available in advance for $6 each at Kezar Music and Hugo's supermarket.

Polaris unveils Victory motorcycle

Roseau - Polaris Industries, Inc. provided a first look at its new Victory motorcycle recently.

The Victory is a made-in-the-USA heavy-weight cruiser which features a combination of looks, performance and sound. Looking like no other motorcycle on the market, the red and black Victory is designed with classic aviation, automotive and motorcycle styling.

Engines for the motorcycles will be built at the Polaris engine plant in Osceola, WI, and the motorcycle will be manufactured at the company's Spirit Lake, IA plant. Roseau Times -Region

Warroad youth competes in state competitions

Warroad - Donny DeMars of Warroad has already done something most high school students only dream about. The youth, who just completed the tenth grade, participated in three state competitions during the 96-97 school year.

In the fall, the cross-country team earned a trip to the state meet. The hockey team went to state where they placed second. With spring came the track season and another trip to a state meet.

This year wasn't his first experience at a state competition either. Warroads hockey team won the state championship in 1996. Donny scored the final goal of the Championship game making him the youngest player to ever score a goal in a State Hockey Champion-ship game. Warroad Pioneer

Water on the rise

Gonvick - Many of the same people who coped with flooding homes in Grand Forks are also putting up with flooding at Pine Lake.

Docks, water craft and a variety of other items have floated away from their original places. A lost and found list will be posted at Sportsmen Lodge.

Holding tanks and electrical outlets are the greatest problem facing the cabin owners, and common sense is urged in dealing with the situation. The McIntosh Times

Marshall County not approved for CPR haying

Grygla - After much confusion, it has been determined that Marshall County is not approved for haying on CRP acres. It is, however, approved for grazing.

In order to be approved for haying, the county would have to suffer a 40 percent or greater loss in normal hay and pasture production and 40 percent deviation in precipitation levels for the four most recent months, plus the days in the current month before the date of request.

Marshall County has not met the requirements, and therefore, haying is not allowed. The Grygla Eagle

Rhubarb Country Field Day held in Kennedy

Kennedy - "Rhubarb Country" Field Day was held recently at the Nathan Johnson farm, rural Kennedy. A newly formed association of rhubarb growers viewed the crop, discussed varieties and growing problems and enjoyed a picnic supper. Approximately 20,000 pounds of rhubarb will be harvested and processed this year. This crop will be used to test the harvesting and processing methods, and to develop the market. The Messenger

Top riders pay fees to enter Bullride '97

Some of the nation's top professional bullriders have paid their entry fees to enter Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, according to the entry list released late Thursday night.

Heading the list is Ronny Kitchens of Kemp, TX, who won the Professional Bull Riders Association national championship last October. Other top names include Gilbert Carrillo, Adam Carrillo and Scott Doyle of Stephenville, TX; Australians Troy Dunn of Watauga, TX and Owen Dunn of Mena, AR; and Casey Gates of Miller, SD.

Also scheduled to ride here are several previous participants in Thief River Falls bullrides. David Lance of Amarillo, TX, who had a round-leading 82-point ride on Friday night last year, rode three of four bulls over two nights and went down the road $2,756.25 richer, has paid his fees to ride Saturday night.

Donald Owens of Choctaw, OK, who rode two bulls on Friday night last year and Curt Lyons of Ardmore, OK, who rode both his bulls on Saturday night in 1996, are both on the list, as is Randy Thornton of Roanoke, TX, who also finished in the money last year.

Although the list released late Thursday already is the best in the relatively short history of the local Bullride series, entries have been extended by the PBR to fill available positions. Open entries are also being accepted by the Bullride '97 secretary.

Texas dominates the list with 22 entries, followed by eight from Oklahoma, six from South Dakota and others from North Carolina, Arkansas, Arizona, Australia, Wyoming, Washington, Montana, Florida, Mississippi, Kansas and Missouri.

With the overall winner expected to pocket nearly $10,000 in winnings this year, competition should be at a high level. Top quality bulls again are being provided by the David Bailey Rodeo Company of Tahlequah, OK.

Ray Wiley, who will be one of the bullfighters at Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair July 18 and 19, currently leads the Wrangler Bullfight Tour standings. In 25 rounds of competition he has scored 16 first, six second and three third place finishes.

Wrangler Bullfight Tour leader to fight bulls at Bullride '97

Put a man in an arena with an agitated, aggrovated and animated 2,000-pound bull and ask yourself which one might be expected to be in control of the situation. If you picked the bull, you wouldn't get to first base in the Wrangler Bullfight Tour.

"It's all about being in control of the bull," says Ray Wiley of Greenwood, LA, who will be one of two bullfighters protecting cowboys at Bullride '97 Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls.

Wiley ought to know. He has been such a consistent performer and is leading the Wrangler Bullfight Tour by such a wide margin that many believe he is a cinch to enter the national finals in first place.

Program nets training and plane for TRFTC

A new program announced last Friday by the Minnesota Job Skills Partnership will result in the aviation mechanics program of Northland Community and Technical College receiving upgrade training for its instructors and an additional large aircraft for student instruction.

The program was announced last Friday in Duluth and will include $400,000 in funding from the Job Skills Partnership and $1,275,000 from the private sector—principally Northwest Airlines, which stands to benefit the most from the program's results.

"What we will get out of the program," says Jeff Buzzell, director of aviation for NCTC, "is money for an additional instructor for 18 months and a DC 9-10 airplane from Northwest to use in our training courses. The plane is expected to be flown in here later this month.

"In addition," Buzzell said, "the students that are trained under the program will be given the first priority for job interviews with Northwest Airlines."

Buzzell said the allocation of funds for an additional instructor will permit other instructors on staff to be trained in Northwest Airlines facilities on the additional skills Northwest needs in its employees. The local instructors will then write the curriculum to be incorporated into the Thief River Falls program.

The DC 9-10 to be received by the local aviation program will be housed in the instructional hangar at the Thief River Falls regional airport, where it will join the Model 727 aircraft already there.

"Acquiring the DC 9-10 will enhance our instructional program," noted Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of NCTC and a strong promoter of the aviation mechanics course. "No other college in the nation can claim having two large transport aircraft and a state-of-the-art facility such as ours."

Jack Sundrud returns to Oklee from Nashville, TN

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

You can take Jack Sundrud out of the country, but you can't take the country out of Jack Sundrud.

Sundrud, home from Nashville, TN for his 30-year class reunion at Oklee School, proved the point on Sunday evening when he performed for approximately 260 old friends and neighbors at the Oklee School gymnasium.

One might think that someone who has rubbed shoulders with some pretty big dogs in Nashville would be a bit stuck on himself. Instead, Jack's boyish grin and warm hug were as genuine as they were before he went to live in "Music City, USA" 15 years ago.

Jack's musical career began while he was still in high school when he performed with four teenagers from Thief River Falls —Steve Lehr, Al Shirley, Marv Carlson and Larry Johnson — as Back Street Journal. They were a popular regional band who toured Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and much of Canada in an old converted school bus. They recorded one record, and "Ain't Too Proud to Beg" was chosen as Winnipeg radio station CKRC's pick-hit-of-the-week. With the war in Viet Nam in full swing, a couple of the band members were drafted, and that put an end to the musical careers of all but Jack.

Jack went on to perform with the popular Bemidji-based Podipto. From there, he went to Fargo where he worked with a number of musical groups including Old Socks, New Shoes and Johnnie Holms. He also did some solo work before going to Nashville in 1981.

Today, Jack writes songs and is

The purpose of the successful concert was to raise funds for new bleachers for the gymnasium at Oklee School.

Glenice Johnson, former assistant professor of sociology at the University of Minnesota Crookston (UMC) received the Distinguished Teaching Award at the recently Faculty and Staff Recognition Banquet. As of July 1, Johnson was appointed Pennington County extension educator specializing in community resources for the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

Johnson joined the UMC faculty in 1976 as an instructor in the home and family services division. In 1982 she was promoted to assistant professor in the arts and sciences division. She was responsible for classroom instruction in sociology, family relationships and social gerontology plus floral design/flower shop management courses for the horticulture department.

She has taught Elderhostel sessions, provided in-service training, guest lectures and workshop sessions for area agencies and groups, served on various University committees, was faculty advisor to the Collegiate 4-H club and Multicultural club. She has developed curricular and programmatic changes and advised approximately 20 students annually.

In 1997 she was the campus nominee for the national "Service Learning Award" for incorporating community service into classroom projects and requirements.

Johnson has a bachelor of science in home economics education from the University of Minnesota, master of education in human development education from the University of Maryland, and master of arts in gerontology from the University of Northern Colorado.

Northwest District Extension Service Director Deborah Zak said, "Glenice is an excellent educator who uses a variety of teaching methods to hold the attention of adult learners."

Several of her colleagues indicated that she contributes to education leadership. Her leadership in the integration of genealogy, core components and vocational applications into education is shown through her work with the Crookston Campus, Northwest Technical college, and through collegiate 4-H activities.

"Glenice saw the ultimate benefits to our graduates if our institutional purposes could be clearly implemented across the curriculum. She was one of the first faculty to integrate the core components and shared her examples of 'how to' in presentations to other faculty on how to implement the components. Her work in that area is still outstanding. She has involved her students in projects that assess their progress in achieving the core components," said Marsha Odom, chair of the arts and sciences division.

From a graduate of her program at UMC, "I always felt that Glenice was a very effective teacher. The major class projects were innovative and pertinent to current issues within the scope of the class."

Glenice Johnson, who has been appointed Minnesota Extension Educator for Pennington County, recently received an award from the University of Minnesota at Crookston. She received the Distinguished Teaching Award. She was an assistant professor of sociology at the school.

96th Pennington County Fair opens Tuesday

New carnival, professional bullride, Johnny Holm show, exhibits to be attractions

Another year older but always with something new, the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls will begin its 96th annual run when the Rogers Brothers Funland carnival opens at 5 p.m. Tuesday, July 15. Also featured that evening will be Gospel Music Night beginning at 6 p.m. at the bandshell.

"We're looking at Tuesday as sort of a preview night for the carnival," stated Floyd Erickson, past president of the county fair association who has been working on carnival and entertainment for this year's fair. "Tickets will be available for five dollars at the midway ticket office which will permit holders to unlimited rides from 5 p.m. until closing Tuesday."

Also available are a mega pass for $25 which permits unlimited rides Tuesday through Sunday, a full-day pass for $15 which covers any one day's afternoon and evening sessions, and a single session pass for $10 which will permit unlimited rides from noon to 6 p.m. or 6 p.m. to closing on any one day.

The extra session of rides on the mega pass is being offered by the fair board in response to a less than satisfactory carnival at the 1996 fair.

Mega passes and other carnival ride passes are available through Tuesday, July 15, in Thief River Falls at Arnold Avenue Store, Amoco 24, Erl's Market, SuperValu, Pennington Main, Seven-Eleven, Hugo's, Pennington Square and Petro Pumper and in St. Hilaire at Kruse In. One price armbands will be available at the midway July 15-20 at the regular price of $12 per session.

County fair attractions will continue through Sunday with the Johnny Holm Show in front of the grandstand at 7 p.m. Wednesday, July 16; area talent show at 7 p.m. and teen dance at 9 p.m. Thursday, July 17; Bullride '97 professional bullriding sessions at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19; and the annual Jaycee Demolition Derby at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, July 20.

The Johnny Holm Band will perform at one 7 p.m. show Wednesday in front of the grandstand. Tickets will be $8 at the gate but may be purchased in advance for $6 at Kezar Music and Hugo's Supermarket. Errors regarding date and performance times for the Johnny Holm show were made on posters, in the county fair premium list and in some other fair advertising.

Entry day will be Thursday, July 17, beginning at 9 a.m. 4-H club conference judging will be held as exhibits are entered and entries will close at 3 p.m. The Times will take photos of 4-H Grand Champions beginning at 4 p.m. in the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. Photos of 4-H livestock, poultry, waterfowl and rabbit Grand Champions will be taken Friday beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the exhibit areas for those entries.

Entry day for open class exhibits will continue until 6 p.m. at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center and at the curling club building for flowers, crops and horticulture. All flowers must be entered by 5 p.m.

Free entertainment program at the bandshell begins at 2 p.m. Thursday, July 17, and will continue on an hourly schedule with the last show at 10 p.m. On Friday, Saturday and Sunday the entertainment program begins at noon. Performing this year are a magician, Matt Vorderbruggen band, J. Bobby Hamilton and country singer Key Lane (Friday through Sunday).

The Johnny Holm Band will provide entertainment at the grandstand Wednesday, July 16, at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls. There will be one show only, starting at 7 p.m. Early information in the fair premium list and on posters was incorrect. Holm has been dubbed the "Pied Piper of the Midwest" because of his ability to direct crowds into doing things they thought they would never do and enjoy. He conducts mass sing-alongs, dance lines and turns average citizens into stars for a night. His goal is to entertain, not to impress and to let his audience participate, not just watch. With his band backing him, Holm sings a variety of music adjusted for the crowd, ranging from rock and roll and his original songs to country rock and a show tune or two. He performs more than 40 college shows a year. Tickets are available in advance for $6 each at Kezar Music and Hugo's supermarket.

Roseau - Polaris Industries, Inc. provided a first look at its new Victory motorcycle recently.

The Victory is a made-in-the-USA heavy-weight cruiser which features a combination of looks, performance and sound. Looking like no other motorcycle on the market, the red and black Victory is designed with classic aviation, automotive and motorcycle styling.

Engines for the motorcycles will be built at the Polaris engine plant in Osceola, WI, and the motorcycle will be manufactured at the company's Spirit Lake, IA plant. Roseau Times -Region

Warroad youth competes in state competitions

Warroad - Donny DeMars of Warroad has already done something most high school students only dream about. The youth, who just completed the tenth grade, participated in three state competitions during the 96-97 school year.

In the fall, the cross-country team earned a trip to the state meet. The hockey team went to state where they placed second. With spring, came the track season and another trip to a state meet.

This year wasn't his first experience at a state competition either. Warroads hockey team won the state championship in 1996. Donny scored the final goal of the Championship game making him the youngest player to ever score a goal in a State Hockey Champion-ship game. Warroad Pioneer

Gonvick - Many of the same people who coped with flooding homes in Grand Forks are also putting up with flooding at Pine Lake.

Docks, water craft and a variety of other items have floated away from their original places. A lost and found list will be posted at Sportsmen Lodge.

Holding tanks and electrical outlets are the greatest problem facing the cabin owners, and common sense is urged in dealing with the situation. The McIntosh Times

Marshall County not approved for CRP haying

Grygla - After much confusion, it has been determined that Marshall County is not approved for haying on CRP acres. It is, however, approved for grazing.

In order to be approved for haying, the county would have to suffer a 40 percent or greater loss in normal hay and pasture production and 40 percent deviation in precipitation levels for the four most recent months, plus the days in the current month before the date of request.

Marshall County has not met the requirements, and therefore, haying is not allowed. The Grygla Eagle

Top riders pay fees to enter Bullride '97

Some of the nation's top professional bullriders have paid their entry fees to enter Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, according to the entry list released late Thursday night.

Heading the list is Ronny Kitchens of Kemp, TX, who won the Professional Bull Riders Association national championship last October. Other top names include Gilbert Carrillo, Adam Carrillo and Scott Doyle of Stephenville, TX; Australians Troy Dunn of Watauga, TX and Owen Dunn of Mena, AR; and Casey Gates of Miller, SD.

Also scheduled to ride here are several previous participants in Thief River Falls bullrides. David Lance of Amarillo, TX, who had a round-leading 82-point ride on Friday night last year, rode three of four bulls over two nights and went down the road $2,756.25 richer, has paid his fees to ride Saturday night.

Donald Owens of Choctaw, OK, who rode two bulls on Friday night last year and Curt Lyons of Ardmore, OK, who rode both his bulls on Saturday night in 1996, are both on the list, as is Randy Thornton of Roanoke, TX, who also finished in the money last year.

Although the list released late Thursday already is the best in the relatively short history of the local bullride series, entries have been extended by the PBR to fill available positions. Open entries are also being accepted by the Bullride '97 secretary.

Texas dominates the list with 22 entries, followed by eight from Oklahoma, six from South Dakota and others from North Carolina, Arkansas, Arizona, Australia, Wyoming, Washington, Montana, Florida, Mississippi, Kansas and Missouri.

With the overall winner expected to pocket nearly $10,000 in winnings this year, competition should be at a high level. Top quality bulls again are being provided by the David Bailey Rodeo Company of Tahlequah, OK.

Ray Wiley, who will be one of the bullfighters at Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair July 18 and 19, currently leads the Wrangler Bullfight Tour standings. In 25 rounds of competition he has scored 16 first, six second and three third place finishes.

Put a man in an arena with an agitated, aggravated and animated 2,000-pound bull and ask yourself which one might be expected to be in control of the situation. If you picked the bull, you wouldn't get to first base in the Wrangler Bullfight Tour.

"It's all about being in control of the bull," says Ray Wiley of Greenwood, LA, who will be one of two bullfighters protecting cowboys at Bullride '97 Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls.

Wiley ought to know. He has been such a consistent performer and is leading the Wrangler Bullfight Tour by such a wide margin that many believe he is a cinch to enter the national finals in first place.

Program nets training and plane for TRFTC

A new program announced last Friday by the Minnesota Job Skills Partnership will result in the aviation mechanics program of Northland Community and Technical College receiving upgrade training for its instructors and an additional large aircraft for student instruction.

The program was announced last Friday in Duluth and will include $400,000 in funding from the Job Skills Partnership and $1,275,000 from the private sector—principally Northwest Airlines, which stands to benefit the most from the program's results.

"What we will get out of the program," says Jeff Buzzell, director of aviation for NCTC, "is money for an additional instructor for 18 months and a DC 9-10 airplane from Northwest to use in our training courses. The plane is expected to be flown in here later this month."

"In addition," Buzzell said, "the students that are trained under the program will be given the first priority for job interviews with Northwest Airlines."

Buzzell said the allocation of funds for an additional instructor will permit other instructors on staff to be trained in Northwest Airlines facilities on the additional skills Northwest needs in its employees. The local instructors will then write the curriculum to be incorporated into the Thief River Falls program.

The DC 9-10 to be received by the local aviation program will be housed in the instructional hangar at the Thief River Falls regional airport, where it will join the Model 727 aircraft already there.

"Acquiring the DC 9-10 will enhance our instructional program," noted Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of NCTC and a strong promoter of the aviation mechanics course. "No other college in the nation can claim having two large transport aircraft and a state-of-the-art facility such as ours."

Jack Sundrud returns to Oklee from Nashville, TN

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

You can take Jack Sundrud out of the country, but you can't take the country out of Jack Sundrud.

Sundrud, home from Nashville, TN for his 30-year class reunion at Oklee School, proved the point on Sunday evening when he performed for approximately 260 old friends and neighbors at the Oklee School gymnasium.

One might think that someone who has rubbed shoulders with some pretty big dogs in Nashville would be a bit stuck on himself. Instead, Jack's boyish grin and warm hug were as genuine as they were before he went to live in "Music City, USA" 15 years ago.

Jack's musical career began while he was still in high school when he performed with four teenagers from Thief River Falls—Steve Lehr, Al Shirley, Marv Carlson and Larry Johnson — as Back Street Journal. They were a popular regional band who toured Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and much of Canada in an old converted school bus. They recorded one record, and "Ain't Too Proud to Beg" was chosen as Winnipeg radio station CKRC's pick-hit-of-the-week. With the war in Viet Nam in full swing, a couple of the band members were drafted, and that put an end to the musical careers of all but Jack.

Jack went on to perform with the popular Bemidji-based Podipto. From there, he went to Fargo where he worked with a number of musical groups including Old Socks, New Shoes and Johnnie Holm. He also did some solo work before going to Nashville in 1981.

Today, Jack writes songs and is

In Oklee for his 30th high school class reunion, Jack Sundrud performed at a benefit concert on Sunday, July 6 at the Oklee School gymnasium. A veteran musician, Jack has lived and worked as a performer and songwriter in Nashville, TN since 1981. The purpose of the successful concert was to raise funds for new bleachers for the gymnasium at Oklee School.

Valley Housekeeping celebrates 20 years

Julie Smuda, director of Valley Housekeeping, a program of the Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, Inc., says the program now has more than 80 housekeepers and over 400 clients in Pennington, Polk and Norman counties. Valley Housekeeping recently celebrated 20 years of service to seniors in the three counties.

Valley Housekeeping, a program of the Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, Inc., celebrated 20 years of providing service in northwestern Minnesota with a staff recognition June 25 at the Mt. St. Benedict meeting center in Crookston.

From household chores to errands like buying groceries and even baking, Valley Housekeeping has helped hundreds of clients in the three-county area of Polk, Pennington and Norman counties to remain independent in their own homes.

"We now have more than 80 housekeepers assisting more than 400 seniors," states Julie Smude, director of the program. "And we are expecting further program growth as the nation looks at the needs of the elderly and ways for older Americans to maintain their dignity and independence."

Valley Housekeeping originally began in 1976 as a chore service sponsored with a grant from the Region I Area Agency on Aging.

"We started out as Valley Chore Service in Crookston and Beltrami," Smude said. "Our goal was to give people who were elderly or who were physically or emotionally challenged a chance to maintain their independence by giving them a hand with household chores.

"The help we provide gives elderly homeowners the assistance they need to maintain their investment, improve their living environment and break the barrier of isolation too many elderly Minnesotans face daily. So many of our clients are homebound. Valley Housekeepers really brighten their day and help them manage their homes without taking away their independence."

While Valley Housekeeping is a huge undertaking, Smude says, it runs smoothly thanks to the coordination of program assistants Richard Moronez-Jensen and Brenda Bozyk and area coordinator Judy Johnson in Thief River Falls, Mary Scott in eastern Polk county and Ruth Hoffman in Ada.

"Our program assistants work with clients and staff and maintain day to day operations," she said. "The area coordinators make home visits and assure that the needs of seniors are being met."

Smude said that services are administered by the Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, along with a grant from the Northwest Minnesota Area Agency on Aging, county support and donations from clients themselves.

"Our referrals often come from families, from other programs within the Tri-Valley agency and from county social service offices," the director added. "Although no one is charged for services, and no one is turned away, many seniors donate toward the cost of housekeeping and donations have really made program growth possible."

Dick Wittenberg appointed Captain at TRF Highway Patrol Headquarters

Capt. Dick Wittenberg has been appointed to take over the responsibilities of Captain at the Highway Patrol headquarters in Thief River Falls. Capt. Wittenberg replaces Capt. Stack who was recently transferred to headquarters in Arden Hills.

Capt. Wittenberg has been stationed in Thief River Falls for the past three years. His last assignment prior to the Thief River Falls station was in Arden Hills.

Thirty-six-year-old Capt. Wittenberg is originally from Gunvick. Wittenberg noted that there has been a lot of transition at the Thief River Falls station in the past few years. Wittenberg said since he is originally from this area he knows what to expect in terms of weather and distances and is comfortable with the assignment. Wittenberg said the station has been short staffed the last few years, but he hopes to promote some of the officers at the station to Lieutenant in the near future and solve the staffing problems.

Wittenberg has been with the Minnesota State Patrol since 1984.

The extra session of rides on the mega pass is being offered by the fair board in response to a less than satisfactory carnival at the 1996 fair.

Mega passes and other carnival ride passes are available through Tuesday, July 15, in Thief River Falls at Arnold Avenue Store, Amoco 24, Erl's Market, SuperValu, Pennington Main, Seven-Eleven, Hugo's, Pennington Square and Petro Pumper and in St. Hilaire at Kruse In. One price armbands will be available at the midway July 15-20 at the regular price of $12 per session.

County fair attractions will continue through Sunday with the Johnny Holm Show in front of the grandstand at 7 p.m. Wednesday, July 16, area talent show at 7 p.m. and teen dance at 9 p.m. Thursday, July 17, Bullride 97 professional bullriding sessions at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, and the annual Jaycee Demolition Derby at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, July 20.

The Johnny Holm Band will provide entertainment at the grandstand Wednesday, July 16, at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls. There will be one show only, starting at 7 p.m. Early information in the fair premium list and on posters was incorrect. Holm has been dubbed the "Pied Piper of the Midwest" because of his ability to direct crowds into doing things they thought they would never do and enjoy. He conducts mass sing-alongs, dance lines and turns average citizens into stars for a night. His goal is to entertain, not to impress and to let his audience participate, not just watch. With his band backing him, Holm sings a variety of music adjusted for the crowd, ranging from rock and roll and his original songs to country rock and a show tune or two. He performs more than 40 college shows a year. Tickets are available in advance for $6 each at Kezar Music and Hugo's supermarket.

Roseau - Polaris Industries, Inc. provided a first look at its new Victory motorcycle recently.

The Victory is a made-in-the-USA heavy-weight cruiser which features a combination of looks, performance and sound. Looking like no other motorcycle on the market, the red and black Victory is designed with classic aviation, automotive and motorcycle styling.

Engines for the motorcycles will be built at the Polaris engine plant in Osceola, WI, and the motorcycle will be manufactured at the company's Spirit Lake, IA plant. Roseau Times -Region

Warroad youth competes in state competitions

Warroad - Donny DeMars of Warroad has already done something most high school students only dream about. The youth, who just completed the tenth grade, participated in three state competitions during the 96-97 school year.

In the fall, the cross-country team earned a trip to the state meet. The hockey team went to state where they placed second. With spring came the track season and another trip to a state meet.

This year wasn't his first experience at a state competition either. Warroads hockey team won the state championship in 1996. Donny scored the final goal of the Championship game making him the youngest player to ever score a goal in a State Hockey Champion-ship game. Warroad Pioneer

Gonvick - Many of the same people who coped with flooding homes in Grand Forks are also putting up with flooding at Pine Lake.

Docks, water craft and a variety of other items have floated away from their original places. A lost and found list will be posted at Sportsmen Lodge.

Holding tanks and electrical outlets are the greatest problem facing the cabin owners, and common sense is urged in dealing with the situation. The McIntosh Times

Marshall County not approved for CPR haying

Grygla - After much confusion, it has been determined that Marshall County is not approved for haying on CRP acres. It is, however, approved for grazing.

In order to be approved for haying, the county would have to suffer a 40 percent or greater loss in normal hay and pasture production and 40 percent deviation in precipitation levels for the four most recent months, plus the days in the current month before the date of request.

Marshall County has not met the requirements, and therefore, haying is not allowed. The Grygla Eagle

Rhubarb Country Field Day held in Kennedy

Kennedy - "Rhubarb Country" Field Day was held recently at the Nathan Johnson farm, rural Kennedy. A newly formed association of rhubarb growers viewed the crop, discussed varieties and growing problems and enjoyed a picnic supper. Approximately 20,000 pounds of rhubarb will be harvested and processed this year. This crop will be used to test the harvesting and processing methods, and to develop the market. The Messenger

Top riders pay fees to enter Bullride '97

Some of the nation's top professional bullriders have paid their entry fees to enter Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, according to the entry list released late Thursday night.

Heading the list is Ronny Kitchens of Kemp, TX, who won the Professional Bull Riders Association national championship last October. Other top names include Gilbert Carrillo, Adam Carrillo and Scott Doyle of Stephenville, TX; Australians Troy Dunn of Watauga, TX and Owen Dunn of Mena, AR; and Casey Gates of Miller, SD.

Also scheduled to ride here are several previous participants in Thief River Falls bullrides. David Lance of Amarillo, TX, who had a round-leading 82-point ride on Friday night last year, rode three of four bulls over two nights and went down the road $2,756.25 richer, has paid his fees to ride Saturday night.

Donald Owens of Choctaw, OK, who rode two bulls on Friday night last year and Curt Lyons of Ardmore, OK, who rode both his bulls on Saturday night in 1996, are both on the list, as is Randy Thornton of Roanoke, TX, who also finished in the money last year.

Although the list released late Thursday already is the best in the relatively short history of the local Bullride series, entries have been extended by the PBR to fill available positions. Open entries are also being accepted by the Bullride '97 secretary.

Texas dominates the list with 22 entries, followed by eight from Oklahoma, six from South Dakota and others from North Carolina, Arkansas, Arizona, Australia, Wyoming, Washington, Montana, Florida, Mississippi, Kansas and Missouri.

With the overall winner expected to pocket nearly $10,000 in winnings this year, competition should be at a high level. Top quality bulls again are being provided by the David Bailey Rodeo Company of Tahlequah, OK.

Ray Wiley, who will be one of the bullfighters at Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair July 18 and 19, currently leads the Wrangler Bullfight Tour standings. In 25 rounds of competition he has scored 16 first, six second and three third place finishes.

Wrangler Bullfight Tour leader to fight bulls at Bullride '97

Put a man in an arena with an agitated, aggravated and animated 2,000-pound bull and ask yourself which one might be expected to be in control of the situation. If you picked the bull, you wouldn't get to first base in the Wrangler Bullfight Tour.

"It's all about being in control of the bull," says Ray Wiley of Greenwood, LA, who will be one of two bullfighters protecting cowboys at Bullride '97 Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls.

Wiley ought to know. He has been such a consistent performer and is leading the Wrangler Bullfight Tour by such a wide margin that many believe he is a cinch to enter the national finals in first place.

Program nets training and plane for TRFTC

A new program announced last Friday by the Minnesota Job Skills Partnership will result in the aviation mechanics program of Northland Community and Technical College receiving upgrade training for its instructors and an additional large aircraft for student instruction.

The program was announced last Friday in Duluth and will include $400,000 in funding from the Job Skills Partnership and $1,275,000 from the private sector—principally Northwest Airlines, which stands to benefit the most from the program's results.

"What we will get out of the program," says Jeff Buzzell, director of aviation for NCTC, "is money for an additional instructor for 18 months and a DC 9-10 airplane from Northwest to use in our training courses. The plane is expected to be flown in here later this month.

"In addition," Buzzell said, "the students that are trained under the program will be given the first priority for job interviews with Northwest Airlines."

Buzzell said the allocation of funds for an additional instructor will permit other instructors on staff to be trained in Northwest Airlines facilities on the additional skills Northwest needs in its employees. The local instructors will then write the curriculum to be incorporated into the Thief River Falls program.

The DC 9-10 to be received by the local aviation program will be housed in the instructional hangar at the Thief River Falls regional airport, where it will join the Model 727 aircraft already there.

"Acquiring the DC 9-10 will enhance our instructional program," noted Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of NCTC and a strong promoter of the aviation mechanics course. "No other college in the nation can claim having two large transport aircraft and a state-of-the-art facility such as ours."

Jack Sundrud returns to Oklee from Nashville, TN

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

You can take Jack Sundrud out of the country, but you can't take the country out of Jack Sundrud.

Sundrud, home from Nashville, TN for his 30-year class reunion at Oklee School, proved the point on Sunday evening when he performed for approximately 260 old friends and neighbors at the Oklee School gymnasium.

One might think that someone who has rubbed shoulders with some pretty big dogs in Nashville would be a bit stuck on himself. Instead, Jack's boyish grin and warm hug were as genuine as they were before he went to live in "Music City, USA" 15 years ago.

Jack's musical career began while he was still in high school when he performed with four teenagers from Thief River Falls — Steve Lehr, Al Shirley, Marv Carlson and Larry Johnson — as Back Street Journal. They were a popular regional band who toured Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and much of Canada in an old converted school bus. They recorded one record, and "Ain't Too Proud to Beg" was chosen as Winnipeg radio station CKRC's pick-hit-of-the-week. With the war in Viet Nam in full swing, a couple of the band members were drafted, and that put an end to the musical careers of all but Jack.

Jack went on to perform with the popular Bemidji-based Podipto. From there, he went to Fargo where he worked with a number of musical groups including Old Socks, New Shoes and Johnnie Holms. He also did some solo work before going to Nashville in 1981.

Today, Jack writes songs and is

In Oklee for his 30th high school class reunion, Jack Sundrud performed at a benefit concert on Sunday, July 6 at the Oklee School gymnasium. A veteran musician, Jack has lived and worked as a performer and songwriter in Nashville, TN since 1981. The purpose of the successful concert was to raise funds for new bleachers for the gymnasium at Oklee School.

fighters compete each performance They draw for the bulls they will fight about 90 minutes before the performance. The bulls can be bucking bulls, Mexican fighting bulls or crossbreds Judges score the matches and award a combined score with a maximum of 25 points each for the bull and the bullfighter.

Each bullfighter can compete in a maximum of 30 rounds for the season leading up to the national finals and each round pays $918 for first place, $578 for second and $204 for third.

In his first 25 rounds, Wiley has a record of 16 first, six second and three third place finishes He will complete his 30 qualifying fights with three rounds at Jonesboro, AR and two at Billings, MT.

The 33-year-old Wiley started bullfighting 14 years ago but was away from the business from 1985 until 1990 In his first year back he was selected as the bullfighter for the Louisiana Redeo Association Finals in Shreveport.

In May of 1991 he went to work for the Barnes Rodeo Company and worked hundreds of performances, including selection to work the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) Great Lake Circuit Finals in Louisville, KY, in 1991 and 1992.

Since bullfighting is Wiley's way of making a living for himself, his wife Raye Lynn, daughter Carrie and son Seth, he takes his job seriously. The bullfight tour helps support the family budget, and there is more money to be made in that type of competition, but Wiley still insists that "protecting cowboys is the thing." Sometimes that means having to be exposed to the bull to protect the cowboy. The cowboy's welfare always comes first.

"I think I'm better prepared this year," he said about the reasons for his 1997 success. I found I needed to wear glasses when fighting bulls. With better vision and more and more experience I can read them better than I did before and my timing is better.

"I always work facing the bulls and try to stay squared up with them. I want to work 'em from side to side and keep 'em bent. I'll jump over a bull if the opportunity is right, but Wrangler bullfights are not bull-jumping contests. The judges want to see you in control."

Wiley is hoping he gets the chance to exhibit that control at the national finals in December in Las Vegas, NV. The top six bullfighters in terms of total money won during the year will each make four appearances in the national competition.

This will be the first time Wiley has worked with Eric Olson, the other bullfighter for Bullride '97, but they are not strangers. They met at the national finals last year and established a friendship.

"It should be a good time in Thief River Falls," Wiley tald the Northern Watch in a telephone interview from Arkansas. "I've been in Minnesota quite a bit and I'm looking forward to being there."

You can bet that quite a few bullriders will be be happy to have him here, too.

the lead singer, acoustic guitarist and primary songwriter for Great Plains. Entering the country music scene in 1991 with their self-titled album and hit single, "Faster Gun," the band received a nomination for "Top New Vocal Group" from the Academy of Country Music. Since, the group has toured the United States and Europe and has recorded two albums. Presently, the band is concentrating on recording rather than touring.

Described as a prolific writer, Jack decribes his influences in songwriting as a "mixed bag." While much of today's country music is inspired by life in the south, Jack's influences have come from his vast musical background and life experiences. Jack's songs have been recorded by 4Runner, The Judds, Helen Darling and others. "Cain's Blood," recorded by 4Runner, reached number 25 on the charts and was nominated for "Gospel Song of the Year" by the Christian Country Music Association. In addition to writing his own songs, Jack also collaborotes with other songwriters.

Jack is the son of Omar and Irma Sundrud. Omar was the editor of The Oklee Herald from 1947 to 1971. The elder Sundruds now make their home in Bemidji

Aware that Jack planned to return to Oklee for the reunion of the class of 1967, a committee member contacted him and asked if he would consider a benefit concert to raise funds for new bleachers for the Oklee School gymnasium. He graciously accepted.

Appearing first at the benefit concert was John Kimble who lives in the Oklee area and works on a farm during the summer months. He spends the winter roonths . In Maryland where he devotes his time to songwriting and recording. John entertained the audience with original songs as well as renditions of other popular country tunes, accompanying himself on the guitar, harmonica and piano.

The feature performance by Jack Sundrud was a combinstion of songs he'd written himself and with others, interspersed with reminiscence about his childhood In Oklee and earlier days in the music business.

The crowd laughed as Jack commented about how his dad's hair Is now longer than his own. They applauded as Jack Introduced two old friends from the Back Street Journol, Steve Lehr and Marv Carlson, who had traveled, along with other friends from Thief River Falls, for the concert. They wiped tears from the comers of their eyes as Jack attempted to close the program with "Little Town In My Mind," a song he wrote about Oklee.

Jack expertly accompanied himself on the acoustic guitar, and his clear, strong voice sang honest, passionate songs telling of who he is and where he's been. In a word, he was real.

Typical of all small town gathering, lunch was served after the concert. Jack generously shared his time with members of the press, friends, autograph seekers and anyone else who wanted a moment or two of his time.

The friends who had known him a long time didn't see a lot of changes in the gentle, soft-spoken Jack Sundrud. If anything, they were surprised by his stage presence. The fact that he hadn't been altered by the world of entertainment pleased them. Obviously, the little town in his mind still influences Jack Sundrud of Nashville, Tennessee.

Class of 1922 represented at Crookston All-City School Reunion

Crookston - In 1922, the Great Wars was over, Warren Harding was President, the Lincoln Meroonal was dedicated and women called "Flappers" were making daring debuts in the "Jazz Age." In Crookston, 58 graduates recieved diplomas from Crookston High School.

One of the members of that class, 93-year-old Edna Kuhn Baatz, will attend Crookstoo's All-City School Reunion this weekend.

Edna received her elementary education in country schools near her home oo a farm near Euclid. When it came time for high school, she had to move to Crookston where she stayed with families and worked for room and board. Every three weeks, her father would come and get her with a horse and sleigh, or she oould ride the traio home for a weekend visit.

Central Boiler cleared of child labor violations

Greenbush - The $12,500 pen-alty against Central Boiler, Inc., issued by the U.S. Department of Labor last September for child labor violations, has been withdrawn.

Allegedly, Central Boiler allowed five 15 to 17-year-old employees to operate fork lifts and other power tools prohibited for use by minors.

Officials at Central Boiler maintain that the minors were enrolled in a student-learner program, and that allowed them to use some of the equipment. However, labor officials say the program did not qualifity for child labor exemptions. Still, the penalty was withdrawn after further investigation found oo violations.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Here's a cool, crunch summer salad that makes a full meal:

SPINACH CHICKEN SALAD

5 cups cubed cooked chicken
2 cups green grape halves
1 cup snow peas
2 cups packed torn spinach
2 1/2 cups sliced celery
7 ounces corkscrew pasta, cooked and drained
1 (6 ounce) jar marinated artichoke hearts, drained and quartered
1/2 large cucumber, sliced
3 green onions with tops, sliced

Dressing

1/2 cup vegetable oil
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons white wine vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dried minced onion
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons minced fresh parsley

In large-bowl, combine chicken, grapes, peas, spinach, celery, pasta, artichoke hearts, cucumber and green onions. Cover and refrigerate.

Combine all dressing ingredients in jar or small bowl. Mix well and refrigerate.

Just before serving, pour dressing over salad and toss.

Serve these tasty things with a nice little salad and you have a meal - just be sure to make plenty:

BARBECUED MUFFINS

1 tube (10 ounce) refrigerated buttermilk biscuits
1 pound hamburger
1/2 cup ketchup
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon cider vinegar
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded cheddar cheese

Separate dough into 10 biscuits. Flatten into 5 inch circles and press each into bottom and up sides of greased muffin cups. Set aside.

In skillet, brown hamburger and drain.

In small bowl mix ketchup, brown sugar, vinegar and chili powder, stirring smooth. Add to meat and mix well.

Divide meat mixture in muffin cups, using about 1/4 cup for each "muffin." Sprinkle with cheese.

Bake at 375 degrees for 18-20 minutes or until golden. Cool for 5 minutes before removing from tin and serving.

BAKED SPAGHETTI

1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon margarine or butter
1 (28 ounce) can tomatoes with liquid, cut up
1 (4 ounce) can mushrooms, drained
1 (2 1/4 ounce) can sliced ripe olives, drained
2 teaspoons dried oregano
1 pound hamburger, browned and drained
12 ounces spaghetti, cooked and drained
2 cups (8 ounces) shredded cheddar
1 (10 3/4 ounce) can cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

In large skillet, saute onion and green pepper in butter until tender. Add tomatoes, mushrooms, olives and oregano. Add hamburger and simmer, uncovered, for 10 minutes.

Place half of the spaghetti in greased 9x13 inch baking dish. Top with half of the meat mixture, then sprinkle with 1 cup of cheddar cheese. Repeat layers.

Mix soup and water until smooth and pour over top. Sprinkle with Parmesan.

Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes until heated through.

Serve something light and refreshing with any of the above recipes - here's an idea - but experiment and exchange some of the canned fruits for fresh now when the fresh are available:

FLUFFY FRUIT SALAD

2 (20 ounce) cans crushed pineapple
2/3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 eggs, lightly beaten
1/4 cup orange juice
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
2 (17 ounce) cans fruit cocktail, drained
2 (11 ounce) cans mandarin oranges, drained
2 bananas, sliced
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Drain pineapple, reserving 1 cup juice in small saucepan. Set pineapple aside.

To juice in saucepan, add sugar, flour, eggs, orange and lemon juice and oil. Bring to a boil and boil for 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and cool.

In salad bowl, combine pineapple, fruit cocktail, oranges and bananas. Fold in whipped cream and the cooled sauce. Chill for several hours and be sure to refrigerate leftovers.

Blues match earlier sweep against TRF

Following a similar pattern from a June 17 match-up at Irv Wilson Field, Moorhead swept Thief River Falls 10-0, 3-2 in an American Legion baseball doubleheader at Matson Field Tuesday.

The previous meeting also featured a first-game blow out and a much closer second game in a 12-0, 4-1 Moorhead sweep.

The two wins elevated the Blues to 17-9 for the year, while the two losses dropped Post 117 to 3-17.

Moorhead scored six runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to finish off a 10-run rule game in the opener. Blues pitcher Tony Laduke limited Thief River Falls to three hits.

Thief River Falls pitcher Charlie Carlson gave up just four hits in Game 2, but two of them were home runs by Cory Tow and Ben Worth.

Post 117 will be playing at East Grand Forks Tuesday and at Blackduck Wednesday before facing East Grand Forks again Friday (July 18) in a weather-forced make-up meeting. With the Pennington County Fair bumping Post 117 from Irv Wilson Field at the fairgrounds, the second Thief River Falls-East Grand Forks doubleheader encounter of the week will take place at the Northland Community and Technical College diamond beginning at 3 p.m.

Sportsman Club meets

Fourtown/Grygla Sportsman Club monthly meeting will be held Tuesday, July 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the Thief River Falls American Legion.

Roseau pitcher Josh Stromlund threw a two-hit shutout Thursday in the Royels' one-sided 20-0 amateur baseball win over Thief River Falls at Irv Wilson Field. He struck out 11 and walked two as the Royels beat the Thieves for the third straight time.

Royals shut out Thieves 20-0...

Roseau handles TRF

The scoreboard at Irv Wilson Field will only go to 19 before reverting back to zero. It simply wasn't programed to handle an offensive show like Roseau put together Thursday in a 20-0 rout of Thief River Falls in amateur baseball. The scheduled nine-inning game ended in the seventh on the 10-run rule.

It was the third straight Roseau victory over Thief River Falls this summer, but unlike the Royals' earlier 5-4 and 7-4 wins, this one wasn't close.

Eight of the nine Roseau starters had at least one hit, led by catcher Robert Mosher, who was 4-for-4 with a double and a home run. First baseman Mike Benke and left fielder Brad Zoeller – the No. 9 hitter – were both 3-for-5. Center fielder Aaron Larson drive in five runs, joining Mosher and Benke in the home run parade.

Due to small numbers and the fact the Thieves had played the night before, Thief River Falls right-hander Eric Bjorgaard had to endure the entire Roseau assault.

Meanwhile, Roseau pitcher Josh Stromlund cruised. He gave up just two singles – one of them an infield hopper – while striking out 11 and walking two.

Bjorgaard gave up hits, but kept Roseau off the scoreboard through the first three innings, but was tagged with a six-hit, seven-run fourth that also included a hit-batsman and three errors. First runs of the night came home on a two-run single to right by former Thief River Falls head high school baseball coach Tracey Wensloff, the Royals' player/manager.

The fifth inning wasn't any easier for Bjorgaard, who gave up five more runs on five more hits, including a three-run home by over the left field fence by Larson.

Roseau continued to roll in the sixth on the strength of a three-run home run to right center by Mosher, and in the seventh on Benke's homer to right – another three-run shot.

Thief River Falls' only hits included a Blaise Larson ground ball up the middle in the second and an infield job to short by Jason Kempert in the fifth inning.

The win put Roseau at 10-6, while the loss dropped Thief River Falls to 7-6. It was the final home appearance of the 1997 season for the Thieves, who play their final four dates on the road, including a 2 p.m. contest at Fertile Sunday.

Scoring/Innings

TRF VFW baseball team wins twinbill

Thief River Falls VFW baseball team, after three straight doubleheader rain-outs, resumed its 1997 schedule Wednesday with a 23-6, 12-11 twinbill sweep of Detroit Lakes at Irv Wilson Field.

The winners used an 11-run first-inning to put away the first game early, but they needed a five-run seventh in Game 2 to complete the sweep, with Jarod Reierson driving in the game-winning run.

It was just the second home appearance of the year for the Thief River Falls 16-year-olds, who improved their record to 6-10. They also swept Detroit Lakes 8-6, 17-3 on the road June 16.

Fergus Falls will be at Irv Wilson Field Monday for a 5 p.m. VFW doubleheader.

SO WHAT'S A MACHACA TACO?
If you like authentic Mexican food, Taco John's has a new taco straight from Méjico. It's called a shredded beef Machaca Taco. In Mexico, the word mah-chá-kah actually means shredded or tenderized. So our new Machaca Taco starts with lots of specially-seasoned, slow-roasted shredded beef wrapped in a big piece of soft, warm masa bread. Then we add cheddar cheese, sour cream, lettuce and fresh-made pico de gallo. So get shredded. With the new shredded beef Machaca Taco.
It's a whole lot easier than a trip to Mexico.

from the private sector—principally Northwest Airlines, which stands to benefit the most from the program's results.

"What we will get out of the program," says Jeff Buzzell, director of aviation for NCTC, "is money for an additional instructor for 18 months and a DC 9-10 airplane from Northwest to use in our training courses. The plane is expected to be flown in here later this month.

"In addition," Buzzell said, "the students that are trained under the program will be given the first priority for job interviews with Northwest Airlines."

Buzzell said the allocation of funds for an additional instructor will permit other instructors on staff to be trained in Northwest Airlines facilities on the additional skills Northwest needs in its employees. The local instructors will then write the curriculum to be incorporated into the Thief River Falls program.

The DC 9-10 to be received by the local aviation program will be housed in the instructional hangar at the Thief River Falls regional airport, where it will join the Model 727 aircraft already there.

"Acquiring the DC 9-10 will enhance our instructional program," noted Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of NCTC and a strong promoter of the aviation mechanics course. "No other college in the nation can claim having two large transport aircraft and a state-of-the art facility such as ours."

Buzzell said that Northwest Airlines operates a number of DC-9 aircraft and is overhauling that fleet for continued use. He said the training program announced Friday will permit aviation mechanics schools in Thief River Falls, Minneapolis, Winona and Duluth to teach the things that Northwest wants done.

In an explanation of the situation leading up to the grant announcement, the Minnesota Job Skills Partnership noted that "Northwest Airlines employs approximately 20,000 Minnesotans, a number that is increasing daily. NWA's trainers are working at full capacity and cannot handle the training demands of existing and new employees. NWA has a current and future need of 200-400 aviation mechanics for each of the next five years. These mechanics need additional training beyond their A & P license to work on transport aircraft.

"Previously, the company hired only mechanics that had their A & P license and two years of experience. Due to difficulty in locating qualified candidates, NWA, the International Association of Machinists and four campuses within MnSCU proposed a new training program with an advanced certificate that would allow NWA to waive the two-year experience requirement and permit graduates to be hired immediately. This proposal encompasses this new training program.

"In addition," the explanation states, "Lake Superior College (in Duluth) wants to focus on training requirements that soon will become a mandate from the FAA. The training within this proposal will build new capacity to meet the 600-800 hours of additional training to meet the requirements of FAA Part 66 for Transport Mechanics."

The training will include instruction on transport aircraft, structures, advanced avionics, composites, advanced electronics/electrical skills, problem solving/trouble shooting, leadership/team building, business skills, computer, computation and general education skills, human factors, safety, technical communication and customer service. Currently there is no such training available to address these specific needs.

According to the Job Skills Partnership, anticipated results of the program are multiple:

- The impact to Northwest results in increased flow of a larger, better trained applicant pool; meeting the needs for trained technicians at the Duluth Maintenance Base, and certification of current and future technicians under the new rules of FAA Part 66.
- The educational impact to the aviation programs includes additional courses; donated equipment, materials and supplies from Northwest; new facility in Duluth for training of Certified FAA Aircraft Maintenance Technicians (Transport) [AMT (T)], skills enhancement of current instructors, ability to train students directly employed by Northwest, and sharing of instructors with Northwest trainers.
- MnSCU campuses will gain additional students enrolled in their A & P programs.

Northwest Airlines wage scale ranges from $16.27 per hour for Aircraft Maintenance Technician Level E to $23.80 per hour for Aircraft Maintenance Technician Level A.

David Hill, Associate Editor

Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. 96 Years Of Showing Off Pennington County

Pioneers who started the Pennington County Fair 96 years ago would find monumental changes in today's exposition, but might also be surprised how the fundamental purpose remains unchanged. Now, as it was then, the county fair is an opportunity to showcase what the area has to offer in crops, livestock, horticulture, culinary and many other fields of endeavor or interest.

Through this nearly century-long existence, the county fair has evolved along with agriculture and society in general. It has changed as the people of the area and their interests have changed, but it has maintained its local flavor and continues to mirror local life.

To a number of people, "the fair" is just the carnival that is here during the fair. They talk about "the fair coming to town," when in reality most of what makes up the fair is already here. It is simply consolidated and put on display during the several days designated as the county fair.

We would like to join the Pennington County Fair Association in encouraging residents of Pennington and nearby counties to become active participants in the fair by not only attending its attractions but exhibiting items. Exhibitors feel more a part of things than do those who are just visitors and viewers. Anyone who has exhibited knows the feeling you get from that added participation and involvement.

For livestock breeders in particular, the fair was (and is) a popular place to let the area public know that what they produce for sale is a quality product. Exhibiting champion livestock adds value to that stock, increases exposure to potential buyers and helps establish a reputation for quality that would be difficult to prove without competition.

For the seventh year a 4-H market livestock sale will take place at the fair this year. It is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Sunday, July 20, and will include only the top animals and poultry (blue ribbon, reserve champion and champion) from the county 4-H show. Anyone can be a bidder and frequently several people join forces to buy an animal, pay for its processing and share in the product.

Purpose of the sale is a worthy one —to reward 4-H livestock project members for their hard work with a premium price for their animals and to provide an incentive for others to increase their efforts to exhibit high quality livestock. Being a buyer is another way the general public can be an active participant in the county fair.

With the perspective of the current fair in mind, it would be most interesting to listen in on one of those early meetings of the county fair board. It isn't hard to imagine that many of the topics would have been the same as they are today—facilities, entertainment, premiums, exhibitors, budget.

In our opinion, the Pennington County Fair continues to improve and this year's exposition should be another good one. Early fair boards would have loved to have a building like the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center for their indoor exhibit area. It is extremely convenient for fairgoers to see a wide variety of entries with one trip to that single building.

Innovations such as the free entertainment at the bandshell and recently-constructed livestock facilities have been great additions to the fair. Whatever your interest or situation, there will be something at the county fair for you. Don't miss being on hand to find out what it is.

Did You Celebrate July 4? What About July 3?

As much as Americans should have celebrated Independence Day on July 4, there was also reason to celebrate on July 3. That was the day calculated by the Americans for Tax Reform Foundation (ATRF) to be observed as "Cost of Government Day"—the day on which the average American has finally earned enough income to pay his or her share of government spending and regulation.

"Cost of Government Day" is similar to the ATRF's Tax Freedom Day—which was May 9 this year—but includes the total cost of government, not just the cost of taxes. It is considered to be a more accurate representation of the total financial burden of government.

A non-profit, non-partisan think tank in Washington, DC, ATRF determined the July 3 date by computing the total government spending of local, state and federal government, plus the cost of regulation. The total of more than $3.5 trillion includes $1.757 trillion spent by the federal government, $1,002 trillion spent by state and local governments, $785 billion spent on direct compliance with federal regulations and $196 billion spent on state workers' compensation and tort costs.

According to the computation, government at all levels will spend 36.2 percent of the Gross National Product this year. That amounts to about $13,500 for every man, woman and child in the United States. If you have a four-person household, could you use an extra $54,000 a year?

Of course, it is necessary to have government at various levels and to pay for the services those levels of government provide. We could scarcely have our infrastructure of roads and public facilities or provide for our defense and law enforcement without some central authority. But it is a given that waste abounds in government, especially where elected bodies allocate tax money to departments and divisions. Alarming as the ATRF's computations are, it is even more alarming that the trend of increased government spending continues.

According to the ATRF, the average American will work 50.8 days this year to pay for state and local spending, 40.8 days for federal regulations, 31.6 days for Social Security and Medicare, 14.2 days for national defense, 13.8 days for interest on the national debt and 31.2 days for all other federal programs.

While all politicians pay lip service to thrift and efficiency, there seems to be little difference between the two major political parties in an affinity for spending the money earned by private citizens. There will be no end to the continuing spiral until we elect enough officials who are willing to actually do what they claim to want to do—hold the line and begin to reduce the cost of government. We are fast losing faith that enough of these people can be found.

Farmers Union Day Camp set at Grygla Civic Center

Fun and games for children ages 4-10 in Marshall, Pennington and Roseau counties will be be provided at the Minnesota Farmers Union "Fun on the Farm Day Camp" Monday, July 14, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Grygla Civic Center.

Children participating should bring a sack lunch and their running shoes in preparation for an active camp schedule. Everyone from city or rural areas is welcome to participate.

According to Helen Chervestad of Oklee, who is arranging the camp along with Norma Hanson of Goodridge and Gary Gregerson of Badger, young people attending the camp will learn how to be effective leaders and good followers. A series of cooperative games teach participants to trust and depend on one another in order to achieve a team goal.

"You can make a difference in the future of your farm, town and rural community," she said.

Registration will be held at 10 a.m. with introductions and get-acquainted games at 10:15 a.m. Re-enactment of "Charlie Needs a Cloak" by Tomie dePaola is scheduled for 10:30 a.m.

Cooperation games are planned for 11:15 a.m. with lunch at 11:30 a.m. "The Lorax" by Dr. Seuss will be read at 12 noon and a cooperative problem solving activity starts at 12:30 p.m.

At 12:45 the camp staff will dramatize how a seed grows. Campers will plant a seed and take it home with them with instructions on how to care for it. At 1:30 p.m. treats will be provided by the Grygla Co-op Store.

Cooperative games will continue at 2 p.m. and at 2:45 opportunity will be provided to photograph participants, counselors and day camp sponsors prior to campers leaving at 3 p.m.

405 4-H entries are registered for county fair

Pennington County Fair this year will have 405 exhibits from 143 county 4-H club members, according to advance registrations compiled in the county extension office.

Exhibits will include 106 animal entries in the project areas of beef, dairy, dog, goat, horse, poultry, rabbits, sheep and swine.

This year's totals are under a year ago when 147 members registered 406 exhibits, including 118 animals.

In 1995 there were 157 exhibitors in the 4-H club division and a total of 416 exhibits, including 145 animals.

Rydell Refuge hosts birding program Sun.

To find out more about birds which call the Rydell Wildlife Refuge near Mentor and Erskine their home during the summer months, plan to attend the free program to be presented Sunday, July 13, at the refuge visitor's center.

Tom Fiero of the University of Minnesota—Crookston Wildlife Division will present a slide program showing many of the bird species that he has observed at the refuge during the past three years that he has been doing bird point count surveys there.

Located in the transition area between the Red River Valley on the west and the rolling hardwood forest and lake region on the east, the refuge offers excellent bird nesting opportunities for a number of species and therefore excellent birdwatching as well.

Information gathered by Fiero and others has been used to compile a bird checklist which lists 194 species of birds that have been identified on the refuge. The list is available at the refuge or along with other lists on the internet at: http://www.npsc.nbs.gov/resource/othrdata/checkbird/chekbird.him

The Sunday program will be an opportunity for birdwatchers to brush up on their identification of many common and not so common birds that may be visiting their own yards. Two bluebird houses will be given away as door prizes.

Next program at the refuge will be on Sunday, July 20, at 2 p.m. and deal with raptors. A live peregrine falcon and kestrel will be featured. For more information, contact the refuge at 218-687-2229.

Rydell Refuge is open to the public at no charge on Sundays from 1 to 8 p.m. during the summer. Visitors are encouraged to stop at the visitor's center to look over displays and get a trail map before hiking the trails to view the abundant wildlife at the refuge.

To reach the refuge, go three miles east of Mentor or three miles west of Erskine on U.S. Highway 2 and turn south on Polk County Road 210. Go 2.5 miles south and turn right into the main driveway of the refuge.

If arriving from the south, turn off Polk County Road 41 onto Polk County 210 and go about 3.5 miles north to the refuge entrance.

First of two nights of 11 sanctioned bullriding was conducted Friday evening with the line-up tonight (Saturday) at 7 p.m. including about 40 riders. Registration for Bullride '97 included nine of the top 30 riders in 11 national point standings paying their entry fees to compete here during the two nights.

The area band Saddletramp performs before and after the bullride each evening in the grandstand area.

Main event Sunday will be the Jaycee demolition derby at 5 p.m. Horse shows are also scheduled on Saturday and Sunday and 4-H and open goat shows will be judged on Saturday.

Free entertainment at the bandshell continues through Sunday night with performers including country singer Key Lane, J. Bobby Hamilton, Matt Vorderbruggen old-time group and a magician.

A raffle being conducted by the fair board helps pay for bandshell entertainment. Tickets at $10 each are available at the fair board office and from board members with the drawing to be held Sunday at 9:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds. Top prizes are an ATV, Arctic Kitty Cat snowmobile and riding lawnmower.

Hockey Celebrity Golf Tournament July 19

Warroad - Brad Park, Joel Otto, Dean Blais, John Mayasich and Dave Christian are some of the famous faces Warroad community members will see on July 19 at the 17th annual Hockey Celebrity Golf tournament at Warroad Estates Golf Course.

Spectators are welcome to follow the players throughout the day and attend the social hour scheduled for 5 p.m. at the clubhouse.

All proceeds from the event go into Warroad's youth hockey program. Warroad Pioneer

Crops are suffering from too much rain

Karlstad- According to Kittson County Extension Office agricultural agent Curt Nyegaard, the fields are wet with some water still standing. Because of the conditions, poor emergence is a problem with the canola and some of the grain crops. While some of the parts of the fields are ready to head out, other parts are just germinating.

Also, a number of fields are showing leaf diseases forcing farmers the big expense of spraying. North Sar News.

Lunsetters celebrate Century Farm July 20

Gatzke - This weekend the Lunsetters of Gatzke will hold an open house celebrating their Century Farm, which is being recognized this year by the Minnesota State Fair board.

Walter Lunsetter, some of his children, grandchildren and nieces and nephews are busy getting ready for the event.

Walter Lunsetter's parents, Hans and Hilda Lunsetter, came to the Gatzke area in 1897. At that time, there were no roads, lots of trees and some floating bog. They spent their first winter with their three children in a one-room log cabin along with Hilda's brother and his wife, who also had three children.

Eventually, the Lunsetters had eight children. Walter, born in 1915, was the youngest. The Grygla Eagle

Klyve purchases Polk County Ambulance Service assets

Crookston - As of noon Wednesday, the Thief River Falls and Polk County ambulance operations officially became Great Plains EMS, Inc. following the purchase of Polk County Ambulance Service's assets by Tom Klyve, president of EMS of Minnesota, Inc.

Soon, the ambulances from EMS of Thief River Falls and Polk County Ambulance Service will all be painted the same color with Great Plains EMS, Inc. on the side. Crookston Daily Times

New water system works too well in Baudette

Baudette - The new water system built by the City of Baudette is sitting in limbo and may continue to do so for awhile.

According to city maintenance superintendent George Taylor, Jr., the pressure is too high and could blow out the entire system.

Variable speed drives may have to be installed to slow down the well pumps.

An engineering firm representative will be asked to attend the next regular monthly City Council meeting. Baudette Region

Plan Pioneer Day camp Wednesday at Pioneer Village

Children ranging in age from eight to 12 years are invited to participate in a new activity sponsored by the Thief River Falls Parks and Recreation Department. Pioneer Day Camp will be held at Peder Engelstad Pioneer Village Wednesday, July 23, from 10 a.m. to 2:15 p.m.

The camp will feature such activities as beekeeping, blacksmithing and one-room schoolhouse activities on patriotism. Campers will learn from a retired telegrapher how to tap the Morse Code and will make butter, learn about pioneer days from a living pioneer, birdwatch and play old-time games. Camp will begin with a brief guided tour of Pioneer Village.

Children will be furnished their noon lunch which will include milk, fruit, homemade bread, butter they will make and honey from the beehive.

Cost of the camp is $3 per camper and parents should register their children for the camp at the parks and recreation department office just behind Digi-Key off Highway 32 south. Proceeds from the camp will be donated to the Pennington County Historical Society.

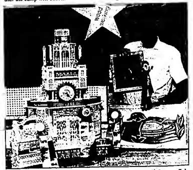
Madelyn Vigen, parks and recreation director, and Kim Maidment, events coordinator, said they hope that the camp will become an annual event and expand to include more activities in the future.

Bonnie Hallett, Pioneer Village director, told the Northern Watch that the goal of the camp will be to teach children the importance of our past ways of living with an element of fun. She says there is a number of very dedicated volunteers who demonstrate activities at the Pioneer Village throughout the summer, and this camp will include some of those volunteers.

Randal Noper, whose father's homestead cabin has been on display at the village for a number of years, will talk about his experience on the farm. Paul Halverson, a retired Soo Line Railroad stationmaster, has demonstrated telegraph use many times and will handle that role. He especially likes to have children tap out their names on the telegraph.

In the last two years Caryl Bugge has offered many hours of volunteer work at the village cataloging artifacts. She will bring in the William Robson family to talk about beekeeping and she will direct the children in making butter for their lunch.

Hallett promises parents that they can be assured their child or children will participate in a fun day while learning more about activities that were part of the past in Pennington county.



Those are purple ribbons from last year's Pennington County Fair on the display of woodworking projects made by Vince Raaen, a retired teacher and avid craftsman from the Erskine area. 2,800 individual scrollsaw cuts were required to complete the large castle-like clock. Among his entries at this year's Pennington County Fair is an impressive three-piece train made with six different types of wood from five different countries.

Crazy Day offers more than bargains this year

Crazy Day in Thief River Falls Saturday, July 27, will offer bargains for shoppers and a whole lot more during its 12-hour 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. schedule.

Concessions, demonstrations, face painting, kiddie parade, music, duck pond and Hot Wheels races are among the attractions in addition to the popular sidewalk sales and many sales inside the stores. The community takes on a festive atmosphere for this once-a-year retail promotion.

Thief River Falls Women of Today will sponsor the Krazy Kiddie Parade at 10 a.m. on Knight Avenue. Parade entries will form at 9:45 a.m. on the parking lot east of Lincoln high school, then proceed down Knight Avenue to the gazebo at Floyd B. Olson park.

The parade is open to all children and all participants will receive treats at the park following the parade. There will be no judging or prizes.

Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce will operate the duck pond from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. near the corner of LaBree Avenue and Second Street.

Annette's Fabrics will provide two in-store demonstration sessions. "Make Quilting Angles Easy To Cut" will be the first demonstration at 2:30 p.m. and "Serge a T-Shirt" will be the second demonstration at 3:30 p.m.

Music will be provided by Vern Rogalla in the 200 block of LaBree Avenue from 10 a.m. to 4 [illegible] Karaoke will be available from 1 to 6 p.m.

At 5 p.m. on the Kmart parking lot the annual Hot Wheels races will be held for youngsters in age categories 4-5 and 6-7. Registration will take place beginning at 4:30 p.m. on the south side of the store. There is no entry fee.

Food concessions will be operated by Boy Scout troops, the Back Court Club, Dwight Tangquist, Video Vault and Oof-da Tacos.

Plan to come early and stay late for one of Thief River Falls' major annual promotions.

High Voltage Power Line To Extend from Oslo to TRF

Increased electrical demand in extreme northwestern Minnesota necessitates rebuilding an existing 41,600-volt line from Oslo to Warren and building a new 115,000-volt line from Warren to Thief River Falls, according to information made available by Otter Tail Power Company.

Nearly 50 miles in length, the power line is a joint effort of Otter Tail Power Company and Minnkota Power Cooperative.

The two electric suppliers that serve both rural and municipal customers in the area are working jointly to provide the system upgrade to meet their customers' combined needs. Studies show that the project is necessary to ensure that electric service to the area remains at the high reliability levels expected by residential, rural, business and industrial customers.

Public information meetings have been scheduled for affected landowners and public officials, an Otter Tail spokesperson said. During the next several months engineering, right-of-way and environmental studies will take place. Construction is planned for 1999 with the line scheduled to be in service that same year.

Otter Tail Power Company, based in Fergus Falls, serves the community of Oslo and rural customers along the proposed route. Minnkota Power Cooperative, based in Grand Forks, ND, supplies electricity to Warren and Thief River Falls and to the three rural electric cooperatives that serve rural customers along the route.

The project involves rebuilding a 41,600-volt line for 115,000-volt operation from the Oslo substation in Walsh county, North Dakota, to Warren and building a new transmission line from Warren to an existing substation located 2.5 miles east of Thief River Falls. The line will run through Marshall, Pennington and Polk counties in Minnesota.

Electrical equipment was added in 1991 at the Thief River Falls substation to provide a short-term fix to area capacity problems. However, the demand for electricity is again approaching the capacity limit, the Otter Tail spokesperson said.

Vince Raaen, woodworker...

Craftsman shows skills

by Kathl Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

When looking at the exhibits at this year's Pennington County Fair, you will see an awesome woodworking display that includes beautiful examples of several woodworking techniques.

While all woodworking projects require almost saintly patience, the items made with a scrollsaw are particularly eye-catching because of their apparent intricacy and detail.

One of the woodworkers who uses a scrollsaw and has items on display at the fair is Vince Raaen, a retired school teacher who lives with his wife on Lake Sarah near Erskine.

Vince commented about how much he enjoys showing his creations at the Pennington County Fair because of the nice display work done by woodworking superintendent Jan Lundin.

Vince's entries this year include a rosemaled cabinet, a Big Ben clock and a three-piece train in the open class. In the senior division, he entered an intarsia picture made from 283 different pieces of wood.

The train is especially interesting. Its pieces include an engine, a tender and one car. It is detailed right down to the Venetian blinds in the windows. To date, the train has been Vince's most challenging and enjoyable project.

The colors and grains of six different woods from five different countries — Africa, Finland, Brazil, Russia and the United States — give the train its interesting and distinctive look.

Adding to Vince's enjoyment of the project was the fact that it required the use of tools such as a turning lathe, router and saws in addition to the scrollsaw.

The train took him six weeks to complete spending about six hours a day working on it. Based on a five-day work week, that computes to

SO WHAT'S A MACHACA TACO?

If you like authentic Mexican food, Taco John's has a new taco straight from Méjico. It's called a shredded beef Machaca Taco. In Mexico, the word mah-chá-kah actually means shredded or tenderized. So our new Machaca Taco starts with lots of specially-seasoned, slow-roasted shredded beef wrapped in a big piece of soft, warm masa bread. Then we add cheddar cheese, sour cream, lettuce and fresh-made pico de gallo. So get shredded. With the new shredded beef Machaca Taco.
It's a whole lot easier than a trip to Mexico.

Greenbush youth restores Hvidso cemetery as part of Eagle Scout project

Greenbush - To fulfill the community service requirement for his Eagle Scout project, Andrew Gieseke of Greenbush is restoring the Hvidso Cemetery located two miles east of Greenbush.

Waist high grass covered the monuments and covered the sign. The fence was down and dead trees littered the grounds.

With the help of Boy Scout Troop 54, Andrew is mowing, replacing the fence, installing a gate, cutting down trees and putting up signs.

The community service project is the last step before attaining Eagle Scout rank for Andrew, a junior at Greenbush Middle River High School and the son of Ernie and Linda Gieseke. The Tribune

How about some simply delicious desserts for summer - some of them are very rich, so watch out.

Peaches are in season now and you might like to use some to make this yummy German "cake":

SURPRISE PEACH KUCHEN

2 cups flour
1/2 cup sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon mace
1 egg
1 cup milk
1/4 cup butter, melted
1 1/2 cups thinly sliced peaches (2 medium)

Topping
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Glaze
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 cup dairy sour cream

In bowl sift flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and mace.

Beat egg and milk together and stir in butter. Add to dry ingredients and stir just until blended. Spread batter in 12x7 inch, buttered baking dish. Arrange peach slices in rows on dough.

To prepare topping, mix sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle over peaches. Bake 35 minutes at 350 degrees.

To prepare glaze, gently blend sugar and lemon peel into sour cream. Spread evenly over kuchen. Return to oven for 3-4 minutes to glaze sour cream. Cool 10 minutes on wire rack. Cut into squares and serve warm.

Refrigerate any leftovers. Reheat to serve.

Here's a fairly simple cake that makes a great summer dessert - serve with fresh fruit for a real treat:

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH CRUMB CAKE

2 cups flour
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 cup butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup evaporated milk
1 teaspoon soda
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons molasses
1/2 cup currants or raisins

In mixing bowl, sift together flour, sugar, salt and spices. Cut in butter with pastry blender until mixture resembles corn meal. Reserve 1 cup of this mixture for topping.

Combine lemon juice and evaporated milk. Add soda and stir to dissolve. Add to flour mixture in bowl along with egg, molasses and currants. Stir until dry ingredients are moistened - batter will be lumpy.

Turn into pan and sprinkle reserved mixture on top. Bake 35-45 minutes. Cool in pan on wire rack. Serve warm or cool.

Here's a really great summer dessert - a cool and refreshing finish to any meal:

LEMON CHIFFON PIE

1 baked pie crust (or crumb crust)
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin (1 envelope)
1/4 cup water
4 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk
1/3 cup water
4 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar

Sprinkle gelatin on water to soften.

In top of double boiler, mix egg yolks with sugar, lemon juice and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened (about 10 minutes).

Add softened gelatin and lemon peel. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat and cool to lukewarm.

In small bowl, beat together nonfat dry milk, water and egg whites until frothy. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until very stiff peaks form. At low speed, gradually add lemon mixture.

Mound into pie shell and chill until set.

CHOCOLATE-PECAN BROWNIES

3/4 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon soda
3/4 cup sugar
1/3 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons water
1 (12 ounce) package semisweet chocolate chips
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 large eggs
1/2 cup chopped pecans

In small bowl, mix flour and soda.

In small saucepan, combine sugar, butter and water and bring to boil over medium heat. Remove from heat immediately.

Stir in 1 cup of chocolate chips and vanilla until chocolate is melted and smooth. Place in medium bowl and cool completely. Stir in eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Gradually stir in flour mixture until smooth.

Stir in remaining chocolate chips and nuts and pour batter into greased 9 inch square pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 30-35 minutes, until toothpick in center comes out clean. Cool completely on wire rack before cutting.

Newfolden Ev. Free Church to host Dr. Hanson

Dr. Wes Hanson, PhD, of Siloam Springs, AR, will speak at the Newfolden Evangelical Free Church Sunday, July 20, at 10:30 a.m. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Hanson recently traveled to Guatemala as part of a mission team including pre-med, pre-nursing, pre-dental and nursing students involved in ministry projects including visiting clinics and hospitals. He will share his experiences in this project.

Traffic delays expected on Hwy 2

Periodic traffic delays will occur next week on Highway 2 between Cass Lake and Hubbard County Road 46 as part of the ongoing work to complete a four-lane highway between Bemidji and Cass Lake.

According to Todd Vonasek, Mn/DOT project engineer, motorists can expect delays of up to 15 minutes as heavy equipment crosses the road.

"Traffic control will consist of signing and flagging operations and motorists should be extremely alert when approaching the construction area," Vonasek said.

The public is also reminded that anyone caught speeding through a construction work zone will be subject to a double fine.

Emergency Watershed Protection easement sign-up open to Aug. 6

Sign-up for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Emergency Watershed Protection (EWP) easement program which began July 1 will continue through August 6, according to William Hunt, state conservationist for the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) in Minnesota.

The easement program has been established to provide landowners with a means of retiring, rather than repeatedly restoring, floodplain cropland. Sign-up may be accomplished at local county NRCS field offices.

Eligible land entered into the program will be placed under permanent easement and will not be eligible for future disaster payments, according to Glenn Kajewski, area conservationist with the NRCS in Pennington county.

NRCS will purchase a conservation easement on the land and pay applicable acquisition, easement and restoration costs. The easement value paid will be agricultural value of the land. The landowner will still hold title and control access to the land.

"We think some farmers hit by this year's flooding and/or previous floods will find this a good option compared to trying to restore and farm wet, flood-prone land," Hunt said. "They can save the expense of restoring cropland in floodplains, and the environment will also benefit."

To be eligible for the program, the land must meet the following basic criteria:

- Land must lie in the floodplain and must have a history of flooding;
- Minimum length of ownership is one year unless the land was inherited;
- The land must be socially, economically, environmentally and technically defensible; and
- Land must have been cropped or considered cropped at least once during the previous five years.

During the initial sign-up, landowners must indicate what land they would like to enter into the program and prove their ownership of that land. NRCS technical staff will then determine whether the land is eligible for EWP and complete the evaluation process.

Kajewski said that three categories of easement are possible on an individual easement site. One allows continued cropping of the land in return for a reduced easement payment. Crop insurance may be purchased for lands under this category of easement.

A second category allows compatible uses such as haying, grazing and non-commercial timber harvest. The final easement option allows no compatible uses and will cover only the most environmentally sensitive areas of the easement.

"Farmers with land damaged by flood waters should stop by their local NRCS office for more detailed information if they are interested in receiving payment for a permanent easement on flood-prone land," Hunt said.

Grebe study tours at Agassiz Refuge Sunday

A program on grebes and two mini-tours are included in the open house activities Sunday, July 20, at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge 23 miles northeast of Thief River Falls.

Refuge headquarters will be open from 1 to 7 p.m. Bruce Eichhorst, assistant professor in biology at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, will present a 2 p.m. program on "Grebes—The Other Ducks" at the refuge office. He is currently working on a grebe study at Agassiz.

Mini-tours to the grebe study area on the refuge are planned for 3 and 5 p.m. and will take up to two hours. There is a limit of five persons per tour and those interested may call the refuge at 218-449-4115 before Sunday or stop at the office Sunday to reserve a time slot.

Lost Bay Habitat Drive and township and county roads normally open to the public will be the only roads open for public travel. The quarter-mile hiking trail along Habitat Drive gives a close look at nature. The 100-foot observation tower will be open during the open house hours and the Agassiz Bookshop will offer wildlife books, carved animals and Agassiz shirts for sale.

Birds and mammals of many species can be observed from roads or the public use facilities on the refuge. Ducks and geese are molting their spring plumage. Ducklings, goslings and many other young birds can be observed throughout the refuge.

Drivers are reminded to drive slowly on roads where birds are loafing or crossing. Persons with suggestions for nature programs are invited to call or stop at the refuge office or send suggestions to Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, Rural Route 1, Box 74, Middle River, MN 56737.

TRF coaching positions filled

■ Lincoln High School volleyball, swimming

Head high school coaches have been named for the Thief River Falls volleyball and swimming programs, it was announced this week by Jim Sims, Director of Student Activities for School District 564.

Amy Roche and Bruce Jean will serve as co-head coaches in volleyball, and Shon Thompson was appointed head coach of both the girls (fall) and boys (winter) swimming programs.

Roche and Jean will share the job held by Sally Wiltse last fall. An East Grand Forks native, Roche has served on the Prowlers' volleyball and girls basketball coaching staffs the past six years. It will be the first coaching assignment for Jean, an International Falls High School and Bemidji State University graduate who taught at Franklin Middle School last year.

Thompson is a former diver for the Prowlers who has worked with the Thief River Falls programs for several years. He served as the Prowlers' co-head coach, along with Brian Olson, with both the boys and girls last year.

It was announced in June that Wiltse and Olson had submitted their resignations. Wiltse left her position as Thief River Falls head girls basketball coach to take over the volleyball team in 1996. Olson has worked with the Thief River Falls swimmers the past two years during the Minnesota State High School League seasons and the summer United States Swimming program.

For Olson, it was a move made necessary by his need to be available on short notice for possible employment opportunities. A criminal justice major at the University of North Dakota, Olson, who is currently working as a night dispatcher at the Pennington County Law Enforcement Center, has applied with the State of Minnesota for work in the juvenile corrections field.

Olson informed Sims of the still up-in-the-air job situation, and Sims, in turn, felt the need to have a head coach in place as soon as possible.

If the job market doesn't produce a position in his field, Olson said he would be more than willing to jump right back into the coaching ranks.

"As a formality, I had to submit a letter of resignation," explained Olson. "But I want to be coaching if I'm still here. It's a lot of fun working with these kids. They're so motivated. It's so much fun to see the improvements the kids make – all of them, not just the top swimmers. No matter what I do career-wise, I'll never have as much fun as I do when I'm coaching these kids."

TRF losing streak extended

Losses continued to mount for the Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team Wednesday when Post 117 lost a 5-0, 9-3 doubleheader to Tri-City in Blackduck.

The setbacks extended Thief River Falls' losing streak to 10 games. The Bruce Elseth-coached squad took a 3-26 record into a scheduled Friday twinbill at home against East Grand Forks.

Regular season play wraps up with doubleheaders Tuesday at Crookston and Thursday at home against Detroit Lakes.

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources...

1997 hunting seasons set

Hunting and trapping seasons for this fall have been announced by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources. Although the second severe winter in a row took its toll on Minnesota wildlife, particularly on northern deer herds and on western pheasant flocks, there are still many bright spots as DNR wildlife managers assess the hunting outlook for this fall, according to Commissioner Rod Sando.

"Despite the severe winter, the hunting outlook in most areas of the state is still very good," said Sando. "Ruffed grouse are up again in most areas and are probably near the peak of their 10-year population cycle, deer populations in agricultural areas remain healthy, bear and wild turkey populations are at all-time highs, locally breeding ducks and geese are abundant, and continental duck populations are at levels not seen in decades.

DEER

Deer populations again declined as a result of the severe winter in northeastern Minnesota, but declines were much lower than in 1996. Overall winter losses in northern Minnesota were estimated at 10-15 percent for the winter of 1996-97, compared to estimates of 30-40 percent in 1995-96.

Firearms deer season will open Nov. 8, archery deer Sept. 13, and muzzleloader deer Nov. 29.

Again this fall, no antlerless permits will be issued throughout most of Zone 1. This year some permit areas in Zone 2 will also be bucks-only. In these areas, all hunters, including archers and muzzleloaders, will be limited to bucks-only.

Application deadline for antlerless and special hunt permits will be Thursday, Sept. 4. A total of 150,195 antlerless permits will be available in 1997, a decline of 3 percent from the 154,195 offered last year and the lowest total since 1990.

Permit reductions were concentrated in northern forested areas where the effects of the winter of 1996-97 were most severe. Much of Zone 1 (northeastern Minnesota) will again be bucks-only and only 2,640 antlerless permits will be issued in the extreme southern portions of the zone. In Zone 2 (transitional areas extending from east-central to northwest Minnesota), permits were reduced by 22 percent from 1996.

Most of Zone 1 and some northern portions of Zone 2 will be bucks-only this fall because of the severe effects of the winter on deer populations. Although some hunters suggested that the DNR consider closed or shortened deer hunting seasons in Zone 1 in northeastern Minnesota due to reduced deer numbers there, DNR wildlife managers recommended a bucks-only restriction and limited antlerless permit quotas in different parts of the zone to provide adequate protection and future recovery of these herds.

At meetings the DNR held around the state in June to discuss this issue, most hunters agreed that deer seasons should be held in Zone 1 this fall, as long as protection was afforded to antlerless deer in the hardest-hit areas. In addition, a season closure would have had very significant impacts to northern businesses that depend on the deer season for their economic well-being, and to hunters in other zones who would have seen increased hunter densities as Zone 1 hunters shifted their hunting to other areas of the state.

All archers and muzzleloader hunters, as well as regular firearms hunters, will be restricted to bucks-only hunting in all Zone 1 and Zone 2 permit areas that have an antlerless permit quota of zero. Also, as in the past, hunters exempt from the antlerless permit requirement to take antlerless deer may not take antlerless deer in zero-quota permit areas.

Deer licenses for all seasons (archery, regular firearms and muzzleloader) may now be purchased at any time. Licenses purchased after the opener of the respective season will have a two-day waiting period before the license is valid.

Experimental $5 youth deer firearms license, without a tag, has been made permanent by the Legislature. Persons 12 to 15 years old hunting under this license must be accompanied by a licensed hunter at least 18 years of age who possesses a valid tag. Any deer taken by the youth under 16 must be tagged by another member of the youth's party.

SMALL GAME

Woodcock. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has tentatively announced a woodcock season framework that includes a three-week delay in Minnesota's season opener and a reduction in daily bag from five to three, with a corresponding decrease in the possession limit from 10 to six. This would mean that the 1997 season in Minnesota would run from Sept. 20 through Nov. 3.

Pheasant and Gray Partridge. Surveys to assess population trends of pheasants, gray partridge and other upland wildlife throughout the agricultural areas of Minnesota are not conducted until August. Limited information from 15 Conservation Reserve Program study areas in south-central Minnesota indicate a 15 percent increase in pheasant breeding populations. However, this increase was not statistically significant, and no data were available from the extreme western portions of the pheasant range in Minnesota that were hit the hardest by last winter's blizzards. Winter conditions for pheasants were less severe in the eastern two-thirds of the pheasant range. The number of gray (Hungarian) partridge counted on the study areas increased 54 percent, but the birds are still at low levels.

Pheasant season will be Oct. 11 to Dec. 14. The gray partridge season will be Sept. 13 to Dec. 31.

Ruffed Grouse. "Ruffed grouse are probably nearing the peak of their 10-year cycle, and nesting conditions this spring have again been favorable," Sando said. Drumming counts of male ruffed grouse were up for the fourth consecutive year, increasing 21 percent statewide from 1996. The number of ruffed grouse drums was up 114 percent in the northeast survey area, and was up 28 percent and 12 percent, respectively, in the northern and central areas. Counts in the northwest and southeast survey areas were down 17 percent and 20 percent, respectively.

Sando said that DNR wildlife managers are predicting a ruffed grouse harvest that could approach 1 million birds, a mark not set since the last ruffed grouse population peak in 1989.

The ruffed grouse season will be Sept. 13 to Dec. 31.

Sharp-tailed Grouse. Sharp-tailed grouse males on dancing grounds increased by 25 percent in the bird's northwest range, and increased by a modest 4 percent in the east-central region. This is the first time since 1990 that sharptails have increased in both zones, said Sando.

"Sharp-tailed grouse need open brushlands. The conversion of open lands to trees and the lack of fire or other disturbance to set back succession are contributing to the continuing erosion of the quality and quantity of suitable sharptail habitat,"

Sharp-tailed grouse season will be Sept. 13 to Nov. 30.

DUCKS/GEESE

Early September Canada goose season continues to be offered throughout most of the state. The limit has been increased from four up to five daily in the southwest. Special permits for the early September Canada goose season may be purchased over-the-counter directly from license agents statewide, beginning about Aug. 10.

All of the state will be open Sept. 6 to Sept. 15, except in the Northwest Zone. That zone, where Eastern Prairie Population geese begin to arrive early, will be closed.

General waterfowl season dates and bag limits will not be finalized until the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service announces the federal framework within which states must select their regulations. The framework includes the earliest opening date, bag limits, and the maximum numbers of days allowed for hunting. Based on waterfowl population status and the duck regulations packages proposed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the duck season will likely be expanded to a 60-day, six-duck daily bag limit season, with an opening date of Oct. 4. Goose seasons will also open Oct. 4, except in the Lac qui Parle and West Central Goose Zones, where the opening date will be Oct. 11.

Total May duck populations in Minnesota were unchanged from last year. Mallards were up 29 percent and blue-winged teal were down 12 percent, according to results from the annual May waterfowl breeding ground survey conducted by the Minnesota DNR and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The mallard breeding population in Minnesota this spring was approximately 407,000, compared with 315,000 in 1996. Mallards are 115 percent above average populations since the current Minnesota waterfowl survey began in 1968, evidence of an increasing trend in population size since the 1970s. The estimate of 253,000 blue-winged teal is 12 percent above the long-term average.

Number of Canada geese observed on the Minnesota survey was unchanged from 1996, but is 154 percent above the long-term average. Breeding population surveys for the Eastern Prairie Population of Canada geese, which breed in northern Manitoba and migrate through western Minnesota, indicate the population size is unchanged from 1996

To The Editor:

In recent months there have been numerous letters and articles published in northwest Minnesota newspapers related to environmental or natural resource issues. Whether it is flooding, deer feeding, wetlands, septic systems, license fee increases or drainage, etc., the opinions expressed are often biased, if not inaccurate, and many times inflammatory. It would be impractical and unnecessary to respond to each letter or article. However, I would like to take this opportunity to write a little about myself and the people who work to enhance, sustain, protect and safely utilize your environment and natural resources.

I was born and raised in Thief River Falls. I spend the better part of my first 20 years fishing, hunting and helping my father farm on land that I care deeply about. After two years at Northland Community College, I went on to get an engineering degree. Over the last several years I've worked a few engineering jobs, including a land development job in Texas.

In Texas, my job was to take raw land and carve out discount stores, fast food eateries, warehouses and subdivisions. Wetlands and creeks were merely design obstacles to be moved, filled or otherwise tamed, and forever lost. In Texas, private land was for private gain.

A year ago I moved back to Minnesota and resumed working for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Division of Waters, as the area hydrologist at Thief River Falls.

I believe in private landowner rights. I believe in farming. I believe in logging and most other common forms of utilizing our natural resources. I also believe in conducting private business on private land in such a way that our actions do not negatively impact our fellow citizens, or the multitude of creatures that share this beautiful state with us. Thus the need for public policy relative to fish, forests, wildlife, streams, wetlands and all other environmental considerations. The history of human nature has proven that private interests, left unguided, will inevitably plunder the environment for short term, economic gain.

I believe in God, love my wife, obey the law, respect others, vote and pay taxes. I'm probably like a neighbor, and I might be like a brother, father or son. This is what men and women who work for state environmental agencies are like—well-meaning, good citizens who are trying to do a job the best they can. Would the policies and actions of an agency comprised of people like this be so out of touch with reality?

Some may believe that natural resource management and regulation are unnecessary and a hindrance to progress in Minnesota. I do not agree. In many ways, Minnesota is still largely unspoiled. Environmental agency personnel are merely working toward protecting this precious state of the environment for the future. This is not about preservationism or environmental agendas for extremist causes, but the wise use and sustenance of our way of life. It is about dedicated men and women managing fish, wildlife, lakes, rivers, woods and wetlands for the public's good—all based on law, statute and rule, which in turn are based on the best available understanding of natural processes.

The point of my letter is this: Environmental policy and management issues are complex and difficult at best, impossible to understand at a glance, and sometimes painful to implement. But who better to work on these issues than a staff of caring people with a stake in Minnesota's future? Most DNR employees are decent human beings. Why would they be out to undermine people's rights and livelihoods? What would be the incentive?

For honest answers, and the reasoning behind decisions and policies, call or stop by a local DNR office and speak to someone from Fisheries, Wildlife, Forestry, Enforcement, Parks, Trails or Waters. Don't expect to get all the answers from a controversial public meeting or a "neighbor's uncle's cousin." We will try to explain our side of things to anyone who is willing to listen. Don't believe all the paranoid, anti-agency rhetoric. Please get informed. Do your best to hear all sides of the issues in question. Then make your own decisions.

Sincerely,
Nathan Dalager
DNR Area Hydrologist
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

The spring of 1997 was a dramatic one. An intense winter was followed by a record-setting flood that choked much of the Red River Valley and the surrounding area. The water has since receded, but the clean-up and repair are still going full swing in many locations. This is a process that will take years.

Fortunately, throughout all this turmoil, volunteerism has proven itself to be thriving! This past week it's been our church's blessing to provide sleeping quarters and use of the church kitchen for a work crew from Colfax, Wisconsin. This intergenerational group of about 18 people loaded themselves and a few belongings into three mini-vans and traveled nine hours before they arrived in Thief River Falls. Their labor of love was the repair of the flood-damaged United Methodist Church in Warren. United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR) invited our congregation to house these people, and we eagerly agreed.

I wish to publicly thank everyone who helped our church provide a pleasant stay for these men, women and youth. I appreciate the assistance we received from the Fire Department and Law Enforcement Center. I am also grateful for the people in our congregation who donated food and for those who volunteered their time and energy during those days.

Our church was happy to provide a resting place for this group. It is always wonderful to see people make personal sacrifices for the sake of others. I am thankful we had the opportunity to help in this effort, and I am also thankful for all the help we received when we did so.

Sincerely,
Rev. Bill Kerr

"We're In The Work Zone Together"

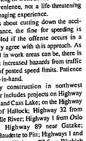
Minnesota Department of Transportation is engaged in a campaign to emphasize the need for care by motorists driving in roadway work zones. A packet prepared by the department was distributed last week to the state's news media and points out the high incidence of accidents in work zones over the past five years.

During the period of 1992 through 1996 there were 12,414 vehicle crashes in street and highway work zones which resulted in 60 fatalities, 5,928 injuries and an estimated $233,584,000 in total losses. (Loss costs are computed on the basis of $500,000 for each fatality, $30,500 for each injury and $2,700 for each property damage accident.)

The statistics include crashes reported in marked and unmarked construction, maintenance and utility work zones on all Minnesota streets and highways but do not include crashes that happened during snow removal operations.

Interestingly—and somewhat surprisingly—of the 60 fatalities over that five-year period only one was a highway worker. More than 98 percent of the people killed in work zone mishaps were drivers, passengers, pedestrians or bicyclists traveling through work zones.

The fatalities have been amazingly consistent, ranging from a low of 10 in 1993 and 1995 to a high of 14 last year. Injuries annually ranged from a high of 1,368 in 1992 to a low of 977 in 1994. Last year there were 1,244 people injured.



SLOW
WE'RE IN THE WORK ZONE TOGETHER

This year the campaign has the general theme of "We're In The Work Zone Together." It is intended to call attention to the heavy summer work schedule of construction, repair and maintenance on the state's street and highway system, that the work is being done to benefit all of us, and the need to adjust driving habits to compensate for these activities.

"Hopefully," notes Mn/DOT Commissioner James N. Denn, "the long-term benefits of improving Minnesota's transportation system will outweigh your short-term inconvenience."

With care, traveling in work zones will be only a temporary inconvenience, not a life-threatening or permanently damaging experience.

Mn/DOT is serious about cutting down the accident rate. For instance, the fine for speeding is automatically doubled if the offense occurs in a work zone. We fully agree with this approach. As frustrating as travel in work areas can be, there is no reason to accept increased hazards from traffic moving in excess of posted speed limits. Patience and safety go hand-in-hand.

State highway construction in northwest Minnesota this year includes projects on Highway 2 between Bemidji and Cass Lake; on the Highway 175 bridge west of Hallock; Highway 32 from Greenbush to Middle River; Highway 1 from Oslo three miles east; Highway 89 near Gatzke; Highway 11 from Baudette to Pitt; Highways 1 and 89 north of Red Lake; Highway 72 from Waskish 12 miles north; Highway 2 in Crookston; Highway 2 from nine miles east of Crookston to Marcoux Corner; Highway 71 from Highway 2 in Bemidji to 1.2 miles north; and Highway 2, 10 miles of Bemidji bypass.

Let's all accept the fact that "We're In The Work Zone Together" and make the experience safe for everyone—including ourselves.

Beware Of Investment Schemes And Scams

Every year Americans lose more than a billion dollars to investments that turn out to be fraudulent. Companies engaged in fraud often operate a particular scam in a popular field for a short time, quickly spend the money they take in, and then close down before they can be detected. They reopen under another name, selling another investment scam.

Fraudulent investment promoters may be very glib and persuasive, according to the U.S. Federal Trade Commission. They may claim high level financial connections, that they have inside information, that they will guarantee the investment or buy it back after a certain time. To close the deal, they may present phony statistics, misrepresent the significance of a current event or stress the uniqueness of their offering to deter the potential investor from verifying their story.

The FTC notes that there are keys to watch for in a phony sales pitch. They include claims of a "ground floor opportunity," guarantees of big profits in a short time, claims that no risk is involved and a lot of pressure to act immediately.

The top 10 lines used by fraudulent investment promoters are listed by the FTC as follows:

(1) "We don't make money unless you make money."

(2) "I know you get offers every day from people who tell you they're going to make you rich. I can make it easy for you to make your decision based on actual facts."

(3) "This opportunity is the best chance to make extra money for guys who work for a living...guys like you and me."

(4) "I've been in the business for 20 years, and I can tell you this: I know no other program that's legal that's so easy to afford and so easy to work that can bring in this kind of big money from such a small investment."

(5) "I know this can work for you. I personally guarantee your success, right down to the last penny."

(6) "Give me one percent of your trust; I'll earn the other 99 when you see the return."

(7) "Of course there's a risk. There's a risk in everything."

(8) "Sure we could finance this venture ourselves. But we're trying to build a power base for the future with folks like you."

(9) "We're talking about a cash cow here. But it's going fast. I need your check tomorrow at the latest."

(10) "I can't be lying. There are laws against that."

If you have funds you would like to put to work for investment gain, the commission advises potential investors to:

- Invest in opportunities you know something about;
- Be skeptical about unsolicited phone calls about investments;
- Get all the information you can about the company and verify the data;
- Beware of testimonials; and most of all,
- If in doubt, don't invest.

Before you invest any money, take your time. Get a second or third opinion from professionals you trust—reputable financial planners, attorneys or accountants. Research the reputation of the company in which you are considering investing. Call consumer protection agencies in your state and in the city where the company is headquartered for more information.

ASK YOUR LOCKSMITH
Questions And Answers

Q I have five locks on my house with five different keys. I would like them changed and keyed alike. Is that possible?

A Yes. Your professional locksmith can key locks alike if they are the same manufacturer's brand. If they are not the same brand, there is a possibility that they may still be keyed alike if a key blank can be found that will enter into all the locks. It is not the best way to accomplish the task, but it will sometimes work. The proper way is to replace the one or two locks that are not the same and then use the original manufacturer's key blanks in the lock.

ISD 564 establishes educational goals

During the past year meetings have been held to help define a mission and several goals for education in School District 564. Recently, the school board accepted the mission and goals.

Dr. Jerry Robicheau, superintendent of schools, explained that the goals were developed from three community forums, the strategic plan, input from staff, articles and input from articles written by Robicheau in The Times, and general discussions. The whole purpose of the education goals is to increase student achievement, Robicheau said.

The next step in the process is establishing some work groups. Those work groups will then develop action plans to help implement the goals.

Robicheau said he still welcomes input on the goals and is looking forward to future public forums on the educational goals.

The mission statement accepted by the board reads: "To ensure quality learning by developing individual abilities within a challenging and caring environment."

Goal 1: To create a Thief River Falls Partnership for Learning. The rationale behind the goal is that education is a dynamic process which must include all stakeholders in the learning process.

Strategies for the goal include: increase student awareness of a variety of career opportunities; focus on a strong curriculum that has a scope and sequence pre K-12; develop a curriculum that is well-rounded in the basic skills; develop a curriculum that will prepare students for lifelong learning; develop plans for broadening parent participation; implementation of graduation standards; develop a curriculum review cycle consistent with graduation standards, develop a staff development plan to reinforce "good teaching".

Action steps to help implement the goal and strategies include: creating parent resource centers in schools and business; conducting curriculum audits to align with graduation standards; working with business in developing partnerships; preparing long range resource allocations, and continue community forums.

Primary responsibility and accountability for the goal are with the superintendent, coordinator of educational services, community education director, licensed staff, and principals. Secondary responsibility and accountability is with volunteer coordinators, parents and the community.

Whether the goal has been achieved is an important aspect of any plan. The accomplishment of this goal is evidenced by an increase in student achievement.

Goal 2: To expand the technology network to include community access and utilization, instructional use, information resources, communication link, management tool.

The rationale for this goal is that technology is a tool used to enhance instruction, communication and data collection. Consequently, it should become an integral part of the educational process.

The strategies for implementation include: providing technology resources to district personnel, maximizing the use of interactive television for instructional purposes; integrating technology within the curriculum; developing an accountability process for utilization of technology; developing a budget plan for technology; providing technology access to the community; and developing a communications process for data collection and reporting.

Action steps for the goal include: reviewing, revising and updating the five-year technology plan; developing a staff development plan for district staff regarding utilization of technology; preparing long-range resource allocation to address technology; developing interactive network for utilization of ITV; and finalizing inter-connectiveness for E-mail and Internet.

As with the first goal, primary responsibility or accountability for this goal lies with the superintendent, technology coordinator and principals. The secondary responsibility or accountability for the implementation of the goal is with the coordinator of educational services and the business manager.

Accomplishment of this goal will be evidence of computer literacy, Internet connection, community access, technology utilization within the classroom and technology infused into the curriculum.

Goal 3: To develop a quality learning system.

The rationale for this goal is that learning must be presented in an environment that is quality in nature. It must be delivered in a safe, caring, nurturing environment.

The strategies for implementing the goal include: creating a safe, nurturing environment for all students; creating a safe environment in which all staff feel safe; improving communications between home and school; embeding values education of respect, trust, honesty, responsibility and civility into the curriculum and instructional process; establishing high expectations for students, establishing high expectations for all staff; determining acceptable graduation rate, determining acceptable adult to student ratios.

The action steps established for implementing this goal include: establishing communication systems between homes and schools; identifying or values to be embedded into instruction and/or curriculum; establishing a zero tolerance policy; conducting research on acceptable adult to student ratios, conducting research on acceptable graduation rates; increasing the percentage of students passing Basic Standards Test by 10 percent per year until 100 percent passes at first testing.

The primary responsibility and accountability for this goal is with teaching staff, principals, the superintendent, parents, students and the community.

Whether or not the goal has been accomplished is an increase in student achievement.

Goal 4: To develop a quality Human Resource Program for ISD 564.

The rationale behind this goal is based on assuring a quality school system. In order to assure a quality school system, it is essential that a comprehensive personnel system is in place.

Strategies to be used in implementing this goal include: establishing personnel procedures that solicit and hire talented, knowledgeable, enthusiastic staff, expand the employee assistance program; establish pre-employment standards that are more than the minimum; develop and implement an employee evaluation system that is intended to improve performance of the employee; and creating a positive environment where learning can take place.

The action steps for the goal include: establishing a task force to develop and recommend employment standards; establish a task force to develop and recommend an employee performance evaluation process, establish a task force to develop and recommend pre-employment standards; developing a new employee orientation program.

The primary responsibility or accountability for the implementation of the goal is with the superintendent, principals, and personnel specialist. The secondary responsibility or accountability for the implementation of the goal is with supervisors and the community education director.

Outcomes will be evaluated by the development and implementation of a Human Resources Program with a primary focus of staff who work for the improvement of student achievement.

Several area students graduate from UND

Several area students were among the 2,200 students earning degrees at the University of North Dakota this spring.

Although general spring commencement was scheduled for May 11, the flooding of the Red River of the North pre-empted graduation activities. UND President Kendall Baker was forced to close the campus on April 19 after city officials announced the Grand Forks water purification and treatments systems had been overrun by the river. City officials at that time predicted it would be several weeks before the Grand Forks water system would be able to provide drinkable water. Later on April 19 Grand Forks Mayor Pat Owens ordered the mandatory evacuation of much of Grand Forks, including UND housing facilities.

UND will hold a special spring commencement and summer commencement celebration on Friday, August 1, at 7 p.m. at the Chester Fritz auditorium. Activities will include a picnic from 4 to 6:30 p.m. on the Wilkerson Hall lawn (indoors if necessary). All spring and summer graduates, their families and friends are invited to participate in the ceremonies and the picnic.

Among the area students to receive degrees were the following: Newfolden — John Steven Lee, Heidi S. Thompson-Timm; Red Lake Falls — Phyllis Marie Sanders, Nancy Kay Schnidler, Patrick Alan Thibert; Thief River Falls — Joel M. Fremstad (JD), Mark James Olson, Michael Arthur Rhode, Debra Ann Severson, and Scott Gerald Stanina; Viking — Jan Lee Gustafson; Warren — Michael Stanley Danielski, and Richard Douglas Johnson; Warroad — Chris A. Beaucage.

Middle River, Holt seniors select three county candidates

Mae Geer

Marlan and Doris Augustine

Candidates from the Middle River Senior Club and the Holt Keenagers have been selected by their organizations as candidates for the outstanding Marshall county senior citizen awards for 1997. The selections of county winners will be announced Friday, August 1, which is senior citizen day at the Marshall County Fair in Warren.

Holt Keenagers selected Marlan and Doris Augustine as their candidates and Middle River Senior Club named Mae Geer as their female candidate. The club did not have a male nominee this year.

Other candidates selected by their senior organizations as nominees for the county honors are Lee Munger, Warren; Leona Sparby and Raymond Rapacz, Argyle; Phyllis Sunsdahl and Richard Field, Stephen; and Minnie Haugen and Lowell Hogberg, Newfolden.

This year will mark the 20th anniversary of the outstanding senior citizen program in Marshall county. Its founder, Rev. Robert Amundson, formerly of Gatzke and now of Winger, has been invited to return for the anniversary event along with the 27 surviving previous county winners.

A review of the Middle River and Holt winners provided to The Times and Northern Watch lists the following information:

Marlan and Doris Augustine

Marlan and Doris Augustine live on a farm near Holt and spend the winter months in Texas. Both usher at Nazareth Lutheran Church in Holt and are active in fall festivals and other events. Doris, 76, makes lefse for various fund-raisers and is active in her church circle and Ladies Aid.

In Texas Doris is a volunteer for the special 50-year anniversary party in the mobile home part where they live, and in dining room set-up for the semi monthly pancake supper and securing entertainment. Marlin is co-chairman of the pancake supper and involved with entertainment, securing supplies and with other meal parties.

Doris has received a 25-year certificate from the Marshall County Homemakers clubs and was selected as a Holt Keenager representative "because she is always ready and willing to help whenever asked. She sees a job to be done and goes ahead and does it, many times leaving some of her own work to get it done. She is also a good friend to many people and ready to help them."

The Keenagers selected Marlan, 77, "because he is a friendly, outgoing person, always ready to help a neighbor. In the community and church he is always ready and willing to do his part."

Mae Geer

Mae Geer, 71, is a willing worker in the Middle River community where she attends meetings, helps serve at various functions for the Middle River American Legion Post and Auxiliary and represents the auxiliary at funerals. She is a faithful member of First Lutheran Church in Middle River, works willingly when called upon, brings food to many meetings and is one of the best workers on quilting days, often taking quilts home to finish. Her lefse at bake sales sells rapidly.

Mae was recently elected to the Retired Senior Volunteer program (RSVP) board and drives to Crookston to attend the meetings.

Mrs. Geer visits the ill, disabled or shut-ins in their homes or care facility, taking with her generous samples of her baking. She can be depended on to be on hand for all senior citizen activities such as quilt-making, greeting card recycling or other fund-raisers or social get-togethers.

Middle River Senior club chose Mae " because of her willingness to volunteer for any job that benefits a person, an organization or a cause. She drives senior citizens to medical appointments no matter how severe the weather or hazardous the driving conditions. She helps them in and out of the building and makes sure they get to the proper office, examination room or lab."

If you are unfamiliar with the workings of a scrollsaw, the pattern is marked on the wood, a hole is drilled in the area to be cut out, the blade is inserted through the hole, reattached to the saw and the cut made. This process of detaching the blade, reinserting it in a new hole reattaching and making the cut is repeated for each cut-out. One large undertaking of Vince's was a castle-like clock which earned a grand champion ribbon at last year's fair. With 2,800 individual inside cuts, Vince admitted, "It got a bit monotonous."

Vince carries out his hobby in a very nice, well-organized shop that houses an assortment of woodworking tools. While he began his pastime with an inexpensive scrollsaw, he quickly graduated to a larger, more expensive model that he explained "is about worn out."

Vince's workshop and scrollsawing endeavors are winter projects. He spends the warm weather months tending a large park-like yard and 900 or so plants and flowers. While he makes a trip to the local nursery in observance of the coming of spring, Vince starts nearly all of his plants from seed. In his words, "It's more interesting that way."

Vince's woodworking hobby began in 1991 when he retired from this 24-year teaching career at Fertile-Beltrami High School. He is also a ham radio operator.

Following his discharge from the military many years ago, Vince became a licensed press photographer in Wyoming. This led to a hobby in photography that spanned numerous years. He estimates that he's taken around 17,000 photographs in his day. Asked if he's still taking photos, he chuckled and commented that he's down to about two rolls of film a year.

The meticulousness of Vince's hobby came as no surprise to this reporter. As one of his high school chemistry students in 1971, I can attest to the fact that while extremely kind and soft-spoken, he was careful and exact as he taught me everything I know about that area of science. A hobby of this nature seems like a natural transferral of the skills he used to teach.

Visiting with Mr. Raaen again was a pleasure as is viewing his scrollsaw masterpieces at the fair.

Vince, along with a number of other gifted craftsmen, have made this year's display of woodworking talent at the Pennington County Fair one that no one would want to miss!

Forage Council holds haying demonstration

Forage Council of Northwest Minnesota and the University of Minnesota Extension Service will sponsor a "hay day" Monday, July 21, at 2 p.m. along Highway 1, one-half mile west of the intersection with Highway 59.

Producers are encouraged to participate in this educational event and anyone interested in hay production is invited. The event is free to the public and refreshments will be provided by Anderson Power & Equipment of Thief River Falls.

The afternoon program will start with a quick review of the season and pointers for good hay production practices by Dr. George Marx of the University of Minnesota's Northwest Experiment Station at Crookston.

Measurements of hay quality, marketing hay via the Internet, the risk of winter injury to alfalfa due to fall cutting and how to predict the risk will be discussed by Ray Thompson, Marshall county extension educator.

Following the speakers a hay cutting demonstration will take place with four different pieces of machinery being used. Alfalfa will be cut with a swather, regular mower, sickle mower-conditioner and a mower-conditioner. While the cutting takes place, Forage Council board member Cecil Anderson will discuss the differences in cutting practices and what affect they may have on hay production.

After the hay is baled, samples will be taken from the hay that was cut with the various pieces of machinery. Information on this sampling will be provided to those attending the "hay day" and other interested parties.

"Alfalfa hay production is a viable option for many producers in our area," states Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator. "Price of hay is determined by supply and demand, but quality remains the main factor in determining price. Producing the highest quality hay will help producers obtain the highest market prices for their crop."

For additional information on the "hay day" event, contact extension educator Hans Kandel at the Red Lake county extension office, phone 218-253-2895 or toll-free at 1-800-770-1244.

Lancaster School gets grant to build gym

Lancaster - Lancaster School was recently awarded a $446,945 grant from the Minnesota Department of Children, Families and Learning to build a new gymnasium.

Lancaster School Principal Brad Homstad said the grant targets students in grades 4-8. The new facility will be used for elementary and junior high athletics, 4-H, scouting activities, extended day activities, drama and community activities.

The grant does not cover the whole cost of the building. The local effort will be about $240,000. Construction will begin this fall, with a completion date of late winter. The Kittson County Enterprise

No carnival at this year's Red Lake County Fair

Oklee - This year's Red Lake County Fair will not have a carnival.

Because of the size of the fair, entertainment companies have only been willing to sent two or three rides to the fair in the past. Last year the contracted carnival didn't show up. The Gazette

Finding doctor no simple task for Fosston clinic

Fosston - Finding, luring and hiring a new general practioner to replace Dr. Paul Havens who left July 1 is no easy task for the Dakota Clinic of Fosston.

Offering a favorable pay scale in the tri-state area, hopes are high that the clinic will soon hire a permanent general practioner. The Thirteen Towns

Summer Tour of Homes in Roseau August 2

Roseau - Roseau Area Hospital and Homes Auxiliary is sponsoring its first-ever Summer Tour of Homes on August 2.

Funds raised will go toward the hospital's Hospice program and other hospital programs.

Included on the tour are the homes of Colleen and David Olson, Carolyn and Denois Sabourin, Karen and Bob Granitz, and Marian and Jerry Endrizzi.

Set up a year in advance, the homeowners have been preparing all year for the event. Roseau Times-Region

Habitat for Humanity sandbag movement continues in Crookston

Crookston - Submitting the low bid to the city for sandbag removal, Crookston Area Habitat for Humanity still has work to be done to complete the job by the July 31 deadline.

Most of the effort now is being concentrated on getting the sand off the dikes and to designated areas where city crews will pick it up.

While volunteers are working to meet the deadline, indications at City Hall are that if the work appears to be continuing at a steady pace, the deadline might not be set in stone. Crookston Daily Times

Memorial service Friday for Dr. David Brown, 78

Memorial services were conducted Friday, July 25, at 3 p.m. at Faith Lutheran Church in Goodridge for Dr. David Brown, 78, former superintendent of schools in Goodridge and a past mayor of that southeastern Marshall county city.

Dr. Brown died July 21 at Lake Region Hospital in Fergus Falls of heart failure and funeral services were conducted Thursday, July 24, at 11 a.m. at Federated Church in Fergus Falls.

For 27 years from 1953 to 1980 he served as superintendent of schools at Goodridge and for 15 years he also served that city as its mayor. Following his retirement he was active in the Minnesota Senior Federation, serving as president of its Northwest district, and in the Northwest Minnesota Retired Educators organization.

Interment was at Oak Grove cemetery in Fergus Falls with military rites conducted by Harold T. Swenson Post 612 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A full obituary will be published in the July 30 issue of the Thief River Falls Times.

School, Community calendar out Aug. 1

Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire will have a new school/community calendar for the 1997-98 school year as a result of a joint effort headed by the community education department of School District 564.

Dubbed "Project Link" by the community education department, the calendar effort was done in partnership with businesses, post-secondary universities and colleges, non-profit groups, county and city government agencies and School District 564.

Nine thousand copies of the calendar are being printed and 5,600 of these will be distributed with the August 2 issue of the Northern Watch. Calendars will be mailed direct to the homes of School District 564 students enrolled from the Red Lake Falls area. Remaining calendars will be available throughout the year at the community education department, 230 South LaBree Avenue in Thief River Falls, and other distribution sites to be announced in late August.

According to Patricia Soli, community education director, the calendar is a collaborative effort to inform Thief River Falls citizens and visitors of key events, meetings and school schedules. The goal was to mobilize citizens to share financial and other resources to produce a quality calendar to be made available throughout the school year.

"The purpose of our partnerships has been to gather information that will serve as a clearinghouse of activities that inform, extend an invitation to participate and create opportunities in a welcoming environment for learning," Soli said.

The 16 calendar pages have a variety of information from contributors to share with calendar users. Included are:

- School District 564, volunteer services, food service, transportation, activities department and community education department;
- Northwest Area Learning Center;
- PER information;
- Thief River Falls Education Foundation;
- City of Thief River Falls, public library and parks and recreation department;
- Pennington County;
- University of Minnesota extension service in Pennington county;
- Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Northland Community and Technical College students in the Sales, Marketing and Management class—in partnership with the community education staff—solicited ads and raised cash donations. Advertising space in the Project Link calendar will have 25 Bronze Level ads, 21 Silver Level ads and five Gold Level ads that will pay for calendar expenses.

Disaster aid deadline set for August 6

Less than two weeks remain for Minnesota residents in disaster-declared counties to apply for a variety of federal and state disaster assistance programs.

The deadline is Wednesday, August 6, according to officials of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and Minnesota Department of Emergency Management (DEM).

"Application for disaster assistance must be made on or before the August 6 deadline," said Larry L. Bailey, federal coordination officer. "The toll-free phone call is your application and the only way to apply for state and federal disaster programs.

"In addition, persons who have already obtained an SBA home or business disaster loan application must complete and return it on or before the August 6 deadline," Bailey said.

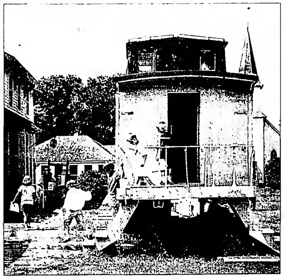
Individuals and business owners who suffered damages or losses as a result of the spring flooding may apply for disaster assistance by calling the toll-free application number—1-800-462-9029 (TTY: 1-800-462-7585)—between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Applicants may qualify for assistance under several federal and state programs such as disaster housing, grants to meet disaster-related needs or U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) low-interest loans.

For survivors in the disaster-declared counties, SBA loans are available to homeowners and renters for restoring of or replacing underinsured or uninsured disaster-damaged real and personal property. Additionally, disaster loans are available to repair or replace destroyed or damaged business facilities, inventory and machinery not covered by insurance.

Loans may also be available to small businesses for working capital to assist them during the disaster recovery period.

For answers to questions about the disaster assistance programs, call the Disaster Information Helpline at 1-800-525-0321 (TTY: 1-800-660-8005).



Just off the train at Thief River Falls' Pioneer Village were these eight- to 12-year-old children participating in a new activity called Pioneer Day Camp. The activity was organized by the Thief River Falls Parks and Recreation department and held Wednesday, July 23.

Pennington CRP contracts totaled only 20,002.7 acres

Only 20,002.7 acres of land in Pennington county will be under the new Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) contracts—a far cry from the present 73,000 acres, virtually all of which will come out of the former program on September 30.

And since only 13,170.1 acres accepted under the new contracts are presently under the old contracts, there will be approximately 60,000 acres of CRP land coming out of the program this fall. Of the offers accepted, 6,832.6 acres are presently active cropland.

Glenn Schafer, executive director of the Pennington County Farm Service Agency (FSA), which conducted the sign-up, said the number of acres and contracts accepted was quite disappointing.

"We had really expected to have a higher acceptance rate," he said. "We had 378 bids offered with a total of 43,499.1 acres. The acceptance of just 160 bids with 20,002.7 acres means only 45 percent of the acreage offered was accepted."

Schafer said the offers accepted ranged from a high of $48 to a low of $27 per acre in Pennington county with an average of about $35.

This was the 15th sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program since it was originated about a dozen years ago. Pennington county had not participated for a number of years because 25 percent of the county's cropland had been enrolled in the early sign-ups. No county can have more than 25 per cent of its cropland in CRP.

Schafer pointed out that a new system of evaluating offers called an Environmental Benefits Index (EBI) ranking was used for the 15th sign-up. There are seven primary factors included in the ranking system with a maximum of 600 points possible.

The national office of the Farm Service Agency in Washington, DC, determined that 259 points would be the acceptance line. Any offers with fewer than that number of points were rejected. On a national basis, 16.1 million acres were accepted for the program.

"Of the EBI ranking, 200 points were devoted to only the cost/bid amount," Schafer said. "If a producer did not request cost-share for establishment of cover, 10 points were automatically awarded. The remaining 190 of the 200 points possible were determined directly from the bid amounts."

The cost share formula follows:

$$200=10\text{ pts}+[190-\{(\frac{\text{Bid $}}{165}\times 190)\}]$$

This formula was used if no cost share was requested. If a producer requested cost-share and bid $35 per acre, for example, the formula for determining cost points received would be as follows:

$$0+[190-\{(\frac{35}{165}\times 190)\}]=150.1\text{ pts.}$$

Six other factors were considered in the EBI ranking to a maximum of 600 points, and were listed by Schafer as follows:

- Wildlife Habitat Benefits. Up to 100 points were possible and items considered were type of vegetation to be planted, presence of endangered species, proximity to wetlands, proximity to other protected areas, tract acreage size and restored wetlands.
- Water Quality from Reduced Erosion, Runoff and Leaching. Up to 100 points were awarded according to location within a water quality area, leaching index, distance to surface water area and ratio of restored wetlands to upland.
- On Farm Benefits of Reduced Erosion. Up to 100 points.
- Long-term Retention Benefits. Up to 50 points.
- Air Quality Benefits. Up to 25 points.
- Benefits In Conservation Priority Area. Up to 25 points. (Nine townships in the western part of Pennington county were included in the pre-determined Conservation Priority Area.)

"In general," Schafer said, "there were only three factors that the producer could control. One was the cost of bid amount (1.14 points were awarded for every dollar the offer was less than the maximum bid established based on soil type). A second factor was agreeing to plant of native grasses, which provided increased points. The third was restoration of wetlands, if possible."

It is expected there will be future CRP sign-ups, and that they will be "budget-driven," as was the recent 15th sign-up. This means the number of acres accepted will be determined by the funding allocated to the program. As a result, the acceptance line of 259 points is subject to change in each enrollment period.

Many landowners whose offers were not accepted during the 15th sign-up have indicated that they will submit offers again in the next sign-up round, Schafer said. He has not received official notice of any such subsequent sign-up, but expects that one may be conducted this November or December.

Archery tournament features unique targets

This handmade floating alligator target will be one of the new novelty targets intended to add extra fun to the annual outdoor archery tournament hosted by the Thief River Falls Archery Club on August 2 and 3. Also, in an effort to encourage youth to sample the sport, children 11 years old and younger can participate at no cost. The club will furnish equipment for youngsters who do not have their own.

By Kathi Carlson

Northern Watch Reporter

While most tools used by prehistoric man have been abandoned, the bow and arrow remain popular implements of sport for men, women and children across the country. With archery clubs in many communities, northwestern Minnesota is no exception.

On Saturday, August 2, and Sunday, August 3, the Thief River Falls Archery Club will host its annual outdoor tournament. Traditionally, 300 to 400 archers from Minnesota, North Dakota and Canada participate in the event.

With funding from area service clubs to offset the cost, the tournament will be free for youth 11 years old and younger. For those who do not have their own equipment, the club will provide 25-pound recurve training bows to be used in the competition.

Each year, the organization offers training to 4-H groups, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and other youth groups. Archery is always a favorite activity at day camps and the Scout Expo. To date, over 200 youths have received archery instruction in 1997.

The Thief River Falls Archery Club also has a trickshooting team that travels throughout the area providing an entertaining and educational exhibition to interested groups.

This spring, club president Dana Klos taught archery to an enthusiastic audience during Franklin Middle School's Activity Day. Because the youth so obviously enjoyed the hands-on training experience, Klos asked why they didn't participate in archery on a regular basis. Cost was the factor in the majority of their responses.

It was with those replies in mind that members of the club's board of directors approached various service groups and organizations to

"Tom's Coats for Kids" campaign begins 11th season

Again this year, KVLY-News 11 Meteorologist Tom Szymanski is asking everyone to help the valley's children by donating good quality children's coats, caps, snowsuits, mittens, scarves and boots to "Tom's Coats for Kids." Local cleaners and service groups will then clean and distribute the donations to children in their communities who need winter outerwear. And this year, Tom says the need is even greater after our spring floods.

Donations will be accepted now in Thief River Falls at Adventist Community Services Center, and Narverud Cleaners.

In the past 10 years, "Tom's Coats for Kids" has collected, cleaned and distributed nearly 100,000 coats and accessories. Last year's campaign provided valley children with over 14,000 winter garments.

"Tom's Coats for Kids" is a nationally recognized community service project winning a 1994 Community Action Network award and the 1991 Second Century Initiative Award presented by the National United Way.

Archery tournament

secure funding which would enable young people to participate in the tournament without cost.

Currently, the TRF Archery Club has 123 members. That number includes 11 women and 10 youth, and 96 of these members participate in the Indoor league. The league season begins early in the year and concludes in April with tournaments and a banquet.

Husbands and wives, fathers and sons and /or daughters often participate in archery club activities together.

Over the years, the club has produced many state champions and one national champion. Locals who have captured the state title include Tom Molskness, Dana Klos, Dave Hanson, Dave Mugaas and others. Former resident Tom Lykken won the national championship in the early 1980's.

The club's $25 membership includes a $7.50 user fee for use of the 20-yard indoor range facility located above the old arena and the field course located approximately seven miles from town, south and west of the Thief River Falls Airport.

The club's earliest records date back to 1951 and indicate that a public meeting was held on April 7 at the city auditorium. The first officers in the organization were Gunder Legvold, president; Marge Dunham, secretary; and Amanda Caulfield, treasurer. Shooting took place weekly on the high school football field or in the old gym at Lincoln High School. In 1955, a field course was constructed south of the city across the road from where Challenger School is today.

The annual outdoor tournament dates back to the early 70's when the animal targets where made of large sheets of cardboard cut out and painted to look real. Dirt and sod backstops were used to stop the broadhead tipped arrows. Two-dimensional foam targets began to appear in the 80's, and the cost allowed only a few to be purchased each year.

Today, the archery tournament features full bodied 3-D targets that match the animals in size and appearance. The TRF Archery Club is one of the last Minnesota archery organizations to offer participants the opportunity to use broadhead tips. Because of the damage broadheads cause to the expensive targets, most tournament organizers have opted to allow field tips only.

The tournament offers two levels of competition. The Dakota round is a 14-target contest sanctioned by the National Field Archery Association and the Minnesota FAA. Target distances, which range from 10 to 60 yards, are known to the shooters as they walk around the course. The targets have numbered scoring rings with the center, the bulls-eye, a ten. The further the arrow is from the bulls-eye, the lower the score.

The 3-D 42 target animal round features life-size animals set up in their natural environments. The distances are not posted and the archer must judge the range and determine point of aim. For the hunting archer, the competition provides realistic practice.

To add some extra fun to this year's tournament, the club will introduce novelty targets giving participants the opportunity to shoot at an 11-foot floating alligator and life-size zebra. Handmade by archery club members, the targets are truly one-of-a-kind.

Many volunteer hours are spent preparing for the tournament. For additional information, call Dana Klos at 681-7592. Rain or shine, the Thief River Falls Archery Club promises a memorable event, and hopefully a bulls-eye for area youth.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

How about some cold drinks for the hot weather? Surely you'll find one or two of these that tickle your fancy.

ORANGE-COFFEE PUNCH

3 1/2 cups cold milk
1/2 cup triple-strength coffee, chilled
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon orange extract
Orange sherbet

In large bowl, blend milk, coffee, sugar and orange extract. Pour into chilled punch bowl and top with small scoops of sherbet.

HAWAIIAN MILK PUNCH

1 1/2 quarts vanilla ice cream, softened
3 cups chilled pineapple juice
1/3 cup orange juice
3 teaspoons lemon juice
4 cups cold milk

In mixing bowl while beating softened ice cream, gradually add fruit juices, then milk. Beat until frothy and then pour into chilled punch bowl.

MAPLE-APPLE PUNCH

Prepare as above, substituting butter pecan ice cream for the vanilla ice cream and 3 cups apple juice and 1/3 cup maple syrup for the fruit juices.

PEPPERMINT PUNCH

Prepare as above, substituting peppermint ice cream and 3 tablespoons finely crushed peppermint candy for the vanilla ice cream. Substitute 3 cups light cream for all the fruit juices. Garnish with dollops of whipped cream and sprinkle with crushed peppermint candy.

PEANUT BUTTER MILK SHAKE

1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups milk

In mixing bowl, blend ice cream, peanut butter and vanilla. Gradually add milk. Serve immediately.

CHOCOLATE PEANUT BUTTER SHAKE

MAPLE PEANUT BUTTER SHAKE

Substitute 1 teaspoon maple extract for vanilla.

BUTTERMILK COOLERS

CITRUS

1/4 cup fresh orange juice
1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 pint cold buttermilk
3 tablespoons sugar

PINEAPPLE

1/4 cup pineapple juice
2 tablespoons sugar
1 pint cold buttermilk
3 scoops pineapple sherbet

ORANGE

4 scoops orange sherbet
2 tablespoons sugar
1 pint cold buttermilk

LEMON

4 scoops lemon sherbet
3 tablespoons sugar
1 pint cold buttermilk

Make a thick milk shake to sip slowing on a hot day - add some malt powder to make a rich chocolate malt:

CHOCOLATE MILK SHAKE

1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
6 tablespoons chocolate syrup
3 cups milk
1 pint vanilla ice cream

In mixing bowl, blend softened ice cream and chocolate syrup. Gradually add syrup. Pour into glasses and top with scoops of ice cream.

CHOCOLATE SODA

1/4 cup chocolate syrup
1 small scoop vanilla ice cream
1/2 cup sparkling water, chilled
1 large scoop vanilla ice cream
Sparkling water

Used Cars for as Low as $5!
THREE DAYS ONLY!!
Thursday - Saturday, July 31st through August 2nd
Hallock, MN – C & M Ford Sales at Highway 75 North is at it again! They will attempt to reduce their used car inventory by 50% in three days. This ULTIMATE USED VEHICLE EVENT will take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 10 A.M. to 6 P.M.
Owner Paul Blomquist explained that since it's been three months since the last sale, C & M Ford's used vehicle inventory has increased to levels beyond their capacity. "It's time to bring back our ultimate used vehicle event and reduce our supply of used cars so that we can continue to bring in fresh trades," explained Mr. Blomquist.
For three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, C & M Ford will offer their entire inventory of used vehicles at substantial price reductions. "I have been told to reduce a vehicle down to $15, $10, even $5! We have many quality cars and trucks in the $3,000 to $12,000 range too. We will be reducing these vehicles dramatically!" explained Myron Swanson, used car manager.
"This innovative approach to liquidating used vehicles should make it easy and quick for anybody to get a great car at a low price without any hassle," General Manager Brad Hemmes pointed out. "We have three different banks and lending companies available just for this event, all with commitments for some exceptional interest rates. We can also be very flexible on terms and approvals.
C & M Ford will display all the vehicles beginning at 10 A.M. Thursday, to give people the chance to look them over. At 11 A.M., the marked down sale price will be placed on the window of each vehicle. Whoever is sitting in the vehicle at 11 A.M. will have the first chance to buy the car at the price posted. If they do not wish to buy the vehicle at that price, they can simply walk away and the car is available to the public at that price.
This event will be for three days only. It will be held at C & M Ford, Highway 75 north, one block north of Western Implement.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I would like to respond to DNR employee Nathan Dalager regarding his letter to the editor in the July 19 Northern Watch.

Unless you live in a cave, Nathan, you must have known there is some bad talk about state regulatory agencies and yours, the DNR, is the absolute worst. Something must have hit a nerve for you to come out and try to defend your out-of-control agency. There are many good, hard-working people on the bottom of the DNR, but there is none at the top—and the DNR is very top heavy.

When you wrote that letters to the editor regarding flooding, deer feeding, wetlands, septic systems, license fee increases or drainage "are often biased, if not inaccurate, and many times inflammatory," you got my attention.

The Minnesota Landowners Rights Association (MLRA) was started because of your own agency's inaccuracies in interpreting wetland law and undue burdens placed on individual landowners. MLRA worked creatively for two years with legislators and won many changes to the Wetland Conservation Act. When you say that wet lands are for the public good, then let the public pay for them, not steal them.

Last legislative session MLRA worked proactively with many on Minnesota Pollution Control Agency's septic system ordinance (7080 rule) and won big again.

As for DNR "big license fee increases," Minnesota residents spoke loud and clear to legislators: "No increases!" Two dollars of every deer license sold was to go for emergency deer feeding but somehow the money became DNR employee bonuses. The DNR is also five years behind in drainage and road assessments to Marshall and Beltrami counties for con-con lands, which also puts undue burdens on landowners who are being flooded.

Nathan, you asked the question "Why would DNR be out to undermine people's rights and livelihoods?" Good question. Do you have the answer?

I would like to ask some questions, too. Why has Commissioner Rod Sando of DNR not been confirmed by the Minnesota Senate for the past two years? Does the Senate believe the DNR is being led down the road of destruction? Does the DNR really need a budget of $384 million and $200 million from the Environmental Trust Fund (lottery money)? Does the DNR need 35,000 vehicles on the road? Can deer starved to death live again?

What has the DNR done so wrong to so many people that if you go into any coffee shop, restaurant or tavern around the state you can hear the words "damn DNR" echoing? How did the head of the Division of Waters misappropriate $70,000 and not get fired?

Paranoia and anti-agency rhetoric is out there and it's caused by your dictator agency head personnel. Next legislative session why don't you go to St. Paul and see first-hand what your own agency is doing! Watch how an agency given enough rope is hanging itself. See how the DNR reaches for money, power and control. So please, you get informed.

Sincerely,
Dave Zavoral

We Differ With Lesher On Campaign Reform

Dr. Richard Lesher, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, doesn't put much stock in the need for campaign spending reform.

"Virtually all of the debate about political campaign reform is being driven by two absurd misconceptions that have little relation to reality—the first that we spend too much on political campaigns and the second that the cost of television advertising is the primary problem," he writes.

"Let's take a look behind the over-heated rhetoric," he adds. "Congressional campaign spending reached $625 million in 1996. In addition, President Bill Clinton and his challenger Senator Robert Dole spent $232 million on their campaigns that year, some $113 million of it for advertising. That's $857 million spent on federal campaigns.

"Some critics contend that is excessive, but compared to what? For example, in 1996, American companies spent more than $3 billion advertising toiletries and cosmetics. Is it unreasonable to suggest we might spend a third as much on political campaigns as we do to advertise toiletries and cosmetics?" Dr. Lesher asks.

"The United States is a vigorous democracy in which the selection of government officials is properly regarded a vital undertaking. To spend between 0.4 and 0.6 percent of our Gross Domestic Product on politicking, as we have done consistently since 1980, strikes me as neither excessive nor worrisome."

We disagree with the learned Dr. Lesher in both his viewpoint and analogy. For the most part his views on business and politics coincide with ours, but this is one case in which our paths part. We do think that it is unreasonable that our federal election candidates spent $857 million in the 1996 election campaigns, regardless of what cosmetics and toiletries manufacturers choose to spend promoting their products.

And the main reason we disagree is touched upon by Dr. Lesher when he writes: "I have heard many politicians complain about how hard they must work to raise money for campaigns. But this exercise, as painful as it may seem to them, has the salutary effect of putting them into direct contact with their constituents explaining exactly why they deserve support. This is what democracy is all about."

Wouldn't it be nice if Lesher's bit of wishful thinking were indeed reality? Far from putting them into direct contact with their constituents as Dr. Lesher suggests, however, fund-raising instead brings candidates to the doors of strangers seeking favors and constrains those candidates to commitments away from home. If anything, excessive fund-raising is a major detraction from staying in touch with constituents and making good laws.

And there is certainly a difference between seeking election to a federal office to serve the public and selling Purple Passion lip gloss at the Five and Dime. Business extracts a part of its sales to use in generating additional sales. Elected federal office holders shouldn't have anything to offer for sale to anyone—especially strangers with special interests. There has been a growing tendency to seek and accept such funds, however, and the pressure to accumulate huge campaign war chests from these interests has led to unwise and even illegal activity. The American electorate deserves better.

We do agree with Lesher that there is no merit to a legislative proposal to require commercial television to grant free air time to political candidates. Commercial television, like commercial radio, newspapers, magazines, billboard companies and others, exists by selling an advertising service. It should not be expected to give away what it has for sale.

Campaign spending for federal elective office is entirely out of hand. Perhaps it is necessary to require federal candidates to raise all campaign funds from within the boundaries of their respective districts, which would truly bring responsiveness to local views on issues back home—especially if moderate limits were placed on allowable donation amounts.

Candidates for Congress should have to raise their funds within their districts and candidates for U.S. Senate should have to raise their campaign funds within their states. It wouldn't make any difference if candidates came from rich or poor districts, because they wouldn't be campaigning against those in other districts. Presidential candidates would have the entire nation to canvass, but couldn't accept foreign donations. There should be enough money in our nation to elect its President.

Lesher has his own suggestion of what to do:

"A much simpler and more manageable 'solution' to this non-existent problem would be to extend the 'truth in advertising' requirement to politicians, requiring them to speak openly and honestly about their agendas and qualifications, as well as those of their opponents. Such a rule would reduce the flow of campaign literature and messages to a trickle, and virtually eradicate the demand for television air time.

"Then again," he adds, "it would take all the fun out of politics."

Politics isn't supposed to be fun. Running our country is serious business—so serious that those we elect to do it should be spending their time working at it instead of fund-raising for their next election. In government as in business, someone has to do the work.

THANK YOU
To Thief River Falls and Fosston Area Residents for the extremely important help you gave during the Grand Forks Flood. Also to the Park & Rec for gathering 40-50 cages, and the people who provided foster homes for the pets. You saved the lives of many pets which in turn assisted the families who were without. We can't thank you enough!
Sincerely,
The Crookston Humane Society

Settler's Square plans county fair activities

Settler's Square activities at the Marshall County Fair in Warren have been planned for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 1-3.

Settler's Square is operated by the Marshall County Historical Society which will again be serving lunches out of the cook car all three days. Lefse will be baked and sold in the Cook School building and Mexican food will also be available on the grounds.

Ice cream will be dipped in the depot and persons can go to the saloon for a drink—of cold water—during the afternoons. Candy will be sold in the General Store.

Area musicians will be on hand to entertain nursing home residents in the main building Friday at 2 p.m. Ron and Elsie Shereck of Tabor will provide old-time recorded music for dancing Friday, August 1, from 8:30 to 10 p.m. There is no admission charge but free will donations will be accepted. Don and Darlene Votava of Warren will present a musical program Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Alma Church on the Settler's Square grounds.

Dirt Diggers Garden Club has been responsible for the Heritage Garden planted beside the Landreville Cabin and will present a program on "Heirloom Gardening" with a walking tour at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Special markers have been placed on the newest acquisitions in the museum. A demonstration on soap making and old time laundry methods will take place Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Landreville Cabin. A variety of quilts will be on display at the Little White Stand on the north end of Settler's Square but none will be for sale. Avis Mattson will operate one of the booths located in the machinery area.

Members of the board of directors of the historical society will gather Sunday at 4 p.m. to plant a tree in memory of the late Jerome Johnson of Strathcona, who served as president of the society for a number of years. The public is invited to attend the event.

Registration for various prizes will be conducted at the welcome booth.

Guest carving instructor this year will be William Henderson of Paynesville, who will teach a class in chip carving to area and regional carvers July 31 and August 1.

While visiting the show, the public is encouraged to vote for a carving in the People's Choice category. Ribbon place judging will take place on Saturday, August 2, from 5 to 7 p.m. and an awards ceremony will be held Sunday, August 3, at 4 p.m.

The June all farm products index for Minnesota at 144 was four points lower than May, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service.

The meat animal index and the crops index both decreased five points. The all hog price for June was $58.50 per hundredweight, a decrease of 70 cents from the May price. The all cattle price for June was $60.30, down $1.80 from the May price.

Soybeans decreased 23 cents from May to June to a price of $8. Prices received by farmers for corn decreased 12 cents to a June price of $2.40.

The Dairy index at 136 remained unchanged from the previous month while the poultry and egg index decreased two points to 117.

Spring Grain Yields Forecast below 1996 Levels. Based on July 1 conditions, small grain yields in Minnesota are forecast to be lower than 1996 levels.

The spring wheat crop is estimated at 89.3 million bushels, down 11 per cent from last year. Yield is estimated at 38 bushels per acre, four bushels below last year. Acres for harvest are down 50,000 from 1996 to 2,350,000.

The expected durum wheat output at 190,000 bushels is down 56 per cent from last year. Yield is forecast at 38 bushels per acre, down five bushels from 1996. Acres harvested at 5,000 are down from the 10,000 harvested in 1996.

Winter wheat production is estimated at 1.8 million bushels. Yield is forecast at 35.0 bushels per acre, a decrease of one bushel from 1996. Acres for harvest are up 18,000 from 1996 to 50,000.

Barley growers expect a crop of 34.8 million bushels, up four per cent from last year. Yield at 61 bushels per acre would be a decrease of three bushels from last year.

Oat production is forecast at 19.1 million bushels, up 26 per cent from 1996. Yield at 53 bushels would be three bushels lower than 1996.

U.S. Highlights

Spring wheat production is forecast at 569 million bushels, down 17 percent from 1996. Based on July 1 conditions, the U.S. yield is forecast at 30.4 bushels per acre. This is 4.7 bushels per acre below last year. Grain area totals 18.7 million acres, down five percent.

Winter wheat production is forecast at 1.78 billion bushels, up 11 percent from last month and 20 percent higher than 1996. Based on July 1 conditions, the U.S. Yield is forecast at a record high 42.8 bushels per acre. This is up 3.5 bushels from June 1 and 5.6 bushels per acre better than last year.

Durum wheat production is forecast at 80.9 million bushels, down 30 percent from 1996. Lower expected yields are the main cause of the decline. Based on July 1 conditions, the U.S. yield is forecast at 25.2 bushels per acre. This is down 7.5 bushels per acre from last year and the lowest average since 1989.

Barley production is forecast at 372 million bushels, down six percent from a year ago. Yields are expected to average 58.1 bushels per acre, down 0.4 bushels from last year.

Oat production for 1997 is forecast at 183 million bushels, up 18 percent from last year. If realized, this would be the third lowest oat production since records were first kept in 1866. The forecasted yield, at 56.7 bushels per acre, is down 1.1 bushels from last year's 57.8 bushels.

Fall potato area planted in 1997 is estimated at 1.20 million acres, down six percent from last year's record high and two percent below 1995.

May Egg Output down four percent in State. Minnesota layers produced 249 million eggs during May 1997 versus 260 million in May 1996, a decrease of four percent. Laying flocks in the U.S. produced 6.50 billion eggs in May, up three percent from a year ago.

June Milk Output Down Slightly in Minnesota. Totaling 799 million pounds, the state's milk production this June was down less than half of one percent from June, 1996.

Output per cow was 1,365 pounds in June, up 30 pounds from the previous year. Milk cows for June averaged 585,000 head, the same as May, but down 15,000 from June 1996. Accumulated milk production for the first six months of 1997 was 4.78 billion pounds, down two percent.

June 1997 milk output in the 20 major states was 11.36 billion pounds, up four percent from June 1996. Milk cows in the 20 states averaged 7.74 million head, down 82,000 from the previous year. At 1,468 pounds, production per cow was 70 pounds higher than June 1996.

U.S. Cattle On Feed Up 14 Percent. Cattle and calves on feed for the slaughter market in the United States for feedlots with capacity of 1,000 or more head totaled 8.96 million head on July 1, 1997, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service. The inventory was 14 percent above July 1, 1996. The inventory included 5.41 million steers and steer calves, up eight percent from the previous year. This group accounts for 60 percent of the total inventory. Heifers and heifer calves accounted for 3.50 million head, up 26 percent from 1996.

Placements in feedlots during June totaled 1.44 million, 11 percent above 1996. Net placements were 1.38 million. During June, placements of cattle and calves weighing less than 600 pounds were 308,000, 600-699 pounds were 338,000, 700-799 pounds were 460,000, and 800 pounds and greater were 338,000.

Marketings of fed cattle during June totaled 2.04 million, two percent above 1996. The year-to-year relationship between fed cattle marketed and commercial slaughter continues to be affected by the decrease in cattle imported from Canada that are going directly to slaughter.

Good For People, Plants And the Planet®

Ideas for returning CRP acres to crops

Research conducted by the Lincoln County CRP Project in southwest Minnesota in 1995-1996 produced some suggestions for returning Conservation Reserve Program land to production, according to an article in Walking Your Fields, published by Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc.

The four-step program that seems to work best includes:

(1) Level fields with a light disc;

(2) Eliminate or reduce existing vegetation in late July or August through mowing or haying;

(3) Apply Roundup or Roundup + 2,4-D at high labeled rates in late September;

(4) Chisel plow or moldboard plow in October or early November.

Existing contracts, however, prohibit steps one and two. It is not permitted to perform any tillage, including leveling of a field until October 1. Working within the restrictions of the current CRP guidelines, the following suggestions may be of some benefit:

(1) Get information on the program permitting haying or grazing of CRP land. Cutting or grazing CRP land will not only help livestock producers but will increase the effectiveness of herbicide application in September. Weigh this benefit versus the reduction in payment. Plan on three to five weeks of regrowth prior to making a Roundup application in September for optimum control of brome grass.

(2) Herbicides can be sprayed any time after August 1, even on fields with CRP contracts not submitted for early release. However, if your field is extremely uneven because of pocket gopher activity, it could be hard on equipment and the operator to make the applications. For heavy infestations of Canada thistle or common milkweed, applications of 2,4-D in mid to late August may provide the least costly, most effective control.

In Pennington county some 60,000 acres of land under current CRP contract will be coming out of the program at the end of September without qualifying for renewal. A number of landowners who were close to meeting the criteria needed for acceptance are considering reapplying in the next sign-up period, expected later this fall.

For a producer looking for more acres to operate, this situation could pose new opportunities. It is suggested, however, that producers be realistic about the challenges and expenses associated with bringing this land back into production.

Heat, humidity push crop development

Heat and humidity helped crops develop quickly, but excessive rainfall and strong windstorms left much of the state hoping for some drier and calmer days, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service.

As of Friday, July 18, topsoil moisture was rated one percent very short, six percent short, 67 percent adequate, and 26 percent surplus. Soil moisture conditions vary greatly. Some localities were bypassed by recent storms and are still in a short soil moisture situation. However, problems arising from having more than enough water are more prevalent. The second cutting of hay has been stalled by wet conditions in many areas.

Average soybean height as of Sunday was 17 inches, the same as the five-year average height for that date. Also equaling the five-year average is the 44 percent of soybeans blooming. Root rot and other problems related to wetness have been showing up in some soybean fields.

Corn height gained 16 inches during an excellent growing week to reach an average of 59 inches, exceeding the height a year ago by three inches, and surpassing the five-year average by six inches. Corn is 13 percent tasseling, the same as a year ago, but 12 points behind the five year average.

Small grains have now headed in most areas. An estimated 18 percent of spring wheat is turning ripe versus 27 percent for the five-year average.

Questions And Answers

Q I locked my keys in my car. Can you "break" into it?

A Yes. However, professional locksmiths do not break into cars since "breaking in" indicates damage is done. Most locksmiths have 24-hours mobile emergency service just for this type of problem. They have the proper tools and, more importantly, the knowledge to open your car without damage. Consumers should be aware that attempts to open a locked car by anyone other than a locksmith could result in severe damage to the lock mechanism. A locksmith can also replace lost car keys from either the key code number or by hand fitting the key to the locks.

Dairy producers have a better chance of harvesting at the right time with haylage than when putting up dry hay. Extension agronomist Neil Martin points out that drying time for haylage is shorter by 1 day or more and field losses of haylage are also less than those for hay.

Success is not a matter of farm size. Both small and large farms can be profitable. Financial goals and values are personal matters, so don't try to fit into the neighbor's definition of success any more than you would try to fit into his work boots. A successful business is profitable.

Chris Mills selected as Northland coach

Chris Mills has been named head baseball coach at Northland Community and Technical College, it was announced this week by school officials. He succeeds Terry Wiseth.

A Detroit Lakes High School graduate, Mills earned all-conference honors while playing baseball at Northland in 1989 and 1990. He served as a student-assistant to the Pioneers' football team in 1991.

Following his graduation from Northland, Mills transferred to Bemidji State University, where he was a two-year letter winner with the Beavers' baseball team. For the past four years Mills has been a teacher in Benson, where he has served as assistant high school baseball coach since 1993 and head American Legion coach in 1995 and 1996. He has also coached junior high basketball and football.

Mills will not be a member of the Northland faculty. He recently accepted a position with the Franklin Middle School administrative staff.

"I am excited about the opportunity to return to Thief River Falls and be involved with this program," said Mills in a press release from Northland. "I have big shoes to fill in replacing Terry, but I feel we can be competitive with the Pioneer tradition that coach Wiseth has established."

Wiseth announced this spring that he was stepping down as the Pioneers' head coach after nearly a decade at the helm for family reasons. "We have five children at home, and I want the opportunity to spend more time with them." He will continue to serve as an assistant coach on the Northland football staff.

"We are thrilled to have someone of Chris's caliber to step in and replace Wiseth, who has done an outstanding job in developing and maintaining our program over the past nine years," said Northland Athletic Director Rick Nelson. "We feel Chris is an excellent choice for the 1998 season, and look forward to working with him to continue the tradition that Wiseth established."

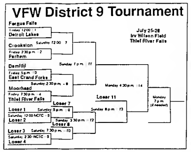
VFW District 9 Tournament



TRF VFW drops two one-run ball games

■ Regular season finale vs. EGF

East Grand Forks pulled out a pair of one-run wins over Thief River Falls Monday in a VFW baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

The visitors won the opener 4-3 and took the nightcap 7-6.

It was the final regular season outing for the Thief River Falls 16-year-olds, who are playing host to the eight-team, double-elimination VFW District 9 tournament this weekend.

Before meeting East Grand Forks, a shorthanded Thief River Falls squad had to forfeit a pair of July 17 games at Bemidji.

Thief River Falls carried a 6-14 record into the district tournament. The team played just four games during a rain-plagued month of July.

Fergus Falls carried the No. 1 seed in the District 9 tournament, followed by 2. Bemidji; 3. Moorhead; 4. Crookston; 5. Perham; 6. Thief River Falls; 7. East Grand Forks, and 8. Detroit Lakes.

All District 9 games, outside of two Saturday loser-out match-ups that will take place at the Northland Community and Technical College diamond, will be played at Irv Wilson Field.

Jason Kempert hit a three-run home run and Blaise Larson had a bases-loaded triple Tuesday as Thief River Falls doubled host Roseau 19-8 in amateur baseball.

The victory in the 1997 regular season finale supplied the Thieves with a winning record (9-8) and produced the first Thief River Falls victory in four starts against the Royals, who won the earlier games 5-4, 7-4 and 20-0.

A three-team, round-robin district tournament featuring Thief River Falls, Warroad and Roseau will get begin tonight (Saturday) when the Thieves and Muskies meet at 7 p.m. in Red Lake Falls.

Play resumes Sunday at Roseau, with the Thieves facing the Royals at 3 p.m. and the Muskies playing the Royals at 7.

Post 117 splits pair against Crookston

A 14-game Thief River Falls losing streak ended with a 10-5 win over Crookston Tuesday in the first half of a Ninth District American Legion baseball doubleheader. However, the Post 117 winning streak promptly ended with a 13-3 second-game defeat.

"I was really happy with the first game," said Thief River Falls coach Bruce Elseth. "We hit the ball, and we played well in the field. But the second game, I don't know what happened. Our pitchers were having a little trouble, and our defense ended up back on their heels. We just didn't make the plays."

Thief River Falls banged out 11 first-game hits and played error-free ball. Post 117 pitchers Paul Frank and Derek Berg gave up only five hits, but walked eight. The defense, however, prevented those walks from turning into runs.

It was the first Thief River Falls win since Post 117 beat Crookston 8-7 in the first half of a June 30 doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

That performance went out the window in Game 2 when Thief River Falls was charged with seven errors.

The split put Post 117 at 4-29 heading into a scheduled regular season finale at home against Detroit Lakes Thursday.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates at your job at no obligation to you.

Lakehead Pipeline has open house at Clearbrook

By Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Out of sight, out of mind. We don't see them. We rarely think about them, but day and night, quiet steel pipes transport the crude oil and petroleum products that sustain our industry, our economy and our individual households. For many people in northwestern Minnesota, the pipeline exists within yards of their backdoors.

Open House in Clearbrook

After nearly 50 years of operation, the Clearbrook Terminal held its first open house for people of the community.

The approximately 275 guests were greeted by company employees and executives from throughout the organization and treated to a locally catered meal set up under a large white canopy.

Tours were given approximately every 20 minutes where the facility operations were explained and questions were answered. Manned informational displays were set up for viewing and additional questions were answered.

How the pipeline works

Crude oil is collected by small piping averaging six inches in diameter and transported to refineries in truck lines as large as 54 inches.

Petroleum product pipelines transport more than 50 grades of refined products from the refineries to marketing terminals and military bases around the country. From there, the products are delivered to local retail outlets, such as gas stations, or to manufacturing plants by truck or rail.

In general, pipeline operators do not own the products they ship, but provide transportation services only.

Petroleum moves through a pipeline under pressure from pumps located at originating stations and "booster" stations placed anywhere from 20 to 100 miles apart.

Since the first pipeline was constructed in Titusville, PA in 1865, pipeline design and operation have advanced to the point where pipelines are by far the safest mode for transporting petroleum. They are also the most economical, over long distances of land.

Friends of the Land

In order to maintain the high standards of safety which keep the pipelines out of the news, scientists and engineers are constantly improving materials and construction techniques while updating safety systems.

The steel pipelines are safe from the most extreme weather conditions. They are also coated with materials designed to eliminate corrosion. These coatings are completed and inspected at the installation site. When the pipe has been welded and x-rayed, it is lowered in and visually inspected.

New pipeline routes are planned to stay away from developed areas whenever possible. Wherever a pipeline is installed or repaired, the earth and soil are replaced and where appropriate, revegetated to return the land to its former condition.

Before a new pipeline goes into service, it is "hydrostatically" or water-tested to well above the operating presssure it will need to withstand. The water used in the process is cleaned and recycled.

An internal inspection device called a "smart pig" is pushed through the pipeline to measure and analyze conditions along the pipeline's inner and outer walls. The device electronically reads and records the slightest change in wall thickness, pinpointing potential problems before they become leaks.

Living in Harmony

By knowing where pipelines are located and how to treat them, we can continue to live safely and peacefully with the pipeline system.

This aerial view of Lakehead Pipeline's tank farm near Clearbrook was taken during the 1994 expansion. Since, an additional storage tank has been added to total nine tanks at the facility. Ranging in size from 90 to 210 feet in diameter, the tanks store anywhere from 2.26 million to 16.4 million gallons of crude oil. The tanks feature external floating roofs which rise and fall according to the volume of the tank.

Repairs to the tailrace at the reservoir dam in Thief River Falls are underway currently. Work includes stabilizing a wall on the west side, resurfacing some cement walls, and rebuilding an abutment. To accomplish the repairs, metal posts have been driven into the river bed below the tailrace, and water pumped out of the area. The work was required upon the conclusion of an inspection five years ago, and will cost about $99,000. The dam will undergo another inspection this year. Officials say it is in relatively good shape.

PKM Electric works to rebuild its system

To the untrained eye, everything on the PKM Electric Cooperative system will appear normal by year end, according to manager Chuck Riesen, but work on repairing the devastating damage of last April's ice storm will go on through 1998 and possibly into 1999.

The storm which swept into northwestern Minnesota from North Dakota on the April 5 and 6 weekend caused damage estimated at $7 million to $9 million to the distribution system of the cooperative headquartered at Warren.

Riesen said the cooperative is finishing a pole and line inspection with an Inspector from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and beginning work on the paperwork for that agency. It is expected that FEMA will provide a substantial amount of the rebuilding cost for the PKM system.

"Without the benefit of a final accounting, we will stick with our estimate of more than 2,500 poles that will eventually be replaced, along with 1,100 cross-arms," the manager said. "There were 2,000 to 3,000 conductor (line) breaks."

Riesen said the procedure followed in restoring the system has been in accordance with priorities for public and property safety, reliability and service capacity. Removal of downed poles and conductor and restoration of the system neutral (bottom wire) have been worked on continually since the storm. The system neutral is necessary for safety, sectionalizing the line and stabilizing voltage.

Twenty contract workers from three contractors are making excellent progress in those areas of removal and restoration, Riesen said.

"Since most of the scheduled construction projects have been in the responsive mode rather than reactionary, we are not deferring any work that needs to be done because of storm repair," he added.

"Spring flooding caused damage to yard pole services and load management equipment on members' premises. This is being replaced as members return to their homes. So far, we have been able to respond on a timely basis to our members' service requests. If necessary, we will hire contractors to assist with this work."

Next on the schedule of priorities is the restoration of feeder lines—the three-phase lines from the cooperative's substations—and tie lines. Following the storm, the PKM system was operating at reduced capacity due to the downed power lines. Harvest and the heating season will require normal feeds and most of the system capacity.

EWP easement program for ag land has Aug. 6 deadline

As a result of damages caused by this spring's floods, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has designated $15 million for an Emergency Watershed Protection (EWP) easement program. Deadline to make application for participation in the program is Wednesday, August 6.

Potentially eligible lands include agricultural lands adjoining a river, stream, watercourse or lake that have been subject to repeated flood damage or where flooding can be expected to recur. Non-agricultural land may be included in the offer as a buffer area.

The program is being conducted through the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS). During the sign-up, landowners must indicate what land they would like to enter into the program and prove their ownership of the land offered. NRCS staff will then determine whether or not the land is eligible and, if it is eligible, complete the evaluation process.

Depending on the characteristics of the land being offered, a choice of three categories will be offered for perpetual easement under the EWP. A single flood plain easement acquisition may consist of one, two or all three categories.

The categories allow the landowner to:

(1) Retire land completely from production and return it to a natural state to optimize flood protection and fish and wildlife values;

(2) Restrict the production of agricultural commodities, but allow compatible uses such as haying, grazing or non-commercial timber harvest according to an approved plan; or

(3) Retain the right to crop, hay, graze or harvest timber while the United States acquires all other land use, development and hydrology rights.

Landowners may still retain the right to control access to the property and the rights to hunting, fishing and undeveloped recreational activity.

Easement value will be based on the agricultural market value of the land as determined by NRCS formula. EWP funds may cover up to 100 percent of the cost of the easement land payment in categories 1 and 2 and 50 percent for category 3 and will also cover the cost of land treatment practices in categories 1 and 2. All administrative, survey, appraisal, title insurance and other costs associated with establishing

Neighbors reunited in Karlstad after buyout

Karlstad - Milo and Ruby Dybedahl and Mike and Rose Lorenson are neighbors again in rural Karlstad after their floodplain homes in Bowesmont ND were bought out by FEMA.

The Dybedahls returned to Bowesmont after the ice storm and about 10 days before the flood. During the flood, they spent 10 days with a daughter in Spearfish, SD, another 10 days with a daughter in Roseau and then returned home to clean house. Water and the buyout helped them to decide to move, and they found their present home while staying in Roseau.

Mike and Rose Lorenson and sons Nick,12, and Mark, 9, had the highest house in Bowesmont, but this year it wasn't high enough. The FEMA buy out was two years in the making, and the Lorensons, in the meanwhile, had looked around for new housing. Karlstad wasn't too strange to them as they had started their married life in Karlstad in the house next door to their current home. North Star News

Easement program deadline

the easement will be paid by NRCS.

According to NRCS personnel, floodplain easements can be an effective alternative in reducing risks to life and property on land that frequently floods. The easements add to the protection of lives and property from floods, retard soil erosion, eliminate future disaster payments that would be applicable to the easement area and improve water quality in the area.

There is no acreage restriction in the program. Easements are perpetual and paid on a one-time basis. They transfer with the property to succeeding owners and the landowners are responsible for property taxes on the land.

Landowners who apply for the program by the August 6 deadline will not be obligated to commit to the easement until the evaluation has been approved by state and federal NRCS offices and an offer extended for the easement. Those who do not apply by the deadline will lose their eligibility to participate in this program.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Soon there will be oodles of good vegetables just ready for eating. Today's recipes will give you some ways to get all those vitamins and minerals into your family with no complaints.

This large salad is easy to serve because most of the preparation is done the day before serving.

LAYERED HAM SALAD
1 (10 ounce) package frozen peas
1/2 medium head iceberg lettuce, crisped
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 large red pepper, seeded and chopped
1 container (1 pint) cherry tomatoes, halved
1 large cucumber, seeded and thinly sliced
1 cup sliced green onions with tops
1 pound unsliced boiled ham cut into 2 1/2 by 1/4 inch strips
1 1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup bottled oil and vinegar salad dressing

Day ahead: Cook frozen peas as directed on package, omitting butter. Drain. Tear lettuce into bite-sized pieces. Reserve 2 tablespoons cheese.

In large salad bowl, layer, in order, lettuce, remaining cheese, red pepper, half of tomatoes, cucumber, remaining tomatoes and green onions. Arrange peas around edge of dish and place ham strips in center.

Spoon on mayonnaise and spread to edge to cover entire surface of salad. Cover and refrigerate overnight.

Just before serving, pour bottled dressing over mayonnaise and sprinkle with reserved cheese. To serve, do not toss — spoon down around layers. (Serves 10.)

Use those delicious summer vegetables to make this tasty salad:

SUMMER GARDEN SALAD
1 (7 ounce) package elbow macaroni, cooked (2 cups uncooked)
1/2 cup mixed salad dressing as directed on package (Italian or garlic and herbs)
1/2 lemon, grated peel and juice
2 cups spinach or romaine lettuce, cut into thin strips
1 medium zucchini or cucumber, sliced
10 to 12 cherry tomatoes, halved
6 radishes, sliced
2 to 3 onions, sliced
1 cup green or red cabbage, cut thinly
1/2 cup grated carrots

Prepare macaroni and drain.

Blend salad dressing and lemon juice and peel. Combine macaroni and vegetables and toss well with dressing. Chill 1 hour.

There are several taco salads around, but this one is a little different - serve with side dishes of sour cream and other Mexican goodies to make it special.

TACO SALAD
1 head lettuce
1 green pepper, diced
1 medium onion, diced
1/2 cup cheddar cheese, grated
2 hard cooked eggs, diced
2 tomatoes, diced
1 can chili beans, drained
1 bag taco chips, broken
1 pound hamburger
1 large bottle taco sauce

Brown hamburger, breaking it into small pieces. Saute onion and green pepper with hamburger, if desired. Drain.

Tear lettuce into small pieces. Add remaining ingredients except chips and dressing and toss.

Just before serving add dressing and chips and toss until ingredients are coated with dressing. (Salad serves 8 or more.)

This salad is just the thing for you healthy broccoli lovers - use half broccoli, half cauliflower if you like:

BROCCOLI SALAD
1 1/2 pounds fresh broccoli, chopped into small pieces
1 medium onion, chopped
5 slices crisp bacon, crumbled
1 cup sunflower seeds
1 cup golden raisins
1 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup sugar

Toss broccoli, onion, bacon, sunflower seeds and raisins.

Bake dressing of mayonnaise and sugar and pour over mixture. Chill before serving.

Gould takes part in summer study program in Japan

Kelly Gould, daughter of Tim and Sharon Gould of Sauk Rapids and formerly of Thief River Falls, is spending the summer in Okinawa, Japan, through the Camp Adventure program based at the University of Northern Iowa.

Kelly is a senior at Hamline University in St. Paul, majoring in Women's Studies and Sociology and planning to graduate this December. She is serving as a day care counselor for five and six-year-old children in Okinawa. The foreign study program is student-managed and focuses on research, scholarship, teaching and public service, integrating theory with practice in the delivery of services to school-age youth.

Host families still needed for foreign students

Students from many European, Asian and South American countries are waiting to hear that they have a host family in the United States for the 1997-98 school year, according to Donna Nelson of rural Middle River, area coordinator for Council for Educational Travel, USA (CETUSA).

Students are between 15 and 18 years of age and screened for maturity, academic and English language abilities. They have medical insurance, bring their own spending money and come to the US for a semester (five months) or an entire school year.

Host families provide room and board and a family atmosphere and may deduct a $50 per month charitable donation from their income tax for each month the student lives in their home.

For more information, contact Mrs. Nelson at 218-459-3329 or the Minnesota office toll free at 1-888-238-8728.

Pageant judges clinic planned Saturday, Aug. 9

For all individuals interested in becoming officially qualified to judge local Minnesota pageants affiliated with the Miss America organization, a judges' clinic will be conducted Saturday, August 9, from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. at the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce office.

Interested persons need to be at least 21 years of age and residents of Minnesota. They should bring their valid driver's license or photo identification card with them to the clinic August 9.

The training is free and open to the public. Due to the distance from Thief River Falls to the state Miss Minnesota Pageant office in Austin, the usual required two-session clinic is being compressed into one session.

The clinic is being hosted by the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce and the Miss Thief River Falls Scholarship Pageant Committee. To register as a participant or for more information contact Nicole Carver at the Chamber of Commerce office, phone 218-681-3720.

ASK YOUR LOCKSMITH
Questions And Answers

Q I have a deadbolt that worked fine when I locked it this morning. But now when I put my key in, the key just spins around and the door is still locked. Can you help me?

A Yes. Your professional locksmith can get you in. Sometimes it can be done without damaging the lock, but if the lock must be sacrificed, he usually will be able to replace it on the spot, keying it back to your original key. Then he will attempt to discover what caused the lock to break. If the lock was not installed correctly, he may have to make adjustments to either the lock and or the strike plate on the door jamb to correct the problem. Be assured that he will do his utmost to solve the problem so you won't have another lockout.

Wisdom Of State Lottery Questioned

In its recent issue of Fiscal Focus, the Minnesota Taxpayers Association questions the value of the Minnesota State Lottery as a revenue producing entity for the state.

The association's study shows that out of $52,821,596,000 (that's $52 billion dollars) that the state has collected in non-dedicated general fund revenue from April of 1990 through June of 1996, only $319 million (that's million dollars) has flowed into the general revenue fund of the state from the lottery and not been used for expenses directly related to the lottery. The amount is six-tenths of one per cent of the total revenue from all sources—scarcely a bonanza by any stretch of the imagination.

Even that amount may not be too bad, however, considering that no revenue from the lottery was allocated to the general fund when the state lottery was foisted on the electorate in the November 8 election of 1988. But it is hardly the stuff that would make a legislator's heart beat faster in anticipation of mega bucks to spend for the salvation of the state.

In the November 8, 1988 election, Minnesota voters approved two related constitutional amendments. Amendment No. 1 on the ballot established a state environmental trust fund. Amendment No. 3 permitted the state constitution to be amended to authorize a lottery operated by the state.

Prior to the election, an official state explanation of the proposed amendments stated:

"In chapter 690, the Legislature also adopted statutory provisions which will be effective only if the people ratify the proposed amendment. The statutory provisions would, among other things, require that during the first five full fiscal years in which proceeds from the lottery are received, the net proceeds from the state-operated lottery would be shared equally by the Minnesota Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund and the Greater Minnesota Corporation Fund. Thereafter, as determined by law each biennium, up to one-half of the net proceeds of the state-operated lottery must be credited to each of the two funds."

We differ with the Fiscal Focus article which states: "One of the main benefits advocates used to convince voters to pass the lottery amendment was that some of the proceeds would be devoted to an environmental trust fund, but the impression remained among many voters that proceeds not so dedicated would also help reduce their tax burden."

Our belief is that rural residents were swayed to buy into the state lottery scheme with the expectation rural areas would benefit from the Greater Minnesota Corporation Fund. The misperception about reducing the tax burden came just a few months later when the legislature turned its back on the Greater Minnesota Corporation, ignored the five-year distribution mandate, and claimed the lion's share of lottery proceeds for the general fund.

"Recent data from the office of the Minnesota State Lottery shows that while net proceeds from the lottery have been fairly steady since its inception in 1990," Fiscal Facts states, "the overall impact on Minnesota's general fund has been negligible." The gross revenues are impressive enough—over $2 billion have been collected from the sale of lottery tickets from its inception in April of 1990 through the end of Fiscal Year 1996. Even so, after prizes were claimed, administrative expenses were paid, and the dedicated funds were transferred to the Environmental Trust Fund, only $319 million flowed into the general revenue fund of the state...."

The MTA study showed total lottery sales during that period of $2,058,752,137 and other income of $10,514,299 for total income of $2,069,266,436. The lottery paid out in prizes $1,202,431,393 and retailer commissions and incentives of $115,131,008. Administrative expenses were $234,990,917 and repayment of a start-up loan required $8,297,193. The lottery provided $3,415,000 to fund compulsive gambling programs.

Net lottery proceeds after expenses totaled $505,001,025, of which $149,251,460 went into the environmental trust fund and $319,152,533 (more than twice as much) into the general fund. The Greater Minnesota Corporation named so prominently as a beneficiary in statutory provisions of the amendment no longer exists.

"Clearly, the lottery has not been a gold mine for the state," Fiscal Focus says. "Given the additional social problems it causes (witness the expenditures for compulsive gambling), not to mention the $2 billion that could have been spent on something else by lottery players, and it is easy to question the wisdom of the state's involvement in such an enterprise."

Men Have More Brain Cells Than Women. So?

According to results of a research project led by Bente Pakkenberg, a female neurologist at Copenhagen Municipal Hospital in Denmark, men on average have about four billion more brain cells than women.

The conclusions came from an examination of the brains in 94 cadavers of people aged 20 to 90. The average number of brain cells in males was 23 billion while the female average was 19 billion.

Asked what males might be doing with the surplus cells, Pakkenberg said that "Right now, it's a mystery. The knowledge we already have shows men are not smarter than women."

It is obvious that the study was not nearly definitive enough to provide a basis for any conclusions. The brains studied may not have been properly categorized and came only from adults.

This leaves room for speculation that: (1) Newborn males and females have equal brain cells, but females burn up a portion of their allocation in the frustration of dealing with males; or (2) if the cadavers of people used in the study were mostly those of people who had been married, the males may have developed the extra cells figuring out ways to avoid doing all the projects their wives used 19 billion brain cells to devise for them to do.

Moorhead beats TRF 14-0

Moorhead overwhelmed Thief River Falls 14-0 Thursday in the opening round of the 1997 Ninth District Division I American Legion baseball tournament being played at Stauss Park in East Grand Forks.

"I thought we were ready to play, but when the game started, it was a different story," said Thief River Falls coach Bruce Elseth, whose team fell to 4-32 with the loss.

It was the Blues' fifth win of the season over Post 117, with Moorhead sweeping 12-0, 4-1 and 10-0, 3-2 regular season doubleheaders.

Thief River Falls picked up just three hits and committed eight errors. Moorhead collected 11 hits and played error-free ball.

"Moorhead never makes errors," quipped Elseth. "They're tough."

Defending champion Detroit Lakes was the No. 1 seed in the seven-team, double-elimination state tournament-qualifying event. Moorhead had the No. 2 seed, followed by East Grand Forks, Fergus Falls, Roseau, Crookston, and Thief River Falls.

Ada hosting regional baseball tournament

Thief River Falls plays Crookston at 1 p.m. and Warroad takes on Ada at 4 o'clock today (Saturday) in opening round regional amateur baseball tournament action at Ada.

The double-elimination event will match first-round winners at 1 p.m. and first-round losers at 4 p.m. Sunday, with a final set of games planned Saturday, Aug. 9. All games will be played at Ada.

Top two teams will advance to the Class C state tournament.

Thief River Falls is 12-8 for the year. The Thieves were 1-2 against Crookston during the regular season. They split a June 13 doubleheader, losing 13-2 and winning 5-3, then dropped a 6-3 single-game meeting July 16.

There were two Thief River Falls vs. Ada match-ups during the regular season, with the Thieves winning both – 13-7 on June 18 and 14-6 on June 23.

Thief River Falls is 5-0 against Warroad this summer, winning regular season games by the scores of 2-1 on June 21, 8-7 July 6 and 12-6 July 9. The two teams also met twice in district tournament play, with the Thieves winning 10-6 and 9-7 for the title.

Manager Howard Dalager announced that the Thieves' pitching staff has been bolstered with the addition of Josh Stromlund and Chad Degerness, who were drafted from the Roseau roster after the Royals, the No. 1 seed heading into the three-team, round-robin district tournament, were eliminated by losses to Warroad and Thief River Falls.

Thieves top Muskies to win district crown

Winning pitcher Steve Burslie hit a grand slam home run as Thief River Falls defeated Warroad 9-7 Monday to wrap up a district tournament-winning amateur baseball performance.

Both teams will compete at the regional level today (Saturday) and Sunday in Ada, where they will join the host A's and Crookston in Class C state tournament-qualifying round-robin playoff format.

The Thieves are 12-8 for the year after sweeping through the three-team, round-robin district competition with wins over Warroad 10-6 Saturday, Roseau 12-5 Sunday and Warroad again on Monday. The Muskies outlasted the top-seeded Royals 12-11 in a 10-inning Sunday match-up.

Thief River Falls was the home team in both games against Warroad, but because of scheduling conflicts at Irv Wilson Field, the games were played at Red Lake Falls Saturday and at Warroad Monday. The Sunday games were played at Roseau.

Friends of Old Mill to meet on Thursday, Aug. 7

Friends of Old Mill will discuss a number of items relating to the Old Mill State Park at a meeting slated for Thursday, August 7, at 5 p.m. at the park picnic shelter. There will be a potluck picnic meal and cake served.

Membership fees in the group are $5 per calendar year and park manager Mary Broten encourages all persons interested in the park to become members and assist with their time and support.

Discussion items include the funded park visitor services building with guest speaker John Winter, Region I parks supervisor, damages to the park from the past two spring floods and repair progress report; historic WPA dam repairs needed and proposed spillway removal; update on volunteer projects completed in the park this year, flour grinding day events planned, ceiling fan installation in the picnic shelter; music festival and creameries picnic 1997 reports and 1998 planning suggestions; and future projects at the park.

Old Mill State Park was formed in 1937 in response to the interest of local concerned citizens and is a local recreation resource for residents of northwest Minnesota, the park manager says.

"Today fees collected provide only about 30 percent of the funds needed for the entire Minnesota state park system of 66 parks," Broten adds. "However, due to ever increasing recreation demands, funding for many of the small parks, like Old Mill, has not been sufficient to maintain facilities and services. The remaining funds needed for operating, preventive maintenance and improvements are determined by legislative process.

"Due to funding shortfalls, many projects to improve and enhance the facilities and services have not been accomplished for Old Mill State park visitors," Broten said. "Active support is vital to continuation of resource and recreation sites such as Old Mill. Local support in 1934 started the park and local support can make improvements that will enhance the beautiful natural and cultural features present and increase the accessibility for all park visitors."

and provides a 24-hour telephone number for construction or suspected damage to the line. Before anyone digs, the company must be called so it can send a representative to mark the exact location of the pipe.

Third party damage is a safety concern. Accidents occur when property owners or builders "encroach" on rights of way through construction or excavations.

In addition to electronically monitoring the lines, pipeline operators survey the pipelines by air, motor vehicles and by "walking the line."

Living with pipelines requires a spirit of goodwill and cooperation. Companies offer publications and public information programs to keep people aware of industry activities, emergency response procedures and safety guidelines.

Lakehead Partnership

Lakehead Pipe Line Partners, L.P. is a publicly held master limited partnership which owns the United States portion of the world's longest liquid petroleum pipeline. Combined with the Canadian portion of the pipeline system owned by Interprovincial Pipe Line, Inc., the operationally integrated pipeline systems span 3,200 miles across North America.

Preference units of Lakehead Pipe Line Partners, L.P. are traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the Symbol LHP.

Over 80 percent of the limited partnership interest is held by individual investors with the remaining 18 percent owned by IPL Energy Inc. of Calgary, Alberta, through its wholly owned subsidiary IPL Energy (U.S.A.) Inc., which, through service agreements, operates the Lakehead system.

Lakehead System

The Lakehead system is in the United States and spans approximately 1,750 miles from the international boundary near Neche, ND to the international boundary near Marysville, MI, along with another pipeline system in the Buffalo, NY area. The system delivers approximately 70 percent of the crude oil refined in Minneapolis/St. Paul, 40 percent in Chicago and 100 percent in both Wisconsin and Ontario.

Deliveries average over 1.5 million barrels a day. It takes over 12 million barrels of liquid petroleum to fill the pipeline.

Fifty-eight electric pump stations along the system keep the petroleum moving efficiently through the system.

Three terminals located in Superior, WI, Griffith, IN and Clearbrook provide storage for over 380 million gallons of crude oil in 45 tanks which range in size from 90 to 210 feet in diameter. Depending on their size, individual tanks are capable of holding anywhere from 2.26 million to 16.4 million gallons of crude oil.

Clearbrook Terminal

The Clearbrook terminal is home to nine storage tanks and has been operating for nearly 50 years.

The design, construction, maintenance and operation of all pipeline facilities including tanks connected to the pipeline are regulated by the U.S. Department of Transportation, Office of Pipeline Safety. The construction and operation of facilities is also subject to federal and state safety and environmental law, regulation and permitting.

Built-In Safety

Safety awareness is integral to every aspect of pipeline operations and business practices.

Lakehead builds in safety measures including a containment dike to hold 110 percent of the capacity of the tanks. The tanks, constructed of thick steel walls, feature external floating roofs which rise and fall according to the volume of oil in the tank and tank rim fire protection systems. They are continually maintained and inspected to ensure high integrity standards.

Lakehead's tank farm safety program incorporates high operating standards with comprehensive maintenance, which includes 24-hour a day computerized monitoring by trained operotors.

Lakehead operates at or above industry standards for environmental protection including standards for air emissions. Air emissions are well below regulatory standards in Clearbrook.

Lakehead works closely with local emergency responders and regulatory agencies in preparing for an unlikely accident.

The company safety theme is "Safety is everyone's responsibility." A sign posted at the Clearbrook terminal states that their employees have worked 6,324 consecutive days without a lost time accident. That's over 17 years!

Northwest Minnesota

IPL Energy (U.S.A.) Inc. is headquartered in Duluth. The District Office managing this area is in Bemidji. In addition to the Clearbrook terminal, repair centers are located in Thief River Falls and Viking.

Of Lakehead's 350 employees, nearly 60 are employed in Northwestern Minnesota. Whenever possible, engineers and accountants hired are local college graduates.

Committment to Comrounity

In addition to permanent jobs, Lakehead provides economic benefits to communities along its route through property taxes, temporary construction activity, on-going local purchases and charitable contributions.

Attending Lakehead's open house at Clearbrook were representatives from the Clearbrook and Gonvick fire departments. Lakehead Pipeline donated a welding truck to the Gonvick fire department which has been equipped with "jaws of life" and other emergency equipment. A large sport utility vehicle was donated to the Clearbrook fire department and converted into another emergency response vehicle. Clearbrook also has a brand new fire truck which the fire department was able to purchase in part because of property taxes paid by Lakehead Pipeline.

Obvious was Lakehead Pipeline's commitment to maintaining positive relationships with communities along its system route. The company is pleased to transport crude oil products that are refined into fuel oil to help local farmers run their equipment, communities to heat their homes and schools, counties to resurface asphalt roads and many more daily uses. Lakehead pipeline is growing and looking forward to another 50 years in northwestern Minnesota.

"We have enough underground cable on hand and being delivered to restore feeder lines for peak conditions," Riesen said. "Utili-Trax and Trudell contractors are handling the bulk of the underground replacements.

"Our goal is to have the feeder lines, tie lines and system neutral restored by November. We are still on schedule with that time line, although the roins in mid July did not provide any slack in the schedule. To the untrained eye everything will appear normal by year-end, but thousands of feet of conductor will need to be replaced in 1998 and possibly into 1999."

Prior to the storm the cooperative enjoyed a favoroble financial position. With total costs of the restoration and the amount which FEMA will reimburse still unknown, the manager said he couldn't say with certainty whether the storm damage repair will or will not require a rate adjustment to the cooperative's members.

"If we assume that final costs of the emergency and repair is at the nine million dollar level and the FEMA reimbursement is 75 percent, I believe the balance could be financed with internal cash flows and some short term borrowing," Riesen said.

"Of course, since the cooperative's equity position is already near 50 percent, it may be proper to finance this construction. Unless we experience a significant downturn in revenues, the present rates should service the additional debt."

Although a person might think that after four months the cooperative would have a clearer picture of what the storm did and its overall affect on members and services, Riesen points out that there is no training for what the cooperative experienced in April.

"FEMA reimbursement plays a vital role in the total financial picture and until we complete that process some items are in question," Riesen said. "We believe our plan is orderly and realistic. This is a multi-year project and will require time to restore the system to pre-storm conditions."

Cheryl Lee chosen for school board

Thief River Falls Independent School District 564 went through a lengthy interview process Tuesday night to consider applicants for the position on the board vacated by Dennis Kiesow. Kiesow resigned recently to accept a job in another community.

School board members had hoped that by opening the process and appointing someone to the one-year term it would encourage a number of individuals to apply. They weren't disappointed. Applicants for the one year included Nathan P. Dalager, George A. Davis, Barb Jauquet-Kalinoski, V.B. Kappes, Cheryl Lee, Lyle C. Olson, Peter Severson, Wendell Teigland.

Each candidate was asked a number of questions and given one-half hour. Following the final interview at 9:30 p.m. the board discussed the interviews.

Wednesday morning, the applicants were notified of the board's decision and at about noon Wednesday it was announced that Cheryl Lee had accepted the position upon the recommendation of, the board. Lee has served on the board in the past, including one incomplete term. Lee will serve on the school board through 1998. Her position on the board will be on the November 1998 ballot.

"Hot August Night" at River Road Casino

By Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

For a number of weeks, hot summer days have been spent preparing for one "Hot Summer Night" at the River Road Casino.

"Hot Summer Night '97–Rock and Roll Review" will be an outdoor concert at the River Road Casino from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday, August 16.

John Cafferty and the Beaver Brown Band, the artists behind the "Eddie and the Cruisers" soundtrack, will headline the concert. Also performing will be Rob Caudill and Beatlemania. Caudill is nationally recognized as the best Rod Stewart tribute act in the country. While Beatlemania is neither affiliated with nor endorsed by the Beatles, the group is hailed as the finest impersonating act in the nation. The Front Fenders, Purple Planet and Ponylandozer will also appear at the all-day concert.

The concert will be held in a field west of the casino and many preparations are being made. Hours have been spent cutting, mowing and baling the tall grass that grew in the field. Numerous rolls of fencing will be put up.

A 40 by 40-foot stage, a sound stage, lighting and other equipment has been rented and will be hauled from the Twin Cities. An area crop duster will spray the area for insects two days before the concert.

Booking the entertainment and making most of the arrangements has been the job of River Road Casino marketing director Max Lussier.

In an interview, Lussier explained that at $20 a ticket, the casino does not look for the event to be a money-making venture. Rather, in studying the events of the community and surrounding areas, Max noted that no outdoor concert of this nature took place and thought that it would be a new and enjoyable day of entertainment for area folks of all ages. Pepsi joined the River Road Casino in sponsoring the event.

The interview continued with discussion of the changes and improvements that have taken place at the River Road Casino since it opened its doors in

Over 130 children attended the MinnAqua clinic in Thief River Falls Wednesday, August 6. About 30 fewer children participated in the event, but organizers were still very pleased with the turnout. Numerous volunteers and sponsors helped make it another successful year.

Ancestor of area residents invented adjustable wrench

J. P. Johansson, inventor of the adjustable wrench which he patented in Sweden in 1892, was the only member of his family not to emigrate from Sweden to the United States. His parents and other family members settled near St. Hilaire, and he visited his mother there in 1916 after turning over his company to his son and a business associate. When he died in 1943 at the age of 89, he had patented 118 inventions.

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

When the rest of his family left Sweden for the United States and the St. Hilaire area about 1880, Johan Petter Johansson remained in his home country where he became a noted inventor and industrialist.

His most noted and popular invention was the adjustable wrench which received Swedish Patent No. 4066 in 1892. A copy later made in the United States by the Crescent Tool Company became widely known as the "crescent wrench."

This week Hans E. Soder of Enkoping, Sweden, was in Thief River Falls to meet with descendants of J. P. Johansson, visit the farm of his early relatives and the Clara Church cemetery where several of these family members are buried.

Soder is president of J. P. Johansson Sallskapet, an organization formed to recognize the significance of the Swedish inventor and operate a museum bearing his name which is in the same building as the company—Sandvik Bahco—that manufactures the adjustable wrench in Sweden today. He is responsible for collecting much of the information and artifacts relating to J. P. Johansson and growth of the organization to about 400 members.

In production for the past five years at the Sandvik Bahco company in Sweden is the sixth generation of the wrench which Johansson patented more than a century ago. It features a polymer grip handle and a reversible angled and serrated lower jaw which allows the wrench to double as a pipe wrench.

Over the years the design of the wrench has been modified five times in Sweden. The changes took place in 1910, 1914, 1954, 1984 and 1992. The current design, like most of the others, is made in various sizes from a few inches to a couple of feet in length.

More than 100 million adjustable wrenches have been produced at the shop started by Johansson and its successors during the past 105 years and about 300 people are presently employed at the plant. An estimated 40 million wrenches based on J. P. Johansson's patent are produced annually throughout the world.

Family Connections

Closest surviving relative of J. P. Johansson in this area is Mrs. Bruce (Lois) Higinbotham of Red Lake Falls. Her mother, Alma (Julien) Fellman, was a sister of the Swedish inventor. The Johansson family changed its name to Julien when it arrived in the United States. Alma's husband, Charles Fellman, was the first sheriff in Red Lake county.

Other local relatives include Don and Bruce Erickson, both of Thief River Falls, who are grandsons of J. P.'s sister Tilda. Their brother Robert of St. Paul has been active in assisting Hans Soder and the

Medical center board nominates directors

Northwest Medical Center board of directors nominating committee has nominated Thomas Kays, Ken Froschheiser, Roger DeLap and Lawrence McDowell for three-year terms which will expire in September of the year 2000.

In addition, the committee nominated Gerald Wigness for a one-year term which will expire in September of 1998 to fill the unexpired term of Keith Steva.

On July 22, Randall Bolar, MD, submitted his letter of resignation from the board, whose opportunity to nominate directors closed on July 1. The Northwest Medical Association members' opportunity to nominate directors closed on August 1 with no nominations being received.

Following the September 8 annual meeting of the medical center, the NWMC board would have the opportunity to appoint a physician to the seat left vacant by Dr. Bolar or to operate with only 10 directors.

Biographical sketches of the candidates will be available prior to the medical center's annual meeting, according to Richard Spyhalski, chief executive officer.

Schools need records of immunization

Students in kindergarten and grades seven and 12 have immunization requirements that take effect the first day of school this fall, according to the office of the school nurse for School District 564.

Parents are encouraged to turn in a record of immunization for those students to the school the student will be attending as soon as possible in August.

and provides a 24-hour telephone number for construction or suspected damage to the line. Before anyone digs, the company must be called so it can send a representative to mark the exact location of the pipe.

Third party damage is a safety concern. Accidents occur when property owners or builders "encroach" on rights of way through construction or excavations.

In addition to electronically monitoring the lines, pipeline operators survey the pipelines by air, motor vehicles and by "walking the line."

Living with pipelines requires a spirit of goodwill and cooperation. Companies offer publications and public information programs to keep people aware of industry activities, emergency response procedures and safety guidelines.

Lakehead Partnership

Lakehead Pipe Line Partners, L.P. is a publicly held master limited partnership which owns the United States portion of the world's longest liquid petroleum pipeline. Combined with the Canadian portion of the pipeline system owned by Interprovincial Pipe Line, Inc., the operationally integrated pipeline systems span 3,200 miles across North America.

Preference units of Lakehead Pipe Line Partners, L.P. are traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the Symbol LHP.

Over 80 percent of the limited partnership interest is held by individual investors with the remaining 18 percent owned by IPL Energy Inc. of Calgary, Alberta, through its wholly owned subsidiary IPL Energy (U.S.A.) Inc., which, through service agreements, operates the Lakehead system.

Lakehead System

The Lakehead system is in the United States and spans approximately 1,750 miles from the international boundary near Neche, ND to the international boundary near Marysville, MI, along with another pipeline system in the Buffalo, NY area. The system delivers approximately 70 percent of the crude oil refined in Minneapolis/St. Paul, 40 percent in Chicago and 100 percent in both Wisconsin and Ontario.

Deliveries average over 1.5 million barrels a day. It takes over 12 million barrels of liquid petroleum to fill the pipeline.

Fifty-eight electric pump stations along the system keep the petroleum moving efficiently through the system.

Three terminals located in Superior, WI, Griffith, IN and Clearbrook provide storage for over 380 million gallons of crude oil in 45 tanks which range in size from 90 to 210 feet in diameter. Depending on their size, individual tanks are capable of holding anywhere from 2.26 million to 16.4 million gallons of crude oil.

Clearbrook Terminal

The Clearbrook terminal is home to nine storage tanks and has been operating for nearly 50 years.

The design, construction, maintenance and operation of all pipeline facilities including tanks connected to the pipeline are regulated by the U.S. Department of Transportation, Office of Pipeline Safety. The construction and operation of facilities is also subject to federal and state safety and environmental law, regulation and permitting.

Built-In Safety

Safety awareness is integral to every aspect of pipeline operations and business practices.

Lakehead builds in safety measures including a containment dike to hold 110 percent of the capacity of the tanks. The tanks, constructed of thick steel walls, feature external floating roofs which rise and fall according to the volume of oil in the tank and tank rim fire protection systems. They are continually maintained and inspected to ensure high integrity standards.

Lakehead's tank farm safety program incorporates high operating standards with comprehensive maintenance, which includes 24-hour a day computerized monitoring by trained operators.

Lakehead operates at or above industry standards for environmental protection including standards for air emissions. Air emissions are well below regulatory standards in Clearbrook.

Lakehead works closely with local emergency responders and regulatory agencies in preparing for an unlikely accident.

The company safety theme is "Safety is everyone's responsibility." A sign posted at the Clearbrook terminal states that their employees have worked 6,324 consecutive days without a lost time accident. That's over 17 years!

Northwest Minnesota

IPL Energy (U.S.A.) Inc. is headquartered in Duluth. The District Office managing this area is in Bemidji. In addition to the Clearbrook terminal, repair centers are located in Thief River Falls and Viking.

Of Lakehead's 350 employees, nearly 60 are employed in Northwestern Minnesota. Whenever possible, engineers and accountants hired are local college graduates.

Committment to Community

In addition to permanent jobs, Lakehead provides economic benefits to communities along its route through property taxes, temporary construction activity, on-going local purchases and charitable contributions.

Attending Lakehead's open house at Clearbrook were representatives from the Clearbrook and Gonvick fire departments. Lakehead Pipeline donated a welding truck to the Gonvick fire department which has been equipped with "jaws of life" and other emergency equipment. A large sport utility vehicle was donated to the Clearbrook fire department and converted into another emergency response vehicle. Clearbrook also has a brand new fire truck which the fire department was able to purchase in part because of property taxes paid by Lakehead Pipeline.

Obvious was Lakehead Pipeline's commitment to maintaining positive relationships with communities along its system route. The company is pleased to transport crude oil products that are refined into fuel oil to help local farmers run their equipment, communities to heat their homes and schools, counties to resurface asphalt roads and many more daily uses. Lakehead pipeline is growing and looking forward to another 50 years in northwestern Minnesota.

"We have enough underground cable on hand and being delivered to restore feeder lines for peak conditions," Riesen said. "Utili-Trax and Trudell contractors are handling the bulk of the underground replacements.

"Our goal is to have the feeder lines, tie lines and system neutral restored by November. We are still on schedule with that time line, although the rains in mid July did not provide any slack in the schedule. To the untrained eye everything will appear normal by year-end, but thousands of feet of conductor will need to be replaced in 1998 and possibly into 1999."

Prior to the storm the cooperative enjoyed a favorable financial position. With total costs of the restoration and the amount which FEMA will reimburse still unknown, the manager said he couldn't say with certainty whether the storm damage repair will or will not require a rate adjustment to the cooperative's members.

"If we assume that final costs of the emergency and repair is at the nine million dollar level and the FEMA reimbursement is 75 percent, I believe the balance could be financed with internal cash flows and some short term borrowing," Riesen said.

"Of course, since the cooperative's equity position is already near 50 percent, it may be proper to finance this construction. Unless we experience a significant downturn in revenues, the present rates should service the additional debt."

Although a person might think that after four months the cooperative would have a clearer picture of what the storm did and its overall affect on members and services, Riesen points out that there is no warning for what the cooperative experienced in April.

"FEMA reimbursement plays a vital role in the total financial picture and until we complete that process some items are in question," Riesen said. "We believe our plan is orderly and realistic. This is a multi-year project and will require time to restore the system to pre-storm conditions."

Booking the entertainment and making most of the arrangements has been the job of River Road Casino marketing director Max Lussier.

In an interview, Lussier explained that at $20 a ticket, the casino does not look for the event to be a money-making venture. Rather, in studying the events of the community and surrounding areas, Max noted that no outdoor concert of this nature took place and thought that it would be a new and enjoyable day of entertainment for area folks of all ages. Pepsi joined the River Road Casino in sponsoring the event.

The interview continued with discussion of the changes and improvements that have taken place at the River Road Casino since it opened its doors in

For weeks, staff at the River Road Casino has been preparing for "Hot August Night '97–Rock and Roll Review." The all-day outdoor concert will take place on Saturday, August 16th. Pictured are (from left) Keith Needeau, Justin Auginash, Max Lussier and Jeff Jourdain. Keith, Justin and Jeff are security guards, and Max is the marketing director at the casino.

Over 130 children attended the MinnAqua clinic in Thief River Falls Wednesday, August 6. About 30 fewer children participated in the event, but organizers were still very pleased with the turnout. Numerous volunteers and sponsors helped make it another successful year.

Ancestor of area residents invented adjustable wrench

J. P. Johansson, inventor of the adjustable wrench which he patented in Sweden in 1892, was the only member of his family not to emigrate from Sweden to the United States. His parents and other family members settled near St. Hilaire, and he visited his mother there in 1916 after turning over his company to his son and a business associate. When he died in 1943 at the age of 89, he had patented 118 inventions.

by Marvin [illegible]
Northern Watch Editor

When the rest of his family left Sweden for the United States and the St. Hilaire area about 1880, Johan Petter Johansson remained in his home country where he became a noted inventor and industrialist.

His most noted and popular invention was the adjustable wrench which received Swedish Patent No. 4066 in 1892. A copy later made in the United States by the Crescent Tool Company became widely known as the "crescent wrench."

This week Hans E. Soder of Enkoping, Sweden, was in Thief River Falls to meet with descendants of J. P. Johansson, visit the farm of his early relatives and the Clara Church cemetery where several of these family members are buried.

Soder is president of J. P. Johansson Sallskapet, an organization formed to recognize the significance of the Swedish inventor and operate a museum bearing his name which is in the same building as the company—Sandvik Bahco—that manufactures the adjustable wrench in Sweden today. He is responsible for collecting much of the information and artifacts relating to J. P. Johansson and growth of the organization to about 400 members.

In production for the past five years at the Sandvik Bahco company in Sweden is the sixth generation of the wrench which Johansson patented more than a century ago. It features a polymer grip handle and a reversible angled and serrated lower jaw which allows the wrench to double as a pipe wrench.

Over the years the design of the wrench has been modified five times in Sweden. The changes took place in 1910, 1914, 1954, 1981 and 1992. The current design, like most of the others, is made in various sizes from a few inches to a couple of feet in length.

More than 100 million adjustable wrenches have been produced at the shop started by Johansson and its successors during the past 105 years and about [illegible] people are presently employed at the plant. An estimated 40 million wrenches based on J. P. Johansson's patent are produced annually throughout the world.

Family Connections

Closest surviving relative of J. P. Johansson in this area is Mrs. Bruce (Lois) Higinbotham of Red Lake Falls. Her mother, Alma (Julien) Fellman, was a niece of the Swedish inventor. The Johansson family changed its name to Julien when it arrived in the United States. Alma's husband, Charles Fellman, was the first sheriff in Red Lake county.

Other local relatives include Don and Bruce Erickson, both of Thief River Falls, who are grandsons of J. P.'s sister Tilda. Their brother Robert of St. Paul has been active in assisting Hans Soder and the

Medical center board nominates directors

Northwest Medical Center board of directors nominating committee has nominated Thomas Kays, Ken Froschheiser, Roger DeLap and Lawrence McDowell for three-year terms which will expire in September of the year 2000.

In addition, the committee nominated Gerald Wigness for a one-year term which will expire in September of 1998 to fill the unexpired term of Keith Steva.

On July 22, Randall Bolar, MD, submitted his letter of resignation from the board, whose opportunity to nominate directors closed on July 1. The Northwest Medical Association members' opportunity to nominate directors closed on August 1 with no nominations being received.

Following the September 8 annual meeting of the medical center, the NWMC board would have the opportunity to appoint a physician to the seat left vacant by Dr. Bolar or to operate with only 10 directors.

Biographical sketches of the candidates will be available prior to the medical center's annual meeting, according to Richard Spylcalski, chief executive officer.

MnDOT closes T.H. 1 east at Oslo Aug. 6

Minnesota Department of Transportation (MnDOT) is notifying the public that a three-mile section of T.H. 1 east of Oslo is scheduled for reconstruction as a result of major damage caused by flooding. This project was originally scheduled to commence on July 22; however, due to a delay in contract approval, the work will begin on August 6. Work on the highway will consist of grading, aggregate base work and bituminous surfacing.

As work begins, MnDOT announced it would close T.H. 1 at Oslo to the east. Signs will be posted indicating the road closure with only local traffic permitted on roads approaching the construction zone.

The project is expected to be completed by September 22, 1997.

Descendents of J. P. Johansson's family in the United States gathered at the home of Jon and Velerie Larson in Thief River Falls Wednesday with Hans Soder, president of the group which sponsors the Johansson museum in Sweden. From left are (front) Mrs. Bruce (Lois) Higinbotham, Red Lake Falls; and Velerie Larson; (back) Bruce Erickson, Thief River Falls; Hans Soder, Sweden; and Donald Erickson, Thief River Falls.

Sallskapet in learning more about the Johansson family which emigrated from Sweden to the United States.

Another local descendant is Mrs. Jon (Valerie) Larson, whose father, Glen Fellman, was Lois Higinbotham's brother. Yvonne Ode of Thief River Falls is a great-niece.

Prolific Inventor

J. P. Johansson's first patent was received April 11, 1885, and was numbered 107. It was for an improved oil cup for steam cylinders. At the age of 13, however, he had built a threshing machine with the gear located in the ground so that a horse could pull it. While the design was simple, it astonished the people in his area near Vargarda in the district of Vastergotland, where his parents were sharecroppers for a large landowner.

Johansson was 32 years old when he received his first patent in 1885. When he died in 1943, a few months before his 90th birthday, he had patented 118 inventions. His last patent is dated Aug. 22, 1940.

Johansson History

Some of the history of J. P. Johansson as excerpted from materials prepared by Soder and others is as follows:

Johan Petter was the oldest of six children, born Dec. 2, 1853. His public schooling was short and irregular as he had to work daily on the farm at a very young age. As a teenager he left home to earn his own living, first working as a steam engine helper at a factory in his home town 50 miles northeast of Gothenburg.

The railroad became a very expansive industry and at the age of 19 Johan began working in that industry. While building the Stockholm-Westeras-Bergslagen (BWS) railroad between Vasteras and Kolback, he lived with the family of a soldier who had worked as a mechanic at the Munktell Factory at Eskilstuna.

"You Are A Mechanic"

"You don't belong here. You are a mechanic," the soldier said after seeing some of Johan's repair work. He wrote a letter of recommendation and after several applications, J. P. was hired at Munktells.

In July of 1886 he opened his own blacksmith shop at Enkoping but there was no water power for large projects and he could not charge enough for the repair of pots, pans and broken locks to be profitable.

The following year he purchased a site about ten kilometers from the center of Enkoping—land which had access to water power and on which the Sandvik Bahco plant and J. P. Johansson museum are now located.

One Tool Replaced Many

In those days, workmen had to cart huge loads of tools to work in order to be sure of having a tool for every dimension of tubing, screw and nut. Johansson could not afford complete sets of tools for himself and his employees, and sought a solution to the problem. By 1888 he had invented and patented the two-handle universal pipe wrench which would work on different sizes of pipe and could be used as a holding tool.

In 1891 he patented a wrench on which both jaws were moveable by means of a screw located in the handle, but he was dissatisfied with the idea. He made one of the two jaws immovable and designed the other so that it could be brought close to the fixed jaw by means of the adjustment screw, thereby being of use on even small nuts and bolts.

By this time Johansson had entered into association with a Stockholm businessman by the name of B. A. Hjort who later acquired exclusive rights to the sale of all of Johansson's products. The business name of B.A. Hjort & Co. was shortened to Bahco, the company which still manufactures the adjustable wrench as a subsidiary of Sandvik.

Tools Were Widely Copied

As soon as the patents expired, Johansson's tool designs were widely copied. The first persons to begin manufacturing the adjustable wrench in the United States were two Swedish immigrants who had taken with them across the Atlantic a set of tools produced at Enkoping.

Design Improvements Made

First improvement in the Bahco adjustable wrench was to change the angle between handle and jaw opening from 45 to 15 degrees, making it of greater use in areas of restricted movement. The next was to create an I-section handle—a wide lengthwise channel in the handle which reduced weight and provided a better grip for the hand. A larger part of the adjusting knurl was exposed to the fingers and on modern models the channel in the handle continues all the way to the knurl without a break.

Johansson's inventions continued into the field of ventilation and the production of fans in the late 1890s, and ventilation equipment and fans comprise the number one line in Bahco's operations.

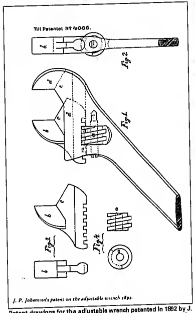
More About Family

Johan's wife Mathilda, who he married in 1881, died in 1914 at the age of 57. They had four children—Tyra (1882-1953), Judit (1887-1971), Hannes (1888-1972) and Ingrid (1890-1954). Three grandchildren are still living in Sweden.

The Johansson home, Villa Fannalund, was built for the family and ready for occupancy in 1905. It was equipped with electrical ceiling lights 10 years before Enkoping was electrified in 1915.

In 1916, two years after his wife's death, Johan transferred the company to his son Hannes Brynge and B.A. Hjort & Co. At the age of 62 he journeyed to the United States to visit his mother, Kristina who had emigrated from Sweden many years before with his father, John.

According to records from Clara Lutheran Church—researched for Hans Soder by Mrs. Clifton (Patsy) Johnson--John Julien died March 18, 1904 and Kristina died Feb. 18, 1922. John Julien's tombstone is in the front row of the Clara cemetery (the church burned many years ago) and in good condition.



J. P. Johansson's patent on the adjustable wrench 1892

Patent drawings for the adjustable wrench patented in 1892 by J. P. Johansson in Sweden bears a remarkable resemblance to its successor models 105 years later. Johansson, whose family moved to the St. Hilaire area around 1880, was issued Patent No. 4066. His first invention patented in 1885 was for an improved oil cup for steam cylinders and had the patent number 107.

Crushed Ritz crackers

Slice zucchini into thin slices. Parboil in salted water, uncovered. Drain. Saute onions in butter. Add mushrooms and saute.

Add cheese, season salt and sour cream to melted butter. Mix with vegetables and heat through. Pour into 1 1/2 to 2 quart casserole. Sprinkle with topping.

Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Every time I cook these snacks, I fail - I'm going to try this recipe to see if it works any better than the others - hope you have good luck:

FADULOUS FRIED ONION RINGS

1 1/2 cups flour

Combine flour and beer in large bowl and mix well. Cover and allow batter to set at room temperature for 3 hours.

Slice onions 1/4 inch thick and separate into rings. Dip in batter and fry in 10 inch skillet with 2 inches of shortening at 370 degrees.

Keep warm in oven on paper towels and cookie sheet at 200 degrees until serving.

This tasty side dish is just right for fish, fowl or meat:

SPINACH STUFFING

1 cup cooked fresh spinach (or 10 ounce package frozen)
1/2 cup margarine
1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
1 cup celery, chopped
1/2 cup onion, chopped
3 cups fresh bread crumbs
1 cup ricotta cheese
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons fresh, chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning or savory salt

Drain spinach thoroughly. If leaves are large, chop coarsely.

Melt butter in saucepan and gently cook mushrooms, celery and onion until onion begins to turn clear. Remove from heat and cool slighdy.

Add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. (Makes 5 cups of stuffing.)

I've never tasted this, but it is a recipe from my German cookbook, "Schmecks Gut," from Ashley, ND - no doubt some of you of German heritage will know what it is - anyway, it sounds delicious:

KOLACHI

2 medium zucchini
1 medium onion
1 large bell pepper
1-2 cloves garlic
1 small can corn, drained, or fresh corn cut from the cob
1 small can tomato sauce
2 cups grated cheddar cheese

Cut zucchini in circles about 1/4 inch thick, quarter onion, cut bell pepper into 16 strips, crush garlic. Add corn and tomato sauce. Do not add water.

Place all ingredients in saucepan, cover tightly, and cook at a simmer 30-40 minutes, until all is cooked the way you like it. Add cheddar cheese and reduce heat or turn off, covering tightly. Serve as soon as cheese is melted (10-15 minutes).

(The cook says sometimes she adds celery or broccoli, depending on what she has. She says it is a good way to use up leftover vegetables, but prefers everything straight from the garden.)

New test offered to test density in bone

Northwest Medical Center will soon offer a new diagnostic test to patients experiencing decreased density in bone. As of August 20, appointments will be available for bone density studies, commonly called DXA scans. This service will be made available with the cooperation of DMS Imaging, a mobile service.

Osteoporosis, a potentially crippling disease characterized by the loss of bone tissue and a susceptibility to fracture, afflicts an estimated 25 million Americans, 80 percent of whom are women. Annually, this disease accounts for 1.3 million debilitating fractures, mostly of the weight-bearing hip and spine.

Osteoporosis has often been called the "silent disease," because it doesn't produce symptoms until a fracture occurs. Approximately 50 percent of women over age 50 are at risk of sustaining an osteoporotic fracture. In fact, a woman's risk of hip fracture alone equals her combined risk of developing breast, uterine and ovarian cancer. In short, the prevalence of osteoporosis has reached epidemic proportions.

Are you at risk for Osteoporosis?

Your chances of developing osteoporosis are greater if you are female and answer "yes" to any of the following questions:

- light skinned
- Thin or small framed
- Approaching or past menopause
- Milk intolerant or have a low calcium intake
- A cigarette smoker or drink alcohol in excess
- Taking thyroid medication or steroid-based drugs for asthma, arthritis or cancer
- A family history of osteoporosis
- Chronic intestinal disorders
- A sedentary lifestyle

As of August 20, 1997, Northwest Medical Center will be offering a new bone densometry service.

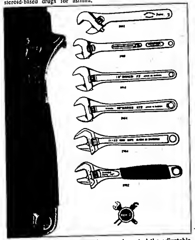
Bone densitometry using DXA is a simple, proven x-ray method. It is a safe, fast, and comfortable way to measure bone density to determine a woman's risk of developing osteoporosis. Patients remain clothed during the test and it is painless-non-invasive, no injections.

If this is a service that you feel could be useful to you; contact your family physician for an appointment. Any questions regarding bone densometry and this new service provided by Northwest Medical Center should be directed to 218-681-4240, extension 477.

Funds available for issues on land use in this area

The 10-county Northern Counties Land Use Coordinating Board (NCLUCB), which includes Marshall and Pennington counties, has established funding to assist member counties in addressing land use issues.

Issues may include planning, education, fund raising and issues analysis. Anyone interested in gaining access to the funding is encouraged to contact Trish Lillberg at the NCLUCB office, 320 West Superior Street, Duluth, MN 55802, phone 218-726-2606.



In the 105 years since J. P. Johansson invented the adjustable wrench, only five model changes have been made by the Bahco company which manufactures it in Sweden. Changes were made in 1910, 1914, 1954, 1984 and 1992. The current model is shown in the bottom illustration and at left. It features a reversible serrated lower jaw which allows it to be used as a pipe wrench.

Newfolden school joins academic League in MN

Minnesota Academic Excellence Foundation (MAEF) has announced Newfolden's membership in the 1997-98 Academic League.

As a service of the Minnesota Academic Excellence Foundation, the Academic League provides assistance to public and non-public schools in planning and delivering organized challenges, recognitions and enrichment opportunities for their elementary and secondary students. Implemented in 1989, the Academic League provides a framework which enables schools to involve students in a multitude of high quality activities.

"The Academic League is about increasing student achievement, primarily through the use of academic activities such as Odyssey of the Mind or Academic Decathalon. Newfolden should be commended for joining other districts in a visible support of valuing these kinds of activities as integral parts of their community's offerings to its children," comments Wendie Palazzo, MAEF Regional Consultant.

"Membership in the Academic League provides a wonderful opportunity for schools to network with each other as well as involve volunteers and community organizations in the promotion of academic excellence," Greg Vandal, co-chair of MAEF's Academic League Council, noted. "When communities encourage and support academic activities and publicly recognize academic achievements, everyone benefits — students, parents, teachers and the community as a whole."

EDITORIAL OPINIONS

NORTHERN WATCH

Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. One More Computer Assault On Privacy

When it comes to individuals' concerns for privacy, personal finances are usually near the top of the list. General opinion is that a person's wealth or lack thereof is his or her own business and not a public matter unless the individual chooses to make it so. Little by little, however, that privacy is being eroded, and the computer is the abrasive force causing the erosion.

In a letter to The Times and Northern Watch, Twila Brase of St. Paul points out yet another blow in the assault on personal privacy.

"Perhaps you, like millions of other Minnesotans, are unaware that the state government has gained new unprecedented access to your banking information—without your consent or notification," she writes.

"In a deal cut between the Attorney General's office, the Bankers Association and the Department of Human Services (DHS), it was determined during the 1997 session that Minnesota financial institutions (FI) could send the "names and other necessary personal identifying information of all account holders" to DHS for state employees to crosscheck the names of every Minnesota citizen with the names of people listed on its child support obligor— people responsible for child support—database.

"A new federal law," Brase explains, "mandates only that financial institutions (banks, life insurance companies, credit unions, mutual fund organizations) send account information to the State on child obligors. Minnesota's new law goes much further, stating that FIs can choose to take the State's obligor list and do the databank match, or they can send information on all people holding accounts in their institution to DHS and let the State do the data match. This is state and financial institution convenience over individual privacy without the consent of the individuals affected."

Now, we can say we don't owe any child support so what's the difference if the Department of Human Services has information on our financial situation? The key lies in that word "database." Information stored in a computer database may be instantly and easily accessed, and as such may be subject to retrieval and use by other agencies of government—or even outside of government.

"Citizens must realize that their financial and personal privacy has just been invaded," Brase writes. "State officials will have access to banking and financial locations of all citizens. The extent of 'other necessary personal identifying information' is vague but will likely include social security numbers. State law says that the information on individuals who are not obligors must be destroyed, however, that dictate is not enforceable on individual DHS employees. Information can be copied and saved."

Once the financial institution has determined the method it will use, it will not be able to change "unless the public authority agrees in writing to a change."

"Even if a customer complains," Brase says, "the financial institution's continued invasion of privacy is backed by law. Where will citizens go for private banking and financial transactions?"

Brase suggests that citizens send a letter to their financial institutions requesting that they not send DHS information on all account holders or to notify them in writing if the institution does choose that reporting method. Persons so notified may want to consider doing their banking business with an institution which respects their privacy.

"They should inform the institution that they are aware it cannot reverse its initial decision without state permission and therefore it should make the right initial decision," Brase suggests.

For all the convenience and technological advances computers offer, they also have virtually unlimited potential to consolidate personal information which can be sold, exchanged, accessed and utilized to the personal detriment of individuals. Privacy should be a closely guarded right that is not allowed to be given away by others.

Hearing The Loons....

Spring issue of Voyageurs Region National Park Association News contains an article regarding the break-down in an attempted compromise on activities in Voyageurs National Park. According to the article, a federally mediated agreement failed to materialize because two of 12 participating members—Citizen's Council for Voyageurs National Park and the Minnesota United Snowmobile Association— rejected the agreement and refused to participate in compromise discussions.

The article seemed to indicate surprise at the two groups' actions and complained about their "bad faith" negotiations. "Bad faith" is usually charged by parties in a dispute when other parties refuse to work toward their objectives. In this case, neither of the two dissenting groups was willing to endorse an "agreement" which did not favorably address their concerns.

Writer of the article, who was not identified, concluded as follows:

"The breakdown of mediation, while greatly disappointing, has made me all the more committed to our efforts to protect Voyageurs National Park. Those who abuse the negotiation process will also, I believe, abuse the park. We cannot let that happen.

"I will do everything I can—and I hope all of you will do the same—to make sure our treasured National Park is protected not only for ourselves, but also for our children and every generation after them.

"We have a beautiful resource. We and our children deserve to experience it without the horrible spoilage and noise of jet-skis, float planes, racing snowmobiles and motorboats! We need to be able to hear the loons and the songs of the sparrows."

That position doesn't sound like it offers a whole lot in the way of compromise either, does it? It seems bad faith negotiations could be charged from either side of the table.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

It seems no matter how distant or close my journeys from Thief River Falls, I am often reminded of my good fortune in growing up, receiving my higher education and raising my children in this community. While a flood evacuation may not seem the easiest of times to review my ties and belief, it did give me pause to articulate that belief.

Since I was a member of the East Grand Forks staff evacuating the Good Samaritan Center, I saw TRF through the eyes of a now visiting professional. During the actual physical evacuation of these elderly residents, Dr. Orley Gunderson arrived in EGF to insure not only our transportation, but to give assurance of a stable evac site.

What I remember of that night is the sound of flood waters, sirens, resident's crying and, in between, an eerie sort of silence in the air. In my estimation, it took real concern and courage to come to us to see to our safety.

When we arrived at NCTC at 3 a.m., we were greeted by volunteers ready and willing to help with a calmness that allayed the nightmare we had just left. Throughout our over three-week stay, surrounding us day and night were community volunteers, not only from nursing but from all professions and walks of life.

I saw former co-workers from NWMC, the clinic and local nursing facilities helping us even after their own work shifts ended or before they began. Gifts and donations flowed as freely as hours given. All seemed eager to lend their hands and hearts. It still touches me when I think of arriving nightly to be greeted by volunteers offering their energy when ours needed bolstering and support.

Hubert H. Humphrey once spoke of a nation's worth being measured by how it treated the most helpless among us. What Thief River Falls helped to do to uphold the dignity and worth of our most elderly and dependent speaks volumes of its community worth. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Sherry L. Solheim

To The Editor:

On behalf of our local United Parcel Service employees of International Brotherhood of Teamsters Local 346, I would like to thank all for the public support and contributions during our work stoppage. Your generosity is very much appreciated.

A special thank-you to the following: Lyle and Lori Olson family, Larry and Lori Panek, Jim and Sue Kotz family, Dick Tyler, Lyndon Pream and Charlie Cornell, union members of C.P. Railroad, Pipefitters Local 126, faculty at NCTC, City of Thief River Falls Local 320 and Welfare Department; and local business employees of: Mark Rislov/Universal Screenprint; Tom Dondelinger/Northern Motors; Pepsi employees and Gary's Bakery.

Sincerely,
Linda Helgeland

Curtis Alan Hed, master of illusions, will present his "Magic of Reading Show" at the Thief River Falls public library on Thursday, August 14, at 2:30 p.m. The magic show, which includes lots of audience participation promotes reading, the importance of books and taking advantage of one's education. A highlight of the show will be the appearance (disappearance?) of Duo, a rare and seldom seen "White Killer Dove." Mr. Hed has been performing for over 20 years. Young people and adults are invited to enjoy the magic. His reading show is made possible with funds provided by the Northwest Regional Library.

One More Computer Assault On Privacy

When it comes to individuals' concerns for privacy, personal finances are usually near the top of the list. General opinion is that a person's wealth or lack thereof is his or her own business and not a public matter unless the individual chooses to make it so. Little by little, however, that privacy is being eroded, and the computer is the abrasive force causing the erosion.

In a letter to The Times and Northern Watch, Twila Brase of St. Paul points out yet another blow in the assault on personal privacy.

"Perhaps you, like millions of other Minnesotans, are unaware that the state government has gained new unprecedented access to your banking information—without your consent or notification," she writes.

"In a deal cut between the Attorney General's office, the Bankers Association and the Department of Human Services (DHS), it was determined during the 1997 session that Minnesota financial institutions (FI) could send the "names and other necessary personal identifying information of all account holders" to DHS for state employees to crosscheck the names of every Minnesota citizen with the names of people listed on its child support obligor— people responsible for child support—database.

"A new federal law," Brase explains, "mandates only that financial institutions (banks, life insurance companies, credit unions, mutual fund organizations) send account information to the State on child obligors. Minnesota's new law goes much further, stating that FIs can choose to take the State's obligor list and do the databank match, or they can send information on all people holding accounts in their institution to DHS and let the State do the data match. This is state and financial institution convenience over individual privacy without the consent of the individuals affected."

Now, we can say we don't owe any child support so what's the difference if the Department of Human Services has information on our financial situation? The key lies in that word "database." Information stored in a computer database may be instantly and easily accessed, and as such may be subject to retrieval and use by other agencies of government—or even outside of government.

"Citizens must realize that their financial and personal privacy has just been invaded," Brase writes. "State officials will have access to banking and financial locations of all citizens. The extent of 'other necessary personal identifying information' is vague but will likely include social security numbers. State law says that the information on individuals who are not obligors must be destroyed, however, that dictate is not enforceable on individual DHS employees. Information can be copied and saved."

Once the financial institution has determined the method it will use, it will not be able to change "unless the public authority agrees in writing to a change."

"Even if a customer complains," Brase says, "the financial institution's continued invasion of privacy is backed by law. Where will citizens go for private banking and financial transactions?"

Brase suggests that citizens send a letter to their financial institutions requesting that they not send DHS information on all account holders or to notify them in writing if the institution does choose that reporting method. Persons so notified may want to consider doing their banking business with an institution which respects their privacy.

"They should inform the institution that they are aware it cannot reverse its initial decision without state permission and therefore it should make the right initial decision," Brase suggests.

For all the convenience and technological advances computers offer, they also have virtually unlimited potential to consolidate personal information which can be sold, exchanged, accessed and utilized to the personal detriment of individuals. Privacy should be a closely guarded right that is not allowed to be given away by others.

Hearing The Loons....

Spring issue of Voyageurs Region National Park Association News contains an article regarding the break-down in an attempted compromise on activities in Voyageurs National Park. According to the article, a federally mediated agreement failed to materialize because two of 12 participating members—Citizen's Council for Voyageurs National Park and the Minnesota United Snowmobile Association— rejected the agreement and refused to participate in compromise discussions.

The article seemed to indicate surprise at the two groups' actions and complained about their "bad faith" negotiations. "Bad faith" is usually charged by parties in a dispute when other parties refuse to work toward their objectives. In this case, neither of the two dissenting groups was willing to endorse an "agreement" which did not favorably address their concerns.

Writer of the article, who was not identified, concluded as follows:

"The breakdown of mediation, while greatly disappointing, has made me all the more committed to our efforts to protect Voyageurs National Park. Those who abuse the negotiation process will also, I believe, abuse the park. We cannot let that happen.

"I will do everything I can—and I hope all of you will do the same—to make sure our treasured National Park is protected not only for ourselves, but also for our children and every generation after them.

"We have a beautiful resource. We and our children deserve to experience it without the horrible spoilage and noise of jet-skis, float planes, racing snowmobiles and motorboats! We need to be able to hear the loons and the songs of the sparrows."

That position doesn't sound like it offers a whole lot in the way of compromise either, does it? It seems bad faith negotiations could be charged from either side of the table.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

It seems no matter how distant or close my journeys from Thief River Falls, I am often reminded of my good fortune in growing up, receiving my higher education and raising my children in this community. While a flood evacuation may not seem the easiest of times to review my ties and belief, it did give me pause to articulate that belief.

Since I was a member of the East Grand Forks staff evacuating the Good Samaritan Center, I saw TRF through the eyes of a now visiting professional. During the actual physical evacuation of these elderly residents, Dr. Orley Gunderson arrived in EGF to insure not only our transportation, but to give assurance of a stable evac site.

What I remember of that night is the sound of flood waters, sirens, resident's crying and, in between, an eerie sort of silence in the air. In my estimation, it took real concern and courage to come to us to see to our safety.

When we arrived at NCTC at 3 a.m., we were greeted by volunteers ready and willing to help with a calmness that allayed the nightmare we had just left. Throughout our over three-week stay, surrounding us day and night were community volunteers, not only from nursing but from all professions and walks of life.

I saw former co-workers from NWMC, the clinic and local nursing facilities helping us even after their own work shifts ended or before they began. Gifts and donations flowed as freely as hours given. All seemed eager to lend their hands and hearts. It still touches me when I think of arriving nightly to be greeted by volunteers offering their energy when ours needed bolstering and support.

Hubert H. Humphrey once spoke of a nation's worth being measured by how it treated the most helpless among us. What Thief River Falls helped to do to uphold the dignity and worth of our most elderly and dependent speaks volumes of its community worth. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Sherry L. Solheim

To The Editor:

On behalf of our local United Parcel Service employees of International Brotherhood of Teamsters Local 346, I would like to thank all for the public support and contributions during our work stoppage. Your generosity is very much appreciated.

A special thank-you to the following: Lyle and Lori Olson family, Larry and Lori Panek, Jim and Sue Kotz family, Dick Tyler, Lyndon Pream and Charlie Cornell, union members of C.P. Railroad, Pipefitters Local 126, faculty at NCTC, City of Thief River Falls Local 320 and Welfare Department, and local business employees of: Mark Rislov/Universal Screenprint, Tom Dondelinger/Northern Motors, Pepsi employees and Gary's Bakery.

Sincerely,
Linda Helgeland

Curtis Alan Hed, master of illusions, will present his "Magic of Reading Show" at the Thief River Falls public library on Thursday, August 14, at 2:30 p.m. The magic show, which includes lots of audience participation promotes reading, the importance of books and taking advantage of one's education. A highlight of the show will be the appearance (disappearance?) of Duo, a rare and seldom seen "White Killer Dove." Mr. Hed has been performing for over 20 years. Young people and adults are invited to enjoy the magic. His reading show is made possible with funds provided by the Northwest Regional Library.

Application will occur following August 10th. Questions may be directed to John Williams, 123 Main Ave. N., Thief River Falls, MN 56701. Ph. (218) 681-0946.

American bitterns topic for Agassiz open house

Informational program on the study of American bitterns will be presented at 2 p.m. Sunday, August 17, as part of an open house at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge headquarters 23 miles northeast of Thief River Falls.

Dave Azure, graduate student at the University of North Dakota, will present the program on bitterns. This is the fourth consecutive year American bitterns have been studied at Agassiz Refuge.

The headquarters will be open from 1 to 7 p.m. and refuge tours will be offered at 3 and 5 p.m. and last up to two hours with five people accommodated per tour. Those interested in the tours may call or stop at the office prior to August 17 to reserve a place. Phone number is 218-449-4115.

According to Gary Tischer of the refuge staff, birds and mammals of many species can be observed from roads or public use facilities at the refuge. Many species of birds will be on their migration south. Birds have molted their bright spring plumage in exchange for duller colored feathers, making identification more difficult and challenging, he said.

"One of the most important aspects about wildlife watching is to develop an appreciation for nature," Tischer said.

Visitors will have the opportunity to view wildlife displays and to discuss natural resources with refuge personnel during the open house hours. Agassiz Bookshop will be open to sell wildlife books, carved animals and Agassiz shirts.

Lost Bay Habitat Drive and the Maakstad Hiking Trail are open during the snow free months. Designated interior refuge roads will also be open for public travel, weather and road conditions permitting. The 100-foot observation tower will be open and offers a panoramic view of the refuge area.

Faver among finalists for District Judge

Timothy R. Faver of Bemidji, who formerly practiced law in Thief River Falls, is among three finalists announced by the Commission on Judicial Selection to fill the Ninth Judicial District trial court bench vacancy created by the death of Robert E. Kautz on May 23.

The Supreme Court has certified the vacancy to be chambered in Brainerd. Joining Faver as finalists are Ann R. Mitchell of Brainerd and Richard A. Zimmerman of Aitkin.

Faver has been the Beltrami County Attorney since 1989 and was chief assistant county attorney from 1983 to 1989 and assistant county attorney from 1979 to 1983. He has served on the board of the Minnesota County Attorney's Association since 1992 and been a member since 1979. He earned his juris doctorate degree from William Mitchell College of Law in St. Paul in 1979 and his bachelor of arts degree cum laude from Moorhead State University in 1975.

Mitchell has been a partner in the law firm of Mitchell and Hermerding in Brainerd since 1995 and was an assistant Crow Wing County public defender from 1994 to 1995.

Zimmerman has been a partner in the law firm of Ryan, Ryan and Zimmerman in Aitkin since 1983 and was a special agent with the United States Department of the Treasury from 1975 to 1980.

The Commission on Judicial Selection screens judicial candidates and makes recommendations to the governor for all district court openings. The commission consists of 13 members, including nine at-large and four from the judicial district. Its members are attorneys and non-attorneys appointed by Gov. Arne Carlson and the Minnesota Supreme Court. The commission received 16 applications for this judicial vacancy.

Shakespeare comes to Inn at Maple Crossing

University of North Dakota's "Shakespeare In MY Park" will present A Midsummer Night's Dream Sunday, August 10, at 2 p.m. at the Inn at Maple Crossing on Maple Lake near Mentor.

The performance is free and the public is invited to bring a lawn chair or blanket and picnic basket and join in the festivity.

For the past two summers "Shakespeare in MY Park" has brought the bard's timeless stories to cities and towns in the Red River Valley. Touring to several new towns, it is the company's intention to give something back to those communities which came to the aid of Grand Forks and East Grand Forks during the 1997 flood.

Under the direction of UND graduate student Darin Kerr, the cast and crew of this summer's production are made up of past and present UND students. During the flood they were spread throughout the country, but they were drawn back to Grand Forks for a summer of theatrical adventure.

"Audience members will notice that this is not just any Shakespearean production," states UND theatre arts promotions director Laurie K. Hinn. "They will get to join with the company in attempting to make an extremely low budget film of Shakespeare's classic tale of mischief and misbegotten love."

Playoff losses end season for Thieves

Two losses in the Region 12C tournament Saturday and Sunday, August 2 and 3, abruptly ended the season for the Thief River Falls Thieves amateur baseball team which finished the year with a 12 and 10 record.

Elimination of Thief River Falls from the four-team regional event at Crookston left Warroad, Crookston and Ada in contention for the two spots available in the state Class C tournament. Ada has the upper hand with two wins and guaranteed advancement while Warroad and Crookston have one loss each. The winner of their game will play Ada for the seeding position out of Region 12C.

Saturday's game at Crookston saw the Thieves out hit the host club 13 to 9 but unable to get the timely hits needed in an 8-7 loss. Only one error was committed in the well played game, that being charged to Thief River Falls.

Both starting pitchers went the distance in the nine-inning game with Ted Hasz getting the win and Steve Burslie taking the loss.

Crookston opened up a fairly close game with two runs in the bottom of the eighth inning for an 8-3 lead. Thief River Falls rallied with four runs in the top of the ninth to close within one run at 8-7 but left the potential tying run stranded at second base when the final out was made.

Burslie and Chris Nelson hit solo home runs for the Thieves. Nick Chiodo had a four-for-four game including a double and Blaise Larson had three hits, including two doubles.

A Warroad team which the Thieves had beaten six consecutive times this season won the game that counted Sunday, pounding out eight hits and committing only one error in a 7-4 win. Thief River Falls had six hits and made four miscues in the field.

Route-going performances were again turned in by the starting pitchers. Troy Mattern earned the win for Warroad while Josh Stromlund, a tournament acquisition from Roseau for the Thieves, was tagged with the loss. Warroad hit two home runs in the game, including a solo shot by Warroad's Mark Harder, a Thief River Falls product.

Thief River Falls opened the scoring with a single run in the top of the fourth inning, but Warroad jumped ahead with four runs in the bottom of the inning. Three of those came on a round-tripper by Warroad catcher Matt Ulwelling.

Thief River Falls closed to within one run with a two-run fifth inning but Warroad answered with a single tally for a 5-3 lead. Single runs were scored by Thief River Falls in the sixth and Warroad in the seventh and eighth innings for the final 7-4 score. Two of the Thieves' six hits were doubles by Steve Burslie.

"It was a disappointment not to get a chance to play in the state tournament," admitted team manager Howard Dalager. "We were short a couple of players for the regional tournament, but that's just the way the game goes—it's not an excuse. We didn't play our best baseball and get the hits when we needed them. All in all it was a pretty good year."

"Hot August Night" at River Road Casino

December of 1992.

The River Road Casino is one of three casinos owned and operated by the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians. Other casinos are the Lake of the Woods Casino in Warroad and Red Lake Casino & Bingo in Red Lake. While Red Lake Gaming oversees all three casinos, each casino operates independently with its own managment and marketing directions. This allows each establishment to best serve and be part of the community where it are located.

Of the three, the River Road was the casino most affected by area flooding. Not only did the flood have a significant impact on the River Road's business, but it was the employees of the River Road Casino who made hundreds of sandwiches that were delivered to East Grand Forks and Grand Forks during the sandbagging effort. After the flood receded, cash donations and truckloads of water, cleaning and paper supplies were taken to affected areas by the River Road Casino.

A weekly Senior Citizen Day is a common promotion of all three casinos owned by the Red Lake Band. Seniors, 55 and over, are given a coupon worth $5 toward the purchase of coins and a lunch coupon which entitles them to a soup and sandwich lunch served between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Tuesday is Senior Day at the River Road, and the casino is always packed with seniors from throughout the area enjoying the selection of slot machines, visiting with their friends and savoring their lunches. In the Indian culture, senior citizens are revered, and Red Lake Gaming sees this special day as a way of honoring them.

In discussion, Lussier mentioned that the same two questions about to the casino are asked repeatedly.

The first – why isn't alcohol served at the River Road Casino? According to Max, the determination not to serve liquor at the casino was a "moral decision made by the Red Lake Tribal Council." There is little doubt that alcohol would enhance their business. However, because alcohol is known to cause judgement impairment, the Tribal Council felt that it would cause far more harm than good. Because of the location of the casino, drinking and driving is another concern. While the casino has no control over who shows up after the bars close, security guards and management have been known to administer large doses of complimentary coffee before allowing an inebriated customer to leave.

The second question – is the machine payback controlled by a computer or person within the casino? The answer is an emphatic "no." Each machine is individually set and controlled by a set of micro chips within the machine. The chips are taped down and sealed. Representatives of the State Gaming Commission are the only people authorized to remove the seals. If, during a random inspection, the Gaming Commission finds a machine has been tampered with, the casino would be penalized with a large fine. The River Road Casino has never been fined for tampering with machines. Paybacks are based on state regulations. All the machines are hooked into one central computer for information purposes. This computer, located in the surveillance room, records the activity of the individual machines. That information is sent to the State Gaming Commission. Winning at a casino is simply about luck and being in the right place at the right time.

The surveillance procedures at casinos are also state mandated. Two trained personnel continually watch the monitors, and casino activity is video taped around the clock. These procedures are as much for the security of the customer as they are for the casino.

Much of the profits of the casinos owned by the Red Lake Band go back into their operations in overhead and improvements. The River Road was recently granted permission to build a lagoon system to handle waste water. The Tribal Council has a number of ideas with regard to expansion. Max stressed that patron input is always welcome and appreciated.

With its casinos and other business ventures, the ultimate goal of the Tribal Council is to achieve financial independence and security for the Red Lake Nation. In addition to creating hundreds of jobs for its people and others, the council has been able to set up numerous programs and make improvements on the reservation.

Lussier commented on the many, many friendships that have occurred between Indians and white people through the casino and how the gap that separates the races has become so much narrower. It's about appreciating what we have in common and respecting what makes us different. It's about community.

It is in the spirit of community that the River Road Casino and Pepsi will bring us "Hot August Night '97." When asked what he will do if it rains on Saturday, the 16th, the always good-natured Max Lussier replied, "Get wet." I'm willing to wager that his fingers are crossed that rain won't fall and that August 16th is a beautiful summer day and hot August night!

MN State Patrol seeks rescuer

Frazee - The State Patrol in Detroit Lakes wants to nominate a man for saving a woman's life–if they can find him.

On Monday a Brainerd woman was driving on Highway 10 near Frazee when her car collided with a semi-truck in heavy fog. Her car burst into flames, and she was pinned in the wreckage.

A man from rural Frazee and another man stopped and pulled the woman from the car before flames engulfed it.

The Frazee man will be nominated for the State Patrol's lifesaving award, and a Trooper would like to nominate the other man, too, but didn't get his name. The rescuer is asked to contact the State Patrol office in Detroit Lakes. The Pioneer

No smoking at Kittson County Courthouse

Hallock - Kittson County Commissioners approved a request from the courthouse employees relations committee to ban smoking in any county owned building.

In the past, the decision was left up to each department administrator. Some allowed smoking in their department offices and some did not. Smoking was allowed in the hallways and coffee shop.

The policy to ban smoking from county owned buildings was effective immediately.

Coronation activities will begin at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 20, in the Minnesota State Fair bandshell.

Ingrid will travel to St. Paul Monday to be ready for the start of judging and other activities on Tuesday, August 19. She received her regional crown June 28 in Mahnomen, succeeding Rachel Klopp of Karlstad.

Ingrid is the daughter of Mark and Audrey Hanson of rural Thief River Falls, a 1996 graduate of Lincoln high school and attended Asbury College in Kentucky during the 1996-97 school year. This fall she will attend Moorhead State University as a communications major.

Region I Dairy Princess

At Lincoln Ingrid was an active participant in speech and drama and, at college she participated in Interspeech, Lead-On leadership program, discipleship group and handbell choir.

Ingrid's hobbies include playing the piano, reading, spending time with her dog and exercising on a trampoline. She is employed this summer at Hugo's Supermarket.

Princess Kay serves as the official goodwill ambassador for Minnesota's dairy industry and the state's nearly 11,000 dairy farmers. Reigning Princess Kay is Kristi Pettis of Winthrop.

Eleven regional dairy princesses will compete for the title of Princess Kay, who is traditionally crowned the evening before the State Fair begins. One of Princess Kay's first official duties is to sit for nearly eight hours in a rotating cooler on opening day of the fair while her likeness is sculpted in an 85-pound block of Minnesota-made butter.

The other 10 contestants also have their likenesses sculpted in butter throughout the remaining days of the fair. The public may view the butter sculpture booth in Empire Commons (Dairy Building) on the State Fair grounds.

During her year-long reign, Princess Kay makes numerous appearances and speeches at various events. Contestants are judged on their communication skills, personality, commitment to dairy promotion and general knowledge of the Grace United Methodist Church of Warren received a helping hand this week as a work team from Central United Methodist Church of Colorado Springs, CO came to help repair the church's flood damaged basement. The group arrived Sunday, August 10 and are scheduled to return to Colorado today. While in the area, they stayed at the United Methodist Church in Thief River Falls. The work team from Colorado is the fourth such group to help the Warren church in their restoration effort.

Colorado group helps repair Methodist church in Warren

High water. There are very few lives in northwestern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota that weren't touched in some way by the floods of 1997 as friends and neighbors lost their homes and possessions. Even if we didn't know anyone personally, tears were shed and prayers were said for those whose lives were turned upside down.

The effects of the monumental natural disaster were felt from coast to coast and resulted in a tremendous outpouring of generosities of various forms.

This week, Grace United Methodist Church of Warren was the recipient of a helping hand as eight people ranging in age from 15 to 50 came from Colorado Springs, CO to help repair the flood damaged church basement.

Grace United Methodist Church of Warren was founded in 1878, and the current church building was built in the 1920's. Through the years, the 139-member church has seen two fires and a number of floods.

According to trustee Wilfrid Karr, a heavy rainstorm in the spring of 1996 resulted in five feet of water in the church basement. At the time, a new pastor had not yet arrived, and the church was caught off-guard. Luckily, restoration had not yet taken place when the church was hit again by this spring's flooding.

Wednesday, however, the remodeling was in full swing as the work team from Colorado was joined by Karr, also a carpenter, and local plumber George Neys.

The group of five women and three men from Colorado Springs represent the Central United Methodist Church, a congregation of 320 members. This is the third year the work team has gone out to help where it felt it was needed. In 1995 and 1996, it went to Four Corners, NM where it worked at a church-sponsored Indian mission.

Group members include Wes and Taecha Asato, Jon Ainsworth, Kenny Walker, Elizabeth Dempsey, Lise Boston, Susan Spieling and Mikki Berry. Mikki is the ministries coordinator at the church and group leader. Several of the team members took time off from work to caravan to Minnesota in two pickups and a van. The group is staying at the United Methodist Church in Thief River Falls.

Methodists all over the country made cleaning kits for flood victims, and in June, Mikki delivered the kits from her conference to Grand Forks. When she proposed going back to the area to help with the clean-up to her congregation, "everyone wanted to come." Many of the Colorado church members have relatives in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Because of scheduling, eight members were able to make the trip supported by $1,500 from the church's mission committee and an additional $800 in donations from businesses and individuals in the community. An apartment building owner from their congregation had a construction company she frequently uses give the group a course in drywalling to prepare them for the work ahead. Additional costs and personal spending money were the responsibility of the individual team members.

The group arrived in Thief River Falls on Sunday and began its mission in Warren on Monday. After working all day, it was supper, a shower and bedtime at UMC in Thief River Falls for the tired workers. They're grateful for the hospitality shown by the local church members who have provided them with a supply of snacks and treats. A pleasure trip to Grand Forks was enjoyed on Wednesday afternoon. Thursday and Friday were spent working in Warren, and the group is scheduled to begin its journey back to Colorado today.

Community band to perform in Australia

Northland Community Band has been invited and will participate in the 1998 Sydney Music Festival in Australia, according to Les Torgerson, music director at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls and community band director.

Twenty-three musicians have presently applied to go on the tour with a goal set to have 35 members participate. The local musicians will participate in the Community and Military Bands division of the festival and appear along with the University of Washington Marching Band and the the Glee Club from Harvard University. Festival dates are July 2-9, 1998.

Torgerson was notified of the band's acceptance to participate by Henryk Pisarek, artistic director of the International Music Festival. Selection was based on an audition recording which had been submitted to the festival committee.

"Your band is obviously a group of very talented and hard working individuals," Pisarek wrote in the acceptance notice. "...On behalf of the Festival faculty and staff, we extend to you our congratulations and a warm welcome."

The band will perform in the world-renowned Sydney Opera House Concert Hall and participate in other events including concerts in Sydney's 19th Century Town hall. It will also have the opportunity to participate in workshops with the international festival faculty.

Torgerson is visiting Australia August 11-18 on a pre-festival site inspection trip. "This will allow me to get an advantage for us in selection of good concert venues, hotels and excursions," he said.

Outstanding musicians are welcome to participate in the Northland Community Band and in the trip to Australia in all instrument areas, Torgerson added. The band has specific needs in trumpet, French horn, clarinet and baritone.

For more information contact Les Torgerson at 681-6057 or 681-0733.

Yes, the cows are in the barn; no, you can't come and see them yet

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Tuesday night, August 12, Excel Dairy north of Thief River Falls used its new facilities for the first time, milking about 280 head of cattle in around four hours. It had taken more than seven hours to milk the same herd in the former facilities.

The cows were the first of an eventual 1,000-cow herd to be housed and milked in the operation owned by Larry and Rhonda Amundson. The new dairy facilities are located about five miles north of Thief River Falls, east of Highway 59.

Another 84 cows arrived Wednesday afternoon, bringing the total on hand to 364, and numbers should be up to 500 by the end of next week, the Amundsons said.

Not Ready For Visitors

While a curious public has long awaited the beginning of operations at the new dairy, the Amundsons request that people contain their curiosity just a bit longer. The dairy isn't ready for visitors yet, and those who arrive on the site uninvited present both a safety and potential health hazard.

Shortly after transfer to their new home in the 108x625 foot dairy barn north of Thief River Falls, these cows in the Larry and Rhonda Amundson herd were munching their total mixed ration, drinking from the watering tanks and loafing in the holding area. First milking in the new facility was done Tuesday evening, August 12. There are more than 350 cows in the barn now with the total expected to increase to 500 by the end of next week. Another 550 first calf heifers will be added later in the year to bring the milking herd to about 1,000.

In Loving Memory Of Our Wonderful Son, Brother & Uncle -

GREGORY SCOTT SYVERSON

It seems like yesterday that you were bursting through the door all excited about some thing or other, you were always so enthusiastic about everything. No doubt about it, you loved life and made all of our lives fuller and richer and we thank God for the 15 wonderful years that He let you be with us.

It's now been a year since you were so suddenly and tragically taken away from us.

Although we know you're in a better more wonderful place now, that doesn't take away the terrible loneliness we feel for you each and every day.

Nothing seems the same from the simplest things such as grocery shopping, a drive in the country or the empty spot at the dinner table. You touched all our lives very deeply in every way possible.

We trust in God that we will all be together again someday but until that time you will be so loved and missed that no amount of words could ever express it. May God keep you in His loving arms and care forever.

We Love You.

So sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Cindo & Family,

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

It's a peachy time of year and a good time to try some of these luscious peach desserts (and one unexpectedly "peachy" chicken dish).

PEACHY PICNIC CAKE

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
3/4 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup milk
Topping
Lemon juice
1 1/2 cups thinly sliced fresh peaches
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3/4 cup packed brown sugar
1/2 cup flaked coconut
2 tablespoons light cream or half and half
1 teaspoon almond extract

Butter bottom of 9 inch square pan and dust with flour.

Cream butter and gradually add sugar and beat light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add almond.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt and add to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Place in pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes. Cool slightly on rack.

To prepare topping, dip peaches in lemon juice and arrange in rows on top of cake.

Melt butter in saucepan and mix in sugar, coconut, cream and almond. Pour over peaches and spread to cover evenly.

Broil just until topping is bubbly and beginning to brown (2-3 minutes).

FRESH PEACH UPSIDE DOWN PIE

Pastry for two crusts
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
2/3 cup toasted sliced almonds or pecans
1/3 cup brown sugar
5 cups sliced fresh peaches (about 8 medium)
3/4 cups sugar
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons tapioca
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

Line pie pan with 12 inch square of foil. Let excess foil overhang edge. Spread with butter and press in nuts and 1/3 cup brown sugar. Fit bottom crust into pan over nuts and sugar.

Mix remaining ingredients and pour into crust. Cover with top crust, seal, flute and prick with fork. Brush lightly with milk.

Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes, then at 375 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes more. Cool thoroughly, then turn upside down on serving plate.

And here is the chicken recipe with a canned peach garnish:

POULET AUX PEACHES

2 1/2 to 3 pound chicken
1 1/4 cups corn flake crumbs
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1 small can sliced mushrooms
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
8 canned cling peaches

Melt butter in saucepan. Add onion and celery and cook until tender but not brown.

Add mushrooms with liquid, salt and poultry seasoning and bring to boil. Remove from heat and add crumbs and toss lightly.

Stuff chicken with crumb mixture and truss. Place chicken in center of 24 inch length of heavy foil. Brush with additional melted butter. Make double fold of foil over breast and at each end of chicken. Place in shallow roasting pan and roast at 450 degrees for 20 minutes per pound.

Open foil and flatten in pan. Place drained peaches, cut side up, on foil around chicken. Roast 20 minutes longer to brown chicken and heat peaches.

To serve, place chicken on platter and garnish with peach halves.

Expect No Winners In Strike Against UPS

As the hours extended into days and the days drag into weeks, the Teamsters Union strike against United Parcel Service takes on increasingly serious consequences. The work stoppage and interruption of service has implications that range from minor inconvenience of occasional users to a major loss of business revenue by the company to total loss of livelihood for its employees.

For a person on the outside looking in, where should sympathies lie? Who is right and who is wrong? If eventual agreement is inevitable, as most people expect, why can't it be reached now? Who or what—if anyone or anything—is in control of resolving the situation?

Once the threatened strike began and was allowed to continue for several days without progress toward settlement, odds for anything close to a rapid agreement went decidedly down. What may have begun as a disagreement about policies has now become a battle for power. And the weapon being used by both sides is the lives of the employees who work for the company and allow themselves to be represented by the union.

Historically there are few winners in labor strikes. Purported gains by labor have been temporary and often more than offset by losses incurred during work stoppages. Concessions forced or operational actions taken by management have created greater discontent and frequently distrust among the workforce. Animosities have festered and grown in proportion to the length of the strikes and left permanent scars on relationships both business and personal.

It would be unduly optimistic to expect that the strike against UPS will be different. Justified or not, the strike action creates and intensifies an "us against them" mentality that appeals to the baser side of the human psyche. As time passes without a serious effort toward agreement, the objective by both management and labor leaders vindictively becomes one of "we'll show them they can't do that to us" rather than objectively seeking a means by which acknowledged differences can be resolved.

We have seen enough of labor disputes and strikes over the years to form the opinion that overall they do more harm than good. That doesn't mean we have no sympathy for strikers. They are often caught in the middle and face the stress of having their livelihoods placed on the line as a bargaining chip for union leadership. No one envies them that predicament.

Business management is naturally defensive and resentful of someone else telling it how to run the business. In the case of UPS, that "someone else" is the Teamsters Union with its insistence that the company hire more full-time workers.

Even in a business as large and as profitable as UPS has been, management can reach a point where it refuses to be pushed any further. We are mindful of the strike against Midwest Motor Express which dragged on for years and resulted in many striking employees losing good jobs as the company refused to capitulate to union demands, hired replacement workers and pushed forward despite the stress of the strike.

Given the impact of UPS on the nation's commerce, we had expected a quick settlement and a return to business as usual. It is now becoming evident that the company is prepared to dig in its heels despite huge daily losses and the Teamsters leadership, already committed to making its power play, is in the awkward position of penalizing its members through an extended work stoppage or losing face by retreating from its hard line.

While the drama plays itself out within the company, former users of UPS services are finding alternative means of moving product— sometimes at an advantage over previous UPS prices or service. At least some of these alternate means will be continued when UPS trucks and planes are back on the road and in the air, and that translates into lost business by the company and need for fewer employees.

It is an unfortunate fact in organized labor matters that the tail wags the dog. For all intent and purpose the rank and file union members are manipulated by what amounts to union management, which occasionally feels it must flex its muscle to establish a presence and justify its existence. If union management truly had only the welfare of its members at heart, it would shelve its antagonistic attitude toward management and seek middle ground.

For instance, in the UPS situation, one of the areas of dispute is whether the union or company should handle pension funds. The employees might be best served if they had two options of investing in a pension fund operated by the union and/or one offered by the company. Why not set up two plans and let the worker decide where he or she wants his or her retirement funds invested. That would be one way of finding middle ground but don't look for it to happen.

Certainly corporate management is not blameless in labor disputes, often inviting discontent of employees with disproportionate executive salaries, inflexible policies and work rules and conditions, and impersonal attitudes about employee welfare. In a free society, however it is management's prerogative to determine its terms and conditions of employment. Employees are free to accept those terms and conditions or to find another employer whose terms are more acceptable.

In the United States employees are also free to organize and bargain collectively with employers. Along with that freedom is the right to strike. Going on strike, however, is not without risk, nor should it be. Employees as individuals or as groups are not necessarily entitled to everything they would like to have, but they are entitled to use legal means—including a strike action—to try to get them.

All things being fair, during a strike a company should not be able to prevent an employee from seeking and taking another job, temporarily or otherwise. Conversely, the employer should not be prevented from hiring, temporarily or otherwise, someone to fill the job the employee chooses—through his or her union representation—not to perform.

Union leaders disagree with that concept of fairness, just as they are intolerant of their own members who break ranks during a strike and go back to work. Control is the name of the game, and if that involves coercion and intimidation, even of the members, so be it.

To this point, except for an isolated incident or two nationally, the strike against UPS has been mostly uneventful. Union members are listening to the rhetoric and following the directives of union management, walking the picket lines and waiting to see what happens. That inactivity for normally busy people gets old fast. So does trying to live without a paycheck.

Time, it is said, heals many wounds. During a strike, however, it is likely to open new ones. Let's hope for some top level common sense and cooperation that can bring this dispute to an end soon and prevent the types of frustration and irritation that lead to resentment, anger and confrontation.

Otter Tail Power receives award for helping farmers

Otter Tail Power Company has received the National Food and Energy Council's Silver Switch Award in recognition of the company's dairy demonstration project. The award is presented to a utility with outstanding programs involving rural and agricultural applications; Otter Tail is the only utility in the nation to receive this award this year.

The dairy demonstration project, designed by Jerry Martens and Kim Pederson, demonstrates and documents the herd health and air quality improvements, energy savings, and increased milk production that can be obtained from using improved, energy-efficient ventilation and lighting systems in dairy barns.

Martens, supervisor, specialty testing services, has worked with dairy farmers for several years, helping to improve herd health and efficiencies in their operations. Pederson is manager of market planning and has designed programs that encourage Otter Tail customers to use electricity wisely.

Rep. Tunheim receives high marks in justice report

State Representative Jim Tunheim (DFL-Kennedy) received a 90 percent rating in the Joint Religious Legislative Coalition's (JRLC) "Justice Report." JRLC is an interfaith advocacy for social justice with members from the Jewish Community Relations Council, Minnesota Catholic Conference, and the Minnesota Council of Churches.

The JRLC based its ratings on what they perceived as seven key votes taken in the Minnesota House of Representatives during the 1997 session. Rep Tunheim voted for six of the seven JRLC positions. They were:

•defeat of an amendment to restrict public assistance from 60 months in a lifetime to 24 months.

•defeat of an amendment to remove $10 million from child care assistance.

•defeat of an amendment to the Crime Bill creating a death penalty in Minnesota.

•final passage of the Minimum Wage Bill.

•defeat of an amendment to the MinnesotaCare Bill which would have cut the provider tax from 2 percent to 1 percent and removed $50 million from the health care access fund.

•repassage of the Youth Access to Tobacco Bill which regulates the sale of tobacco.

Rep. Tunheim said he is proud of his rating from the JRLC, and he will continue to support initiatives that keep Minnesota's quality of life so strong.

Wikerts honored as district outstanding conservationists

Billy and Phyllis Wikert of rural Grygla have been selected as "Outstanding Conservationist" award winners for 1997 by the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District.

The Wikerts have lived on their 360-acre farm in Steenerson township of Beltrami county for more than 36 years. They raise Hereford cattle and the herd presently includes about 34 cows and 31 calves.

The main conservation practice on the Wikert farm is a good crop rotation system, seeding down about 25 acres a year as a nurse crop and for feed. Five stock ponds have been installed over the years and manure from the beef operation is spread on the alfalfa fields.

The Wikerts have planted a number of trees in their yard to replace the elms lost to Dutch Elm disease. They built their farm home and have added to it as well as building a barn.

Billy and Phyllis have aided the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District by being the contact persons for improvements made to the Grande Corner Rest Site. This was a RC&D project with Spruce Grove township. The Wikerts assisted in setting up work crews through the Fourtown-Grygla Sportsmen Club to provide in-kind labor for matching grant funds.

The Wikerts also were overseers for work done on the new restroom facilities, picnic shelter improvements and work on the ball field. In recognition of their contributions, the ball playing area has been named Wikert Field.

The Wikerts have been active in Our Savior's Lutheran Church of rural Grygla where Billy has just completed 17 years on the board. They are members of the Eagles club and Fourtown Grygla Sportsmen Club, as well as charter members of the Lions and Lioness clubs where both have been on the boards in some capacity ever since the clubs were formed.

Billy presently serves as chairman of the Steenerson township board and Phyllis is a past member of the board of education for the Grygla school district. Billy works as a road maintenance operator for Beltrami county and Phyllis has kept official records for the Thorhult station of the National Weather Service since 1973.

Family interests including playing softball and watching and feeding birds. They have numerous bird feeding stations in their yard and have placed a number of bluebird houses along the fencelines.

The Wikerts have five children—Donald, Wendy, Denise, Penny and Rocky—and eight grandchildren. They will be recognized as the district's outstanding conservationists at the state convention of the Minnesota Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Telemarken church helps flood victims

Telemarken Lutheran Church of rural Goodridge recently donated $1,280 for flood relief in the Red River Valley through the Association of Free Lutheran Congregations.

The congregation raised $640 through a special offering on a recent Sunday and it was matched by Lutheran Brotherhood through its Congregational Matching Funds program.

Dillon and Amber Berg are involved with Camp Sioux

Two young people from Middle River were involved with Camp Sioux, a summer camp for children with insulin-dependent diabetes, at Turtle River State Park August 2-9.

Dillon Berg, 10, was attending the camp as a camper for the third year. His sister Amber, who is not diabetic, was a camp counselor and a second year volunteer at the camp.

Dillon said the camp is like most other summer camps, except that "you get a shot in the leg every morning." He also attends other summer camps and administers his own insulin injections. He plans to attend Camp Sioux again next year.

Camp Sioux was founded in 1952 by E. A. Haunz, MD, with support from the Grand Forks, ND, Kiwanis club, and accepts campers who are eight to 14 years of age. Two one-week sessions are held free of charge to a total of 90 campers through the generosity of many businesses, service clubs and individuals.

While the youngsters are provided with the opportunity to take part in the joys and adventures of the outdoors, the camp offers medical supervision and special attention from a diabetes team that includes a physician, dietitian and nurses.

At Camp Sioux, young persons with diabetes discover their full potential by trying out new skills without fear of rejection by their peers. Camp is where they can learn their limitations and the need for control of their diabetes in an outdoor environment that is fun for them.

North Dakota affiliate of the American Diabetes Association was headquartered in downtown Grand Forks and lost all its records, supplies and equipment in the fire which swept through 11 buildings during this spring's flood.

"In spite of our losses, Camp Sioux has been a huge success," a spokesperson for the association said. "Camp sessions were held July 25 through August 1 and August 2 through 9. Special thanks go to the Minnesota Lions and Grand Forks Kiwanis, without whose support the camp would not have been possible."

Prowlers host dual; invitational...

Tennis will start TRF fall sports schedule

First item on the 1997 Thief River Falls fall sports schedule will be a Wednesday (Aug. 20) girls high school tennis match – a 4 p.m. dual against Grand Rapids hosted by the Prowlers.

The Thunderhawks will also be in town the following day, joining the Prowlers, East Grand Forks, Crookston, Bemidji, and Roseau in the annual Thief River Falls Sports Boosters invitational. Play starts at 9 a.m.

Practice began Monday when Sylvia Sjoberg began her third year as the Prowlers' head coach.

Six letter winners return from a team that put together a 6-5 dual record last fall, including seniors Beth Goddard, Stephanie Leach, Jenna Tsukichi, and Eeva Young, along with juniors Katie Harbott and Lesley Ihle.

Goddard and Leach are serving as the Prowlers' co-captains.

Rest of the preseason roster includes juniors Ann Gustafson, Toni LeMoine and Bridgette Stock; sophomores Diedre Dally, Jenni Gonsorowski, Jennifer Kimball, Kim Kirkeide, Rebecca Leach, Kate Liden, Kara Skiple, Katie Stalboerger, and Nicole Wiseth; freshmen Karen Christensen, Carissa Hendrickson, Kyla McFarlane, Kim Schneider, and Heidi Young. Eighth graders Heather Hanson and Beth Padilla are also working with the squad.

"We're fairly young," said Sjoberg. "We only have the four seniors, so at the start, we're not going to be a strong as we were last year."

With Detroit Lakes and Fergus Falls coming here for an Aug. 30 double-dual, three of the Prowlers' first four meets will be at home. But the schedule will then include just one home appearance the rest of the season – a Sept. 25 quadrangular with East Grand Forks, Roseau and Park Rapids Area.

Kopari competes in AAU Nationals at Charlotte, NC

Nicole Kopari has returned to Thief River Falls from Charlotte, NC, where she made the finals in both the discus and shot at the 1997 AAU Nationals track and field meet.

Competing in the 17-18-year-old age group, the 17-year-old Kopari placed fifth in the discus and wound up seventh or eighth – there was some confusion in the final standings – in the discus competition.

A 139-1 effort in the discus was some seven feet past her Lincoln High School record in the event. A 159-5 won it, but Kopari was only four feet behind the second place finisher.

Kopari's 38-8 throw in the shot in the final day heat of the national meet fell short of her school record. A 40-foot throw – by the same Texas girls that took the discus – won the shot title.

Top eight throwers in both the shot and discus reached the finals. There were approximately 40 competitors in each event.

Kopari, who will be a junior this fall, competed at the national meet as a member of the Grand Forks Quick Silver Track Club.

She qualified for the national meet by winning both the shot and discus in the 16-18-year-old group at the Minnesota Star of the North Games earlier this summer.

As a high school sophomore last spring, Kopari swept both the discus and shot titles at the Section 8AA meet, and went on to place fourth in the shot and fifth in the discus at the Class AA state meet.

Bandalina, a band from Winnipeg, Manitoba, will perform at the 1997 Chautauqua and French Festival August 22-24 at Huot Park and Red Lake Falls.

Chautauqua slated August 22-23-24

The 1997 Chautauqua and French Festival, sponsored by AFRAN, the Association of the French of the North, will be held on August 22, 23 and 24 and will feature toe-tapping music from the band known as "Bandaline" from Winnipeg, Manitoba. This Canadian band has been described as having "brought new life to traditional French Canadian music in Manitoba over the past six years."

"Bandaline" was founded in 1991 and the band consisting of nine members produced the first Bandaline recording. The group was reduced to five members in November 1996, and recorded a new demo cassette in December 1996. In addition to performances on CBC radio and television shows, the band has performed at the Festival du Voyageur from 1992 through 1997, the Festival du bois in 1994 and 1995 in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, the 1994 Strawberry Festival in Portage La Prairie, Manitoba and the Fete de la St. Jean Baptiste in 1996 at LaBroquerie, Manitoba, Canada.

The group has also provided lively French Canadian music for traditional dance soirees and weddings in numerous towns in southern Manitoba. Bandaline has performed many concerts, including the Children's Miracle Telethon and were featured at the Governor's Ball during the 1997 Festival du Voyageur in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

The band's performance at 2 p.m. on Saturday, August 23, at the Old Crossing and Treaty Park at Huot will be their first appearance in the United States. The fun and music will continue at 8:30 p.m. that day at the community hall in Red Lake Falls when the band will provide a night of music and dancing. Admission to both performances by Bandaline will be with an AFRAN button.

"There is still a lot of construction going on, with trucks, tractors and other vehicles operating on the site and everyone in a hurry to get their part of the work done as soon as they can," Larry Amundson said.

"We moved our cattle from the previous location into the west half of the barn that is functional at this time because we were acquiring too many cows to handle in the old facilities," he said. "But we have a lot of concrete to pour and other work to complete in the rest of the barn and other areas before we can settle into a routine."

"We recognize that there is a lot of interest in the barn and the size of the operation," Rhonda Amundson added, "and we are excited about holding tours and answering questions when all systems are go. But that could be another month and we really aren't ready now."

Diseases A Concern

Apart from the construction hazards and liability concerns involving unauthorized onlookers, the Amundsons have concerns about herd health and organisms which could be brought to the farm before what will be routine sanitation practices can be put in place.

"We have a large number of animals in fairly closely confined quarters where any disease problem could spread rapidly," Rhonda Amundson added. "We feel it makes sense to take all the precautions possible against that potential, and random visitation is a threat."

Tours Planned Later

When the time is right, however, Larry and Rhonda will welcome visitors to the new dairy operation. Work on the site has been underway since last fall and construction of the buildings began this spring with the first concrete poured on May 6.

The main dairy barn is a curtain type with heavy plastic side curtains for adverse weather enclosure. It is 108 feet wide and 625 feet long with five feet of slope from west to east. Cattle in the barn have free access to watering tanks and total mixed ration feed which is distributed down a center driveway.

Connected to the barn by a walkway for the cattle is a 40x80 foot milking parlor building. The parlor itself is a Double 20 system which allows a group of 40 cows to be milked at one time. Identification of individual cows and records of their production are computerized.

Also on the site are an 80x95 treatment barn and a five-bay commodity shed for storage of feed mixture components. The commodity shed is located next to a surfaced hay storage area.

Cattle Moved Tuesday

The Amundsons said the movement of cattle in the new barn began after morning milking Tuesday and went surprisingly well. Four trucks and trailers were used for the transfer and the cattle adjusted quickly to their new surroundings.

"The cattle really seem happy to be there," Rhonda said, adding that subsequent milking sessions have been going smoothly.

Added to the herd later this year will be 550 first-calf heifers for which the Amundsons had made commitments earlier.

Employees Hired

Larry and Rhonda said their staff of employees is virtually complete and they are extremely pleased with the people they have been able to hire.

"They have been willing to help out with everything and have put in some long hours working with more cows at the old place and getting ready for the move to the new barn," Larry said. "We really appreciate their positive attitude and extra effort."

The staff hired and on hand for the first day of operations at Excel Dairy includes the following:

Herd manager—Lyle Zimmer, formerly from Sauk Centre and now living in Thief River Falls;

Assistant herdpersons—Bill Schafer, Strathcona and Robert Bitzer, formerly of Courtland and now of St. Hilaire;

Feed manager—Tom Altepeter, Thief River Falls;

Building and equipment maintenance—Ray Fields, Thief River Falls;

Milking technicians—Beattie Mickelson and David Marquis, Goodridge; Camyn Kusprowicz, Karlstad; Gayle Hilgeman, Oklee; Dwayne Holden, formerly of Mississippi, now living in St. Hilaire; Ernest Woinarowicz, Middle River; Dan Timm and Chad Qualley, Thief River Falls.

This year the Amundsons have contracted locally for 600 acres of hay for haylage and 650 acres of corn for corn silage to help meet the herd's feed needs.

Group leader Mikki has lived in several locations throughout the United States. While living in Grand Forks she said she "felt totally loved and accepted." In other places she said, "People are afraid of each other." She believes the way the people of this area reacted to the flood of '97 will teach the rest of the world how people can and should come together when faced with disaster.

The eight happy, unselfish workers from Colorado Springs are one of countless groups who have come from all over the country to help clean up and rebuild area churches, schools and homes.

According to Reverend Bill Dimick of Grace United Methodist Church in Warren, the Colorado group is the fourth group to help repair his church. Others have traveled from Duluth, Wisconsin and southern Minnesota. The Warren church has experienced a "wonderful outpouring of people," said Reverend Dimick, "and we thank them."

There is still much to do—drywalling to be finished, kitchen countertops to be made, carpet to be laid. Outside, mounds of dirt surround the perimeter of the church where drain tiles have been laid to protect the building in the years to come. It will be awhile before the effects of the flood are no longer visible and much longer before they will be forgotten.

In Warren on Wednesday morning, I visited with the folks from Colorado and watched them work. To escape the noise of the construction and gather my thoughts, I walked upstairs and slipped into the back pew of the peaceful sanctuary. As the sun shone brightly through the beautiful stained glass windows, I reflected on all the weddings, baptisms and funerals that had taken place there over the years. Life's happiest and saddest times often take place in a church.

Faintly, I could hear the pounding and sawing of the good people working in the basement below me, and it occurred to me that while floods destroy buildings, they cannot destroy the spirit that makes a building a church or the love that makes a house a home.

Wilfrid Karr of Warren works to repair and remodel the flood damaged basement of Grace United Methodist Church. Wilfrid is also a trustee of the church. This week the carpenter was joined by an eight-member work team from Central United Methodist Church of Colorado Springs, CO. Many took time off from their jobs to motor to Minnesota to extend a helping hand.

Toy handgun spells trouble in TRF

Three incidents involving pellet guns being used by minors in Thief River Falls in the past week has law enforcement personnel on edge. Police Chief Ken Froschheiser said, it is all too similar to an incident in the Twin Cities where a police officer shot a youth who allegedly pointed a toy pellet gun at an officer.

The latest incident in Thief River Falls happened Wednesday and involved two youth who got into an argument. One of the minors allegedly pointed a pellet gun that looks like a real gun at the other youth and threatened to shoot him the next time he came into his yard. The handgun closely resembles those types of handgun's being carried by local law enforcement.

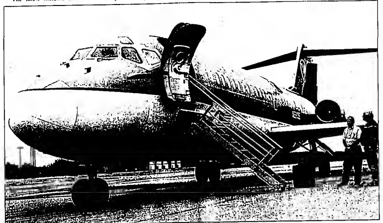
Anyone seeing this gun, said Chief Froschheiser, would believe this was a real gun. It still possesses the possibility of causing injury, he quickly added.

"We want parents to know of the problems associated with allowing their children to have pellet guns," said Froschheiser.

In the situations reported to police this week, information has been turned over to the attorneys for review of possible charges. The youths in these incidents could face charges and juvenile proceedings and under city ordinance, the parents could also face charges.

Under a city ordinance pertaining to safety, Section 10.20 on Dangerous Weapons and Articles, it states, "It is unlawful for any person to (subd. G) Permit, as a parent or guardian, any child under 14 years of age to handle or use, outside of the parent's or guardian's presence, a firearm or air gun of any kind, or any ammunition or explosive."

"No one has been injured yet, thank God," said Chief Froschheiser. He added that he is concerned about the safety of citizens, but he is also concerned about his officer's response. He explained that officers are trained, beyond a doubt, to react in such a way as to protect themselves and shoot to kill if necessary. He's bringing this issue to the public because he doesn't want to see a situation develop where officers are faced with the business end of a handgun pointed at them — whether it fires BBs, pellets or slugs.



Pilots of this DC 9-10, which has been delivered to Northland Community and Technical College, said the plane, which was built in 1963, flew real well on its final flight. They added that they were proud it was going to be put to good use. The plane will be used as an educational tool for the aviation program at the school. It will be housed in the instructional hangar at the Thief River Falls regional airport where it will join the Model 727 aircraft already there.

Winds of change blowing in Malung township

Malung - The winds of change are blowing as township residents and owners of Pristine Pork hope the controversy and smell that accompany the local 2,700 pig feedlot will soon settle.

Smells originating at the feedlot have prompted many calls to the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency and a petition from Malung residents to amend its current land-use permits for similar hog facilities in the future.

While the town board will make the final decision on an amendment, a zoning committee has been formed, and the board seeks to come up with an ordinance that is fair to everyone.

Owners of Pristine Pork realize odor is a problem and are actively seeking ways to reduce the smell. Roseau Times-Region

Music students to benefit from MacPhail grant

Lincoln High School has received a two year grant to provide music curriculum based on composition, improvisation and recording using current music technology.

The Surdna Foundation of New York awarded funds to MacPhail Center for the Arts in Minneapolis to conduct an extended residency project at Northern Expressions School of the Arts in Thief River Falls. During this project, MacPhail will work with Lincoln High School music teachers Broce Felt and Darcy Reese to create a music curriculum based on composition, improvisation and recording using current music technology. Students involved in this project will use music synthesizers, computers and recording equipment to record and perform their compositions, while learning theory, improvisation and rehearsal techniques.

During a series of five- and 10-day workshops, teams of MacPhail musician-educators will work with students to explore diverse musical styles and composition techniques. Music technology equipment eliminates several barriers students face with other instruments and opens the door to a wide range of exciting music possibilities. Students will work individually and in groups to create and perform their own pieces, using models from classical, popular and world music.

The residency will begin with music technology workshops led by Roger Dumas and Harry Chalmiers. Chris Osgood and Chan Poling will follow with pop songwriting sessions. Vicky Mountain and Severin Behnen will work with students on improvisation and recording techniques. Stephen Houtz will lead a music theater workshop. Victoria Ehel-Saho will teach students a more traditional method of composition. Tadeusz Majewski will lead students in understanding a piece from the performer's point of view. And, to end the residency, Roger Dumas will return to help students in the final stages of production for their new creations. A final recital featuring the students' work will be held Sunday, May 3, at Lincoln High School.

Northern Expressions School for the Arts is an ideal partner for MacPhail. The school draws talented music students from northern Minnesota and has a staff of highly trained and dedicated music instructors who are eager to grow as composers and integrate composition more fully into the magnet arts curriculum. Lincoln High School and MacPhail already enjoy a well-developed relationship through a previous composition residency given by MacPhail in 1996.

MacPhail's composition curriculum uses contemporary music technology, such as computers and synthesizers. Music technology allows students who do not have extensive music backgrounds to participate in the process of creating new musical works side-by-side with more advanced students. The current technology affords many opportunities for teaching composition, theory and performance techniques that are not widely used.

Mill will once again grind flour

by Kathl Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Case steam engine #359 will be fired up, the whistle will blow and the mill stones will turn to grind wheat into flour Sunday as Old Mill State Park's annual Grinding Day marks the end of another summer of interpretive programs.

The history of the park area and story of the Larson Mill are an important and facinating part of the area's rich heritage.

Before the Pioneers

Indians camped along the beach ridges and in the valley following the large herds of grazing animals that roamed the area. Native people of various cultures traveled the prairies.

Evidence of these people was found in 1961 when archeologists excavated a burial mound believed to be about 1,000 years old. At the site, located about two and one-half miles east of the Old Mill, the group discovered an almost intact skull of a young woman, arm bones and necklaces of bear claws and mollusk shells. It is believed that only the upper half of the skeleton was found because the custom of the era was to bury the dead in two parts, each in separate locations.

Evidence of Indian encampment has been discovered within the park boundaries, and a site on a high east bank of the Middle River has been identified as having archeological significance.

Early Pioneers

Lars Larson Jr. was 28 years old when he left Sweden to come to America in 1881. He stayed at his brother's farm near Alvarado but found the area too flat and searched for a farm to his liking in northwestern Minnesota. In 1882, he homesteaded a piece of land in section 4 of Foldahl township – part of the land now known as Old Mill State Park.

In 1882, Lar's brother John and sister Karin traveled to America. Parents Lars Sr. and Ingerid followed in 1883. The family settled on eighty acres just north of the present park.

In their search of opportunity in America, the Larson family dealt with many changes from their Swedish homeland and probably, at times, yearned for the family, friends and life they had left behind.

Lars Sr.'s Living Legacy

Before leaving Sweden, Lars Sr. gathered the seeds of his native pine and carried them in his pocket across the Atlantic and on the long journey across land to his future homestead. He planted the pine seeds along the west bank of the Middle River. Now called Scotch pines, the trees have grown into giants, and cones dropped by the original trees have produced several generations of Scotch pines on the west side of the park.

Flour Mills

The first flour mill was built by Lars Sr. in 1886. It was constructed along the Middle River near the area of the present walking bridge to the campgrounds. Employing features similar to mills in Sweden, the mill was powered by water backed up from a dam on the river.

Disaster struck in 1988 when a flash flood on the Middle River completely detroyed the mill.

With Swedish tenacity, Lars Sr. rebuilt a wind-powered mill in the vicinity of the parking lot at the park. A hand-fashioned willow rope held the building together, and machinery and grindstones were recovered from the river and used in the new mill.

Again, disaster struck when a heavy windstorm blew the poorly anchored building down.

The persistent Swede built another mill in 1889. This water-powered structure was built across the road to the east of the park about one-half mile from his original mill. Lar Sr.'s son, John, also built a mill at that site.

John also built a two-story log house near the mill. With no markers to establish boundaries, it was discovered a few years later by government surveyors that John's house was not built on his land. Log by log, the Larsons took the cabin apart, numbering each log. They built a special sleigh to pull the logs to another site near the mill where they rebuilt the two-story house.

John's mill was powered with an eight-horsepower Case #359 steam engine – the first of its kind used in the area. The engine was purchased in Waseca, hauled overland to Argyle and moved to the mill site by oxen.

In 1897, John relocated his mill one-fourth mile down stream. He purchased two French burrstones weighing 1,500 and 1,800 pounds from a Grand Forks mill that had switched to modern rollers.

Lars Sr. changed mill sites in 1898 and built just north of John's mill. Set in his old country ways, Lars Sr. continued to use the much slower water power.

In the late 1890's, the Case #359 steam engine developed problems. It was parked in the brush and replaced by an Ames steam engine. Unlike the Case that had to be pulled, the new engine could move by its own power.

Around 1914, the steam-powered mill was sold to John's cousin, Lars P. Larson, who operated it for a few years before selling it to Carl Green. Green shortly sold it to the Skoglund brothers.

The Skoglunds repaired the building and put the mill into top running order. For a short while, they powered the mill with the Ames steam engine before obtaining a modern 1920's International gas truck engine which ran the mill from outside the building.

Farmers brought their grain to the mill to be ground into flour on a trail still visible today. Rye was the preferred grain by the mostly Norwegian and Swedish customers. The grinding fee was fifty cents per sack, regardless of size. Many people sewed an additional 12 to 18 inches to their sacks to get the most grinding for their money.

As times changed so did the once flourishing flour grinding business. People were less dependent on local mills as it became easier to purchase flour at stores.

A State Park Is Born

The Skoglunds ran the mill until 1937 when they sold the 40 acres of land that the mill sat on to the State of Minnesota for a park. Market changes and the land purchase put an end to 51 years of commercial grain grinding.

Historic Larson Mill powered by the Case #359 steam engine will once again grind grain into flour on Sunday, August 24 from noon to 4 p.m. at Old Mill State Park's annual Grinding Day. In cooperation with the Marshall County Historical Society the event will include a Prairie Ridge Trail hike at 10 a.m. and a children's activity - Indian Symbols at 11 a.m. In addition to mill operations, the afternoon's activities will include pioneer life demonstrations, quilting and crafts display, wheat bread and jam samples, lemonade, old time music and for a small fee, horse drawn carriage rides by Bakke Carriage Company. Old Mill State Park is located 12 miles east of Argyle or 11 miles east of Newfolden just off Marshall Co. Hwy. 4 or 17 miles northeast of Warren on Marshall Co. Hwy. 3. Vehicle permits are required on all vehicles entering any Minnesota State Park year round. A daily permit is $4 and an annual permit is $20. Permits can be purchased at the park office.

Volunteering is way of life for Jean Schindler

Red Lake Falls - In 1993, Jean Schindler was named one of the Outstanding Senior Citizens of Red Lake County, and recently, she was one of 14 people in Minnesota who received the 1997 Acts of Kindness:Governor's Volunteer Award.

Jean doesn't plan her day and then schedule volunteer work. Vonunteer work is her daily schedule. Everyday she leaves home around 8 a.m. for Hillcrest Nursing Home where she plays cards with the residents, reads to them, prays with them, encourages them to participate in the various activities and simply adds to their lives by being there for them.

She also volunteers her time and car for taking residents to appointments and various fun outings like the circus, picnics and the fair.

In the fall and winter months, Jean spends an average of eight to nine hours a day at Hillcrest, and it can be even more hours in the spring and summer.

Lieutenant Governor Joanne Benson will present the award to Jean on August 26 at the Minnesota State Fair. The Oklee Herald

Larson Mill will grind once again

Between 1937 and 1940, the purchase of the land, all of the structures and grounds work totalled less than $37,000.

The park was referred to and later officially named Middle River State Park. Former land owner Albert Skoglund strongly objected to the park's name and told of many people driving to the township or village of Middle River expecting to find a park that wasn't there. He maintained that there was no confusion when the place was known as "Old Mill."

The park continued as Middle River State Park, however, until June of 1951 when the Minnesota legislature changed the name to Old Mill State Park.

Mill and Engine Restored

Many times during the planning and establishment of the site as a park, restoration of the old grist mill for demonstration purposes was discussed. Lacking were funds and a person dedicated enough to see the project to completion.

The mill deteriorated, and in 1950, the state park division recommended that for safety purposes the old mill be torn down.

Once the park was renamed, Ernest Jewell, park superintendent since 1946, asked, 'What would the name 'Old Mill State Park' mean without a mill?' Determined that the mill be restored, Jewell started a rally and fund drive to save the mill and recruited the help of the Marshall County Historical Society.

With different parts of the structure in varying stages of deterioration, the mill was restored over the next six years with donated lumber and labor – mostly farmers helping in their "spare time."

Once the building restoration was completed in 1957, Jewell turned his attention to the Case #359 steam engine that had been abandoned before the turn of the century.

In 1937 when the state purchased the park site, the engine was moved to the new Larson farm. In 1952, the engine was purchased by the Marshall County Historical Society for $75. Sitting idle for so long, many of the engine parts had been removed. Missing were the steam piston, governor, safety valve, steam injector, pump and whistle.

Minnesota Centennial

Plans were being made at the time to commemorate 100 years of Minnesota statehood in 1958. The planning committee hoped that the dedication of the restored mill could be one of the main events of the centennial year, and with a deadline, restoration efforts were stepped up.

The steam engine was moved back to the park and placed in a shop to be worked on over the winter months. Jewell recruited many people for the project. Parts that couldn't be replaced were built.

All of the efforts were successful, and in the spring of 1958, the engine was pulled to the newly rebuilt mill on its own rebuilt wheels.

Once maneuvered into the engine room, the Case #359 steam engine was fired up. The whistle blew, and with the boiler under full pressure and the belts in place, a valve turned, piston and connecting rod moved, crankshaft and pulley turned and slowly, the heavy millstone turned.

For the first time in 60-plus years, the 1878 steam engine turned a stone, and for the first time since 1937, the huge millstones changed wheat into flour.

Celebration and Dedication

Plans were made to dedicate the restored Larson Mill on June 1, 1958 – Marshall County's first Statehood Centennial event. It was anticipated that 5,000 people would attend the event. Instead, the crawd swelled to over 7,500.

The program that afternoon included several musical numbers and speeches by state and local dignitaries. Dressed in tails and a top hat, park superintendent Ernie Jewell was the last to speak that day. He simply thanked those in attendance and those who had helped with the restoration project. He then encouraged folks to hike the trail along the river and view the mill and engine in operation.

Grinding Days

Large crowds still gather to walk that trail and watch the mill and engine in action.

In 1980, the Marshall County Historical Society was asked by the limited personnel at Old Mill State Park to take over the milling operations. The request was approved by the society, and since 1981, numerous volunteers have provided the manpower to operate the mill under the Department of Natural Resourse's Volunteers in Park (VIP) program.

It is with great pride that Old Mill State Park and the Marshall County Historical Society work together to make Grinding Day an annual event.

Sunday, the steam whistle will blow and once again, the stones will turn grain into flour as area folks have the opportunity to experience first-hand a true piece of pioneer history.

Sometimes in life, less is more.
But not when it comes to money market fund yields.
For example, if you have short-term finances sitting in a bank money market account earning less than a competitive rate, then less is, well... just plain less.
Demand more. John G. Kinnard & Company can introduce you to a money market fund, Prime Cash Series, that's tailored to meet your needs for relative safety and convenience - yet still offers you attractive yield potential. This money market fund also offers services such as checkwriting, a VISA* debit card and phone redemptions.
When it comes to yield, less is never more. Talk to a Kinnard Investment Executive today to find out more about the yield opportunities available through Prime Cash Series. You'll be provided with a prospectus containing more complete information, including charges and expenses. Please read it carefully before you invest or send money.
Although money market funds seek to maintain a stable net asset value of $1.00 per share, there is no guarantee they will be able to do so. These funds are neither insured nor guaranteed by the U.S. Government.
Prime Cash Series 7-day net yield 4.74%
Prime Cash Series 7-day effective yield 4.85%

Breadmakers are wonderful things. I like to pretend I made the bread all by myself and let the breadmaker do the mixing and then take out the dough and form it into loaves and bake it in my own pans. Here are some breadmaker recipes for you.

This is the white bread recipe I like best - it makes 2 "homemade" loaves or a 2-pound loaf in the machine:

WHITE BREAD
1 1/2 cups water
4 cups flour
2 tablespoons dry milk
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons butter
2 1/2 teaspoons active dry yeast or
1 3/4 teaspoons fast rise yeast

If you like wheat bread, try this one, also a 2-pound loaf or 2 loaves:

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD
1 1/2 cups water
4 cups whole wheat flour
1/2 cup gluten
1/4 cup molasses
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons butter
2 1/2 teaspoons active dry yeast or
2 teaspoons fast rise yeast

My cousin says this is a great white bread recipe:

SANDWICH WHITE BREAD
1 package active dry yeast
3 cups bread flour
1 tablespoon sugar, honey or brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons nonfat dry milk
1 1/2 tablespoons oil
1 1/4 cups warm water

This is a tasty bread to serve "as is," or as an accompaniment to a main dish:

PIZZA BREAD
1 package active dry yeast
3 cups bread flour
1 tablespoons sugar, honey or brown sugar
1 teaspoon garlic salt
1 tablespoon pizza sauce mix
1/3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons oil
1 1/3 cups warm water
Optional: dried parsley flakes or oregano flakes

Honey and buttermilk combine to make a tasty bread:

HONEY BUTTERMILK BREAD
1 package active dry yeast
3 cups bread flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
3/4 cup buttermilk
3 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup warm water

If you like your bread with some healthy crunch, here's one for you:

HEALTH GRAIN
1 1/4 cups water
2 cups white bread flour
3/4 cup wheat bread flour
1 tablespoon dry milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon honey
2 tablespoons olive oil
1/2 cup chopped or grated carrots
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup sunflower seeds
1/2 cup bran flakes
2 tablespoons wheat germ
2 teaspoons fast rise yeast or
3 teaspoons active dry yeast

Area farms recognized as Century Farms

The Minnesota State Fair and the Minnesota Farm Bureau have recognized 260 Minnesota farms as 1997 Century Farms. Qualifying families own farms that have been in continuous family ownership for at least 100 years and are at least 50 acres in size. Century Farm families receive an aluminum building sign and a commemorative certificate signed by the president of the State Fair and the governor. Since the program began in 1976, a total of 6,627 farms in Minnesota have been recognized as Century Farms.

The following area farms were among those farms recognized:

Kittson — Lloyd Johnson Farms Inc., Karlstad in 1887; Wallace G. Larson, Lake Bronson in 1895; Robert and Dorothy Muir, James and Karen Muir, John and Cheryl Muir and Corrine and Terry Bell, Hallock 1896; and Palmer and Vivian Rundquist of Lancaster in 1897.

Lunsetter of Gatzke in 1897; Dolores Bakke Mesick, Newfolden, 1890; George and Carolyn Pittman of Goodridge in [illegible]; Evelyn Schmidt of Stephen in 1897; Gordon and Marlene Sommers and Scott D. Sommers of Warren in 1897.

Pennington — Eva M. Anderson of Thief River Falls in 1892.

Red Lake — Glenyce Harrington and Kern Tillman of Plummer in 1897.

Northern State Bank along with Hugo's Valley Markets Inc. announced recently that a new branch bank will be added to the Thief River Falls Hugo's store. Pending approval by state and federal regulators, the bank will be a full service banking facility located in the northwest corner of the store. Above, Dave Beito, left, and Gary Anderson of Hugo's, look at some of the plans.

Bank opens office in TRF Hugo's store

Northern State Bank has announced an agreement with Hugo's Valley markets, Inc. to open a new branch bank in the Thief River Falls Hugo's store. Pending approval by state and federal regulators, the bank will be a full service banking facility located in the Northwest corner of the store.

David Oeito, president of Northern State Bank, made the announcement this week. "Hugo's is currently creating space for our facility as a part of their extensive remodeling project. We've had a cash machine in the Hugo's store for over six years, however, the new in-store banking facility will expand financial options, providing person-to-person banking with a full line of the bank's loan and deposit products available while you shop."

Beito says the new full service location will address the need for expansion due to employment growth across the region. "The number of people we serve grows every year. They need our personal attention and quality services at a time and place that is convenient to them. Our new in-store banking facility will greatly enhance the bank's ability to provide the convenience people look for when they are ready to do their banking.

Disasters averted

by David Hill
Associate Editor

You'd think that with the snowstorms and floods of last year we'd be so prepared for an emergency that we wouldn't need extra training. It would seem to me that emergency personnel who had gone through those disasters, would be so used to the threat of an emergency that they would go through the exercise as if someone had screamed "wolf" one too many times.

It's true, however, that you can never be too prepared for a disaster. It's also true that nobody wants to be put through the real thing. That's why last week, emergency personnel from throughout the region participated in an emergency drill at the Regional Airport in Thief River Falls.

According to the scenario developed by the exercise design team, just a few minutes after passing the Bemidji area a loud explosion is heard in the aircraft. A call from the flight attendant in the rear of the aircraft indicates that the left engine has separated from the aircraft and part of the trailing edge of the wing is damaged. Controllability of the aircraft is difficult. An emergency is declared as an approach is started into the Thief River Falls airport.

After descending and maneuvering, the pilot is able to line up with runway 31 left. It is extremely difficult to maintain heading and altitude. Just as the aircraft passes over "Lake Plummer" controllability of the aircraft becomes more difficult and the aircraft descends to tree top level and crashes just short of the runway on airport property. There is a heavy smell of JP-4 aircraft fuel in the air. Some people are exiting from the main pieces of the aircraft, and some are injured.

Seems simple enough, but it took quite an effort to develop the plan, coordinate activities, determine goals and objective, and proper responses. Without some method of measuring the response, the effort might be wasted.

There were several objectives to the drill including: evaluating Pennington County and the City of Thief River Falls Emergency Operating Plan; evaluating the resource list and resources available to Pennington County and the City of Thief River Falls; evaluating the communications capability of Pennington County and the City of Thief River Falls; exercise and evaluate the Incident Command System; evaluate the water supplies available to the county fire departments; evaluate EMS simple triage and rapid treatment procedures; and satisfy FAA airport emergency preparedness requirements.

As a passive and active participant in the event, I believe the exercise was executed well and the response by emergency personnel just as impressive. It brought together various emergency response teams, including several from different jurisdictions. They reacted well in the face of stressful events and without a turf war. At the conclusion of the event a meeting was held during which they shared their feelings and concerns about the exercise.

There are some areas that need work. I think everyone realized that; however, I think all of us are better off because so many emergency personnel took the time to participate in this event.

Flying high for education

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Northwest Airline's donation of a DC 9-10 to the aviation department at Northland Community and Technical College is a wonderful training tool and a great example of how businesses and corporations can help schools provide the kind of training and education they want to see in their workforce.

A great education and experience are often demanded of today's graduates. Sometimes that demand may seem a circular in design — for how can you have experience and education if you can't get hired. Some students would like to believe that a great education is completed when a diploma is in hand, and a diploma in hand means a job. The search for a job, is often a disappointing exercise for many. They quickly learn that education is not a diploma, product, grade, money or a job, but a never-ending experience.

A DC 9-10 sitting in a junk heap or scrapped for pop cans is just a piece of garbage. Some may feel sentimental in seeing it somewhere on display. To my way of thinking, it would be a reminder of waste, and lost opportunities. Northwest Airline's donation of the DC 9-10 is an investment in its and our future.

Tuesday, a DC 9-10 landed in Thief River Falls. Though it will be stripped for more of its valuable parts, it will still provide students in the aviation program an opportunity to work on an airplane that they will more than likely see on the line in their future. Working on this airplane will give these students not only an education, but the kind of experience employers are seeking in prospective employees.

I may be making the airplane seem like the only benefit to arrive Tuesday. The airplane was just one element of a benefit program. The program also allows for instructors to receive an upgrade in training. It includes $400,000 in funding from Job Skills Partnership and $1,275,000 from the private sector — principally Northwest Airlines.

The entire program is an excellent example of business and education in a partnership that benefits everyone involved. The benefit to students and instructors is in some ways immeasurable. No one really knows what path this education and experience will take students and teachers. I hope and believe it will benefit them. It will also benefit the community. The students and instructors will be our neighbors, and it goes without saying that they will shop and contribute to the prosperity of this community. Business and corporations will benefit also by having educated and experienced employees joining their staffs.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Matching funds to benefit area families

Ronald McDonald House Charities of Fargo-Moorhead has expanded its commitment to children and families of eastern North Dakota and western Minnesota.

The top priority of Ronald McDonald House Charities remains the same. . . "to provide a temporary 'home-away-from-home' for seriously ill children and their families." In addition it now has the ability to reach out to support other children's programs in the area through a locally operated grantmaking program. The goal of this expanded mission is to promote programs that enhance the well-being of children in the area.

Funding for grant making is derived from a matching funds program available from the national office of Ronald McDonald House Charities, from local and regional McDonald's restaurants through promotional fundraisers and money canisters, and from other generous organizations who sponsor events for this program. The grant fund is completely separate from the House operating funds and is specifically designated by organizations or corporations as a way to give back to the area communities that have supported the Ronald McDonald House so generously. All individual, corporate and organizational donations not specifically designated for the grant fund are used exclusively for the operation of the Ronald McDonald House of Fargo-Moorhead.

The focus of the grant program is on activities that improve the quality of life for children and their families. Grants will be considered for programs that serve children from birth to age 18 in three distinct areas: 1) civic and social services, 2) education and the arts, 3) health care and medical research. Programs must directly serve children and requests are not considered for salaries, general and administrative costs, endowment campaigns or fundraising drives. Decisions to provide specific grants will be made locally by Ronald McDonald House Charities of Fargo-Moorhead after thorough review and study of all applications.

Interested 501(c)(3) organizations from throughout the area are invited to mail requests for grant guidelines and applications to Ronald McDonald House, 1234 Broadway, Fargo, ND, 58102. Application deadlines are October 1 and April 1.

CONDUCT ON SCHOOL BUSES AND CONSEQUENCES FOR MISBEHAVIOR

Riding the school bus is a privilege, not a right. Students are expected to follow the same behavioral standards while riding school buses as are expected on school property or at school activities, functions or events. All school rules are in effect while a student is riding the bus or at the bus stop. Consequences for school bus/bus stop misconduct will be imposed by the District Transportation Supervisor who will take the necessary disciplinary action. Parents and the building principal will be involved. All school bus/bus stop misconduct will initially be reported to the District's Transportation Safety Director and may be reported to local law enforcement.

A. School Bus And Bus Stop Rules. The School District school bus safety rules are to be posted on every bus. If these rules are broken, the School District's discipline procedures are to be followed. Consequences are progressive and may include suspension of bus privileges. It is the school bus driver's responsibility to report unacceptable behavior to the School District's Transportation Office.

B. Rules At The RURAL Bus Stops.
1. Get to your bus stop before your scheduled pick up time. The school bus driver will not wait for late students.
2. Respect the property of others while waiting at your bus stop.
3. Keep your arms, legs, and belongings to yourself.
4. Use appropriate language.
5. Stay away from the street, road or highway when waiting for the bus. Wait until the bus stops before approaching the bus.
6. After getting off the bus, move away from the bus.
7. If you must cross the roadway, always cross in front of the bus where the driver can see you. Wait for the driver's "all clear" signal before crossing the roadway.
8. No fighting, harassment, intimidation, or horseplay.
9. No use of alcohol, tobacco, or drugs.

C. Rules at the CITY Bus Stops.
1. Get to your bus stop during your scheduled pick up time. The school bus driver will not wait for late students.
2. Respect the property of others while waiting at your bus stop.
3. Keep your arms, legs, and belongings to yourself.
4. Use appropriate language.
5. Stay away from the street, road, or highway when waiting for the bus. Wait until the bus stops before approaching the bus.
6. After getting off the bus, move away from the bus.
7. If you must cross the street/roadway you are to follow the instructions of the school bus driver or the crossing guard assigned to that bus stop.
8. No fighting, harassment, intimidation, or horseplay.
9. No use of alcohol, tobacco, or drugs.

D. Rules on the Bus.
1. Immediately follow the directions of the driver.
2. Sit in your seat facing forward.
3. Talk quietly and use appropriate language.
4. Keep all parts of your body inside the bus.
5. Keep your arms, legs, and belongings to yourself.
6. No fighting, harassment, intimidation, or horseplay.
7. Do not throw any objects.
8. It is prerogative of the bus driver whether or not eating food or drinking pop on the bus will be permitted.
9. Do not bring any weapon or dangerous object on the school bus.
10. Do not damage the school bus.
11. Bus Drivers may assign seats to students whenever they feel this will help maintain discipline and safety.
12. Do not save a seat for someone. An empty seat is for anyone who wants to sit down.

E. Consequences.
Consequences for school bus/bus stop misconduct will apply to all regular and late routes. Decisions regarding a student's ability to ride the bus in connection with co-curricular and extra-curricular events (for example, field trips or competitions) will be in the sole discretion of the School District. Parents or guardians will be notified of any suspension of bus privileges.
1. Elementary (K - 8)
   1st offense — warning
   2nd offense — 3 school day suspension from riding the bus
   3rd offense — 5 school day suspension from riding the bus
   4th offense — 10 school day suspension from riding the bus/meeting with parent. Further offenses — individually considered. Students may be suspended for longer periods of time, including the remainder of the school year. NOTE: When a student goes 50 calender days without a report the student's consequences may start over at the first offense.
2. Secondary (6-12).
   1st offense — warning
   2nd offense — 8 school day suspension from riding the bus
   3rd offense — 10 school day suspension from riding the bus
   4th offense — 20 school day suspension from riding the bus/meeting with parent.
   5th offense — suspended from riding the bus for the remainder of the school year.
3. Other Discipline. Based on the severity of a student's conduct, more serious consequences may be imposed at any time. Depending on the nature of the offense, consequences such as suspension or expulsion from school may also result from school bus/bus stop misconduct.
4. Records. Records of school bus/bus stop misconduct will be forwarded to the individual school building and will be retained in the same manner as other student discipline records. Reports of serious misconduct will be provided to the Department of Public Safety. Records will also be maintained in the transportation office.
5. Vandalism/Bus Damage. Students damaging school buses will be responsible for the damages. Failure to pay such damages (or make arrangements to pay) within two weeks may result in the loss of bus privileges until damages are paid.
6. Notice. Students will be given a copy of school bus and bus stop rules during school bus safety training. Rules are to be posted on each bus and both rules and consequences will be periodically reviewed with students by the driver.
7. Criminal Conduct. In cases involving criminal conduct (for example, assault, weapons, possession or vandalism), the Superintendent, local law enforcement officials and the Department of Public Safety will be informed.

PARENT AND GUARDIAN INVOLVEMENT

A. Parent/Guardian Responsibilities for Transportation Safety.
1. Become familiar with District rules and policies, regulations and principles of school bus safety.
2. Assist students in understanding safety rules and encourage them to abide by them.
3. Recognize their responsibilities for the actions of their students.
4. Support safe riding practices and reasonable discipline efforts.
5. When appropriate, assist students in safely crossing local streets before boarding and after leaving the bus.
6. Support procedures for emergency evacuation, and procedures in emergencies as set up by the School District.
7. Respect the rights and privileges of others.
8. Communicate safety concerns to school administrators.
9. Monitor bus stops, if possible.
10. Support all efforts to improve school bus safety.
11. Notify the bus driver if you know your student will not be riding that night or the next morning.

B. Parent and Guardian Notification.
A copy of the School District school bus and bus stop rules will be provided to each family at the beginning of the school year or when a child enrolls, if this occurs during the school year. Parents and guardians are asked to review the rules with their students.

Amy Roche, Bruce Jean share volleyball job...

TRF has co-head coaches

Amy Roche and Bruce Jean will put their heads together this fall to serve as Thief River Falls co-head high school volleyball coaches.

Roche has worked in the program as an assistant coach under both Helen Anderson and Sally Wiltse. It's Jean's first coaching assignment.

"We'll share responsibilities," explained Roche. "We meet each day and plan out a practice. We seem to work well together."

Same procedure will be used to make changes during the course of a match. "We'll see how things are going, talk it over, and make a decision," said Roche.

There are five letter winners back from last year's 13-9 squad, including seniors Desirae Alberg and Holly Bjorgaard, along with juniors Lindsay Drury, Laura Follett and Taya Hunt.

An abundance of upperclassmen and height provide Roche and Jean with reason for optimism.

"We're really excited," said Roche. "We've got a lot of juniors and seniors, and we're big – really tall. We've got a lot of hitters."

Key to the Prowlers' success, noted Roche, will be to develop the setting and back-row defense to go along with those hitters.

Rest of the preseason turnout includes seniors Lisa Dicken, Sarah Hagen, Erica McGeary, Beth Olson, and Jami Philipp, juniors Ruthie Balmer, Shelli Eriksen, Teresa Friend, Katie Furuseth, Rachel Greelis, Leah Kenner, Nicole Kopari, Julie Martell, and Steph Wiseth, sophomores Abby Austad, Beth Carpenter, Lora Danielson, Brea Hammer, Katie Jorde, Heather Juhl, Shanon Langlie, Reya Lamm, Rachel Mathson, Amber Morkid, Ann Newton, Heidi Paulson, Shannon Rud, Lisa Sorteberg, Jamie Swanson, and Keli Waterworth; along with freshmen Melissa Adamson, Becky Bray, Amy Christenson, Ayla Donlin, Kelsi Holland, Katy Hook, Sara Jensen, Lisa Joppru, Christian Judd, Jennifer Koch, Teri Krogstad, Kelsey Liden, Marsha Lubitz, Connie Morris, Lindsey Nordhagen, Anna Stusynski, and Lindsey Cedergren.

The Prowlers open the season Sept. 2 at home against Crookston, but first they will play host to jamboree Wednesday and Friday, Aug. 27 and 29.

Varsity and junior varsity teams will take part in the eighth annual Prowler Jamboree Wednesday. Friday's varsity-only event finds the Class AA Prowlers playing host to area Sub-Section 31A schools.

Scrimmages on both days will take place in the two Lincoln High School gyms. Wednesday's matchups will include a simultaneous varsity/junior varsity draw, with the varsity teams playing in the main gym and the junior varsity squads meeting in the auxiliary gym.

Molstad is city trap champion

Molstad, Al Steinhauer, Dave Dupree, and Fran Johnson all turned in a perfect 50-straight during the regulation round of shooting, with Molstad winning a shoot-off with another 25-straight. Dupree shot a 22, while Steinhauer and Johnson both had a 20 in the extra round.

Shoot-off results also resulted in Dupree being crowned Class AA champion.

There was a three-way first place tie in Class A, where two extra rounds were needed before Luke Novacek won out over Andy Tri and Kurt Dupree. All three shot a regulation round 48. In a shoot-off, Novacek and Tri both hit 21, while Dupree dropped out at 20. Novacek then edged Tri 20-19 in the second shoot-off.

Kirby Hamre won the Class B title with a 49; Steve Fossell defeated Ryan Hible 22-21 in a shoot-off in Class C after they had shot to a 46-46 first place tie; and John Sjoberg won in Class D with a 44.

Prowlers' post-season opportunities improve

■ Swimming goes to two classes

Minnesota State High School League will go from one-class to two-class competition this fall in girls high school swimming, and Thief River Falls head coach Shon Thompson looks for the Prowlers to benefit from the split that will provide them with small-school Class A status.

"We should be real competitive in Class A," said Thompson. "It's a good opportunity for our kids to qualify for state."

The Prowlers will open the 1997 season Tuesday when they host Fosston in a 5 p.m. dual at the Franklin Middle School pool.

Although the team has just two upperclassmen in senior Wendy Lindquist and junior Katrina Holtan, it's still a veteran group, with six letter winners in the sophomore class and an eighth grade diver who has competed on the national level.

"We're not as young as we used to be, but we're still not very old, either," acknowledged Thompson. "I guess we're kind of in-between."

Lindquist is serving as the Prowlers' captain. She is joined in the list of returning letter winners by sophomores Julie Chrzanowski, Lindsay Ehrenstrom, Kristin Naplin, Andrea Olin, Andrea Sorvig, and Jennifer Sorvig, along with eighth grader Chelsea Haviland.

As a seventh grader, Haviland was second in Section 8 in diving and 18th at the state meet. She honed her skills over the summer when she advanced through sectional competition in Minneapolis and a zone-level meet in Milwaukee, WI to qualify for the United States Swimming national meet in Austin, Texas.

Several of the other Prowlers were also involved in the Thief River Falls USS program.

"It shows," said Thompson. "You can tell which ones swam over the summer."

Others on the early-season roster are freshmen Tiffany Frank, Alexis Klockman and Danica Schroeder; eighth graders Alicia Borneman, Allisa Holmaas, Miriah Johnson, and Jenny Lindquist, along with seventh graders Ashley Bergerson, Brittany Haviland, Jennifer Heaton, Michelle Johnson, and Tiffany Sorenson.

Thief River Falls had a 2-5 dual meet mark in 1996 when Thompson and Brian Olson worked as co-head coaches. When faced with the possibility of leaving the community for a career opportunity, Olson had to give up his half of the job title. However, he is still in Thief River Falls, and was recently officially appointed as the Prowlers' assistant coach.

Thompson primarily works with the divers while Olson coaches the swimmers.

High school football...

RLCC returning to Nine-Man football

Winless a year ago in the Class C Valley Plains Conference, Red Lake County Central looks to rebound this fall when the Mustangs return to Nine-Man high school football in the more familiar surroundings of the North Tri-County Conference.

"We've got 42 players in grades 9-12 who have been working very hard to erase memories of last year," pointed out Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl. "Last year didn't leave a very good taste in our mouth."

Instead of facing teams like Hawley, Warren-Alvarado-Oslo, Red Lake Falls, the Oklee/Plummer cooperative will be playing the likes of Win-E-Mac, Fisher/Climax and Ulen-Hitterdal.

That's not to put down the new foes. It's simply a better fit, explained Brantl, whose teams used to play in the North Tri-County Conference before the multiple classes changed the make-up of Minnesota high school football. "I think we're playing where we belong," he said. "We haven't seen these schools for four years, but we feel we fit in."

It won't be an easy start, however, since the Mustangs see traditionally strong Clearbrook/Gonvick and Norman County East in early-season match-ups.

Red Lake County Central will build around nine players with starting experience. The seniors in the group include linebackers Kyle Jenson (5-10, 160) and Brandon Tougas (5-8, 147); center Quinn Bishop (5-7, 185), ends Tyler Nelson (6-0, 170) and David Fox (5-11, 160); lineman T.J. Larson (6-1, 170); and defensive back Troy Magnell (5-8, 139). Juniors Mark Lorenson, a 6-3, 180-pound quarterback, and Nick Waldal, a 6-1, 181-pound end, also started last year.

Top runningback candidates are Jenson, Tougas, 5-10, 157-pound senior Kyle Lefebvre and 5-9, 170-pound sophomore Matt Hruby.

"We're not real big," acknowledged Brantl. "The key is developing an interior line. We're trying to put the pieces together."

Lorenson provides the Mustangs with a big boost in the kicking department with solid credentials on kickoffs, place kicks and punts.

Funds distributed to counties across Minnesota by DNR

A total of $5,501,594 has been distributed by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources to 74 counties in the six regions of the state, according to DNR Commissioner Rod Sando.

"Each year the DNR makes a significant contribution to the budgets of counties throughout the state through the in-lieu-of-tax payments," Sando said. "Our partnership with the counties and local governments are important to the DNR."

Payments range in size from $958,746 sent to St. Louis County in northeastern Minnesota to $119 sent to Stevens County in western Minnesota. Seventy-four counties will receive payments. The remaining 13 counties received payment from other funds for eligible DNR lands.

The in-lieu-of-tax payments, which have been made since 1979, result in tax reductions for Minnesota citizens and increased local resource development for the counties. When added to funds distributed earlier this year from taxes paid on public hunting lands, consolidated conservation lands, state park lands, goose lands, etc., the DNR's in-lieu-of-tax payments total more than $7.67 million.

By law, counties are required to deposit 40 percent of the funds received in the county general fund. Another portion must be deposited in a county resource development fund for use in forest management, game and fish habitat improvement, recreational development, or maintenance of county-administered natural resources land. However, any county receiving less than $5,000 annually for the resource development fund may elect to deposit that amount in the county general revenue fund. Organized townships also receive funds for road and bridge projects.

NCTC audit prompts positive changes

President Orley Gunderson says result will be a stronger and improved college program

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

An audit report released Friday morning, August 29, by the Office of the Legislative Auditor in St. Paul presents a number of negative comments regarding Northland Community and Technical College (NCTC) in Thief River Falls. The audit covers the period from July 1, 1995 through Dec. 31, 1996.

Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of NCTC, said the college has responded to the audit questions and already begun implementing changes suggested to correct deficiencies noted in the audit report. He said the audit team was at NCTC for five weeks and "did a good job in a very thorough and professional manner" and that Northland intends to fully implement the recommendations made.

In its conclusions to the audit, the Legislative Auditor's office stated:

"The overall financial management at the college lacked basic controls such as timely bank account reconciliations, proper recording of financial activity, and adequate monitoring of operations. The business office was understaffed and employees had not received adequate training in financial systems and procedures.

"We were also concerned that the college had an environment that permitted the existence of some potential employee conflicts of interest and possibly other inappropriate conduct by certain employees, including the vice president.

"The college did not have an adequate separation of duties in most financial management areas including tuition and fees, purchasing, bookstore operations, and financial aid," the conclusions continued. "The lack of controls over tuition receipts resulted in the college undertaking an investigation into alleged financial and academic improprieties in its Management Division. In general, the college needs to strengthen procedures in all of these areas.

"The college has good controls over payroll expenditures," the audit report continued. "For financial aid, controls provided assurance it complied with program eligibility requirements. The college did not, however, comply with federal cash management and reporting requirements, and we noted control weaknesses over financial aid disbursements. The college had an appropriate relationship with the Northland Community and Technical College Foundation and the Joint Powers Board."

(At a staff workshop Wednesday in the college theatre, President Gunderson informed the staff that Sue Minnick, who has been vice president for a number of years, "no longer works at Northland. As of today she is employed at Central Lakes College and is engaged in duties and responsibilities for Central Lakes." He said he desired to respect Minnick's confidentiality and privacy and was not at liberty to discuss the matter in further detail.)

One phase of the audit report's findings and recommendations pointed out "potential conflicts of interest and other inappropriate activities" and specifically stated the vice president:

- Requested a $188 tuition refund for her child after the allowable refund period and outside of the NCTC refund policy;
- Selected her own child to represent the college at the county fair at wages of $75 per day for approximately eight hours of work, while most work study assignments pay $5.50 per hour;
- Allowed her child to charge approximately $800 at the bookstore against NCTC policy and that the charges remained outstanding for up to 16 months, and
- Allowed a personal friend of the family to receive $170 of a Stafford loan in cash instead of applying the funds to $1,655 in tuition owed for 1995 and 1996.

The audit report contains seven separate chapters relating to background information, financial management, tuition and fee revenue, administrative expenditures, bookstore revenues and expenditures, federal and state financial aid and work study and Northland Community and Technical College Foundation and the Joint Powers Board.

Also attached is a seven-page letter of response from Dr. Gunderson which addresses the 18 findings made in the audit. Each of the responses indicates agreement with the finding, an explanation for the situation and a plan for correction along with a date by which the change will be made.

In an article in the Wednesday, September 3 edition of The Times, a more detailed review of the audit recommendations and responses will be published. Time and space did not permit a detailed review in this issue.

In general, Dr. Gunderson said three things contributed to the situations which were cited in the audit.

(1) Because the college had been part of the multiple campus Northwest Technical College prior to consolidation into Northwest Community and Technical College, the president was unaware of what its beginning fund balance would be.

(2) The college had faced declining enrollments from a high in full-time equivalency of 980 in 1991-92 to 410 in 1995-96. Concern for expenditures over budget resulted in reductions in personnel which left some departments short staffed.

(3) Creation of the Minnesota State Colleges and Universities (MnSCU) system resulted in the expectation that colleges achieve greater efficiencies through cutbacks and reductions.

Dr. Gunderson said the audit was conducted as a regular scheduled procedure of the Office of the Legislative Auditor and was not ordered separately. Each of the schools in the MnSCU system is to be audited every three years. Dr. Gunderson said he has requested an audit again next year to further assist the college to improve and become stronger.

The audit does not allege any fund shortage and includes a brief financial statement which shows the college had a fund balance of $799,078 as of June 30, 1996, the end of the 1996 fiscal year. Its beginning balance had been $149,207 and the total revenue of the college for that fiscal year from all sources was $9,635,554.

Harvest underway; quality and yield poor

Reports from fall harvest operations in northwestern Minnesota are that quality and yields of small grains are generally fair to poor with a high incidence of scab in wheat and barley.

If there is a bright spot in the harvest picture it appears to be canola, according to Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator. There is increased canola acreage in the area this year and early yields have been reported at around 1,500 pounds per acre. Part of the crop is contracted in advance at 11 to 13 cents.

Another crop which has the potential for turning a profit is alfalfa hay. Cold and wet weather this spring made harvest of the first crop of alfalfa difficult, but second and third cuttings have been put up with no rain and are of good quality. On well managed stands alfalfa is producing four tons per acre with the present price around $80 per ton.

Barley harvest is virtually completed in the area and was extremely variable with yields from 40 to 7 bushels per acre. Very little is expected to make malting quality because of vomitoxin from scab in most of the crop.

Winter wheat yields were from 35 to 55 bushels with an average in the low 40s and good test weight.

Spring wheat is about 25 percent harvested with yields reported mostly in the 20s and low 30s with poor quality and light bushel weight. The late seeded crop appears to be worse than the early seeding, Person said, and he expects yields and quality to decline as the season advances.

Oats acreage was up substantially in the area this for two reasons, Person said—it is cheap to plant and isn't affected by scab. Yields have been reported at around 70 bushels per acre.

Sunflower acreage is down about 25 per cent this year and, as with other row crops, requires frost-free weather until at least the middle of September for maximum yields. Even with favorable weather, the increase of sunflower midge and other factors will hurt yields.

Soybean acreage has quadrupled in the area and a number of fields look good, Person said. Corn and soybeans both will need another two to three weeks of frost-free weather for maturity.

Dave Cameron of rural Thief River Falls was just pulling out of the field with the last truckload of grain from this fall's harvest when intercepted by a Northern Watch photographer Thursday afternoon. Cameron said they got started on the harvest season earlier than most of their neighbors and the dry weather permitted a rapid harvest, although the crop was generally poor. The wheat he is shown handling in this posed photo tested at 14.2 percent moisture at 10 a.m. when the combine in the background moved into the standing grain just south of the Family Bowl.

Proposed septic ordinance to be discussed Thursday

To discuss a new proposed county ordinance on individual septic treatment systems for Pennington county, a public meeting will be held Thursday, September 4, at 1:30 p.m. at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Presenting information at the session will be Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator and Abigail Vetter, water plan coordinator for the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation District.

Person and Vetter will review current state rules which now regulate septic systems and an ordinance being proposed for the county by Person and the board of county commissioners.

"Under current state rules," Person says, "most of the septic systems being installed at the present are mound-type systems. This is due primarily to mottling in the soil which is the only indicator of soil wetness used to determine the type of system to be installed.

"Since mound-type systems are on average twice as expensive as trench systems, this puts a significant financial burden on rural residents having to install or replace their septic system."

Under new legislation adopted by the 1997 Minnesota legislature, however, counties are allowed to adopt standards which vary from the state rules, provided they pass these standards as a county-wide

Joint Powers Board discusses high bids

A disappointed Joint Powers Board discussed the high bids for the Multi-Events Cultural Center Tuesday.

Paul Sorum of Triebwasser Helenske and Associates, engineering firm working on the sports and cultural center project in Thief River Falls, explained that the bids on the project came in higher than anticipated. In addition to that bit of bad news, he added that contractors did not even bid on the football field and track package. Sorum said that part of the reason the bids came in high has to do with the season. Another reason probably has to do with the amount of work being generated as a result of last spring's flood. Sorum said he didn't know why contractors didn't bid on the track and field.

Joint Powers board members bounced around a number of options during discussion. At the outset of the discussion, Thief River Falls Mayor Robert Reeve proposed that they reject bids.

It was the consensus of project advisors that the bidding climate probably would not improve any time in the near future. Rebidding the entire project could result in higher bids because of the amount of earthwork being proposed in the area.

The board also discussed the possibility of rejecting parts of the project. Several members suggested cutting the Wellness Center from the project.

Dr. Jim Langland, who would be one of the partners in a firm already chosen to operate the facility, made an impassioned plea to keep the Wellness Center in the project. Langland reminded board members of the reasons it was proposed in the first place — to provide a revenue stream to support the track and field, create a community-wide health and fitness center, and the legislative support it received because it was a community wide project.

Darla Twomey noted that the project as it was bid would result in the ridiculous situation of lockers for players and bleachers for a crowd, but no track or field. It doesn't make sense, she stated.

Twomey, like many others, proposed that the board look at the reasons why they got into this project in the first place.

Originally, the project involved a football field and track and then it grew and developed into a multi-million dollar project that encompassed many different activities and objectives.

Rick Nelson, a project coordinator, urged the board to hang onto that idea. Like so many other projects in the community, such as the swimming pool, he said, the community seems to put road blocks in

Wellness Center Letter of Intent rescinded

(Editor's Note: Thursday, August 28, 1997, following discussions on Tuesday about bids for the Multi-Events Cultural Center, Dr. Jim Langland announced Thief River Life Center's intent to rescind its Letter of Intent to operate the Wellness Center. The following is reprinted from the letter delivered to Dr. Orley Gunderson)

Dear Orley,

In September of 1996, with great enthusiasm and civic pride we submitted our proposal to operate the Wellness Center at the proposed MECC. It was clear at the Joint Powers Board meeting on August 26 that this proposal has no support from the other three Board members. It is therefore prudent and wise for us to rescind our Letter of Intent to sign the negotiated lease document and renounce all interest in operating or participating in the Wellness Center. We hope this action will enable the Joint Powers Board to salvage a football stadium and track from this project.

Through this entire process, we appreciated your vision, and dedication to the community. Thief River Falls and NCTC is lucky to have a man of your integrity, honor and character. We are both willing and interested in working with NCTC, its students and staff in any health promotion activities, classes or programs now or in the future.

Sincerely,
Jim Langland, M.D.

NWRDC receivas grant to hire flood assistance personnal

Congressman Collin C. Peterson has announced that the Northwest Regional Development Commission in Warren has been awarded a $100,000 grant from the Economic Development Administration to fund necessary personnel to provide flood recovery coordination, planning, and implementation assistance for the region.

"Most of the smaller communities throughout the district are facing a huge amount of work finding what flood resources are available to them, and how to apply for assistance," Peterson said. "With this grant, the Northwest Regional Development Commission will be able to hire professionals to provide technical assistance for communities throughout the region.

"These professionals will help communities in our region identify the resources that are available to them for their long-term recovery," Peterson said. "They will sit down with officials in communities and make sure that all the paperwork is done correctly and submitted to the appropriate people. They will also assist in creating a regional recovery plan."

the way. He suggested that they look at the obstacles as hurdles and take a risk.

Others said the board members should look at moral obligations to students and other stakeholders. Others said it was a matter of keeping their word; yet, others said it really comes down to money — what it can afford.

Some members of the board seemed prepared to vote in favor of proceeding with the project. Doing something, such as site preparation, would protect the integrity of the project, which has been beset by delays since it started. Others objected, and were in favor of obtaining more information.

Sorum mentioned that although the local needs were understood, he said state officials also have a say in the outcome and scope of the project. For the sake of this project, and future projects, it was important to learn what their thoughts were on the project, he said.

At the conclusion of the discussion, it was decided that a delegation from the Joint Powers board would discuss the problems with local legislative representatives and state officials. They would try to determine the legislative intent behind the financial support, and how flexible they were willing to be on eliminating portions of the project. Some members questioned, for example, whether eliminating the Wellness Center (a $400,000 element of the project) would be allowed without the board being required to re-bid the entire project.

The Joint Powers Board had 23 days from Tuesday to decide on what to do about the bids. In the meantime they will meet with legislators and state officials. Their next meeting is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. September 10 at the Evergreen Eating Emporium.

Red River Basin Board to elect officers Sept. 4

Newly-formed Red River Basin Board (RRBB) will elect officers at its next meeting Thursday, September 4, at 12:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn in Grand Forks, ND. Don Ogaard of Ada has been acting chairman since the first RRBB meeting was held on May 24.

Several state, provincial and federal agency representatives will be on hand to brief the board on various water management practices in the Red River basin.

The board is comprised of 21 people including mayors of cities along the Red River and rural municipalities, county commissioners, watershed district managers, Native American tribal representatives and provincial and state appointees.

Along with development of a Red River Basin water management plan, the RRBB is hoped to provide a forum where water projects and issues can be discussed and resolved through consensus and cooperation.

"Participation by all basin residents is critical to the process of planning for future water needs in the Red River Basin," Ogaard said.

The cost of the dance is $3 for NCTC students with ID's and $8 for everyone else.

NCTC hopes the whole community of Thief River Falls and surrounding communities will come out and join in the fun. Johnny Holm is entertaining for people of all ages and everyone is invited to join the NCTC students and the Student Senate during Kick-off week at Northland.

However, the meeting is open to the public and all persons interested in the problem and the proposed ordinance are welcome to attend, listen to the information to be presented and participate in the discussion.

Second detour in effect for Hwy. 11

Minnesota Department of Transportation advises motorists that the second detour for construction on Highway 11 in Lake of the Woods county is now in use and is expected to be in effect through September 19.

According to Bob Kleinschmidt, MnDOT project supervisor, this detour will route traffic north of Highway 11 on CSAH 6 for four miles, east on Highway 172 for seven miles, then back to Highway 11.

"Motorists should be alert for areas of loose gravel on the west end of the project on Highway 11, and also obey all signing and signaling instructions," Kleinschmidt added.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

It's that time of year again - time for canning and preserving. Today's recipes are some jams and jellies you might like to try this year, or keep for another time. Next week we'll have some relish and pickle recipes.

Wouldn't this be good for Thanksgiving?

SPICED CRANBERRY JAM

8 cups cranberries (2 pounds)
1 cup water
1 cup vinegar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon allspice
6 cups sugar

Mash cranberries lightly. Add vinegar and water and cook until soft. Put through coarse strainer.

Add sugar and spices and cook 8 minutes or until thick. Pour into sterilized jars to within 1/4 inch of top. Screw tops on tightly and process 10 minutes in boiling water bath. (7 half pints)

Those plums in the back yard will soon be ready for this recipe:

PLUM JELLY

Wash plums and cover with cold water. Boil until plums are soft. Press through jelly bag, strain and measure.

Bring juice to a boil, adding 3/4 cup sugar for each cup of juice. Boil rapidly to jelly stage. Pour into jelly jars and fill to 1/2 inch of top. Screw band on firmly and process 5 minutes in boiling water bath.

TESTING FOR JELLY POINT

Bring jelly to full, rolling boil that cannot be stirred down. Dip a spoon in the boiling jelly. As it nears the jelly point, it will drop from the side of the spoon in two drops. When the drops run together and slide off in a sheet from the side of the spoon, the jelly is finished and should be removed from the heat at once.

A candy or jelly thermometer may be used. The temperature of the boiling juice at the jelly point will be from 220 to 222 degrees.

Remove the foam from the jelly and pour at once into sterilized jars, filling within 1/2 inch of top. Process for 5 minutes in boiling water bath.

This will give you a summer taste all winter long:

PEAR-TART APPLE JAM

4 cups diced pears
4 cups diced tart apples
5 tablespoons lemon juice
5 cups sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon

Peel and dice fruit. Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Boil about 20 minutes.

Remove from heat and allow to stand for 10 minutes to plump. Bring back to boil, stirring frequently and cook for 20 minutes.

Pour into sterilized jars to within 1/4 inch from top. Screw band tight and process 10 minutes in boiling water bath. (8 half pints)

CRAB APPLE PRESERVES

Wash apples and remove blossom ends. Leave stems on and do not peel.

Make a syrup by boiling 6 cups sugar and 3 cups water together for 5 minutes. Add crab apples to the syrup and boil until they are tender and transparent.

Fill sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Screw caps on tightly and process 10 minutes in boiling water bath.

There should be an abundance of these type of tomatoes eventually this fall - try this recipe for something different:

GREEN TOMATO PRESERVES

5 pounds green tomatoes
(11 cups, chopped)
8 cups sugar
2 lemons, sliced thin

Cut tomatoes into small cubes or chunks. Cover with hot water and boil 5 minutes. Drain.

Add sugar to tomatoes and let stand at least 3 hours. Drain off syrup and boil it rapidly until it spins a thread when dropped from a spoon.

Add tomatoes and lemons and boil thick and clear (about 10 minutes).

Pour into sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Screw band on tightly and process 10 minutes in boiling water bath. (4 pints)

"Your Call Is Important To Us..." And Other Joys Of Computer Automation

"Your call is important to us," insists the recorded voice on the other end of the telephone call. "All of our lines are presently in use. Please stay on the line and your call will be answered in the order in which it was received."

The key words in the message above—which is being heard with increasing frequency these days—are "your call." Indeed, it is the call which is important to the businesses installing these infuriating automated answering services, not the caller. People don't exist in the computer age; only messages matter.

Remember when the buzz-buzz-buzz of a busy signal was a normal annoyance when making a call? It was always a frustration, especially when repeated calls yielded the same result. Now we consider a busy signal to be a welcome sound compared to phones "answered" by these anonymous recorded voices.

When a busy signal was encountered, you simply hung up the handpiece, went about your business and placed the call later. Now businesses apparently think you have nothing better to do with your time than stay on the line and wait... and wait.....and wait until a real person gets around to taking your call. Not only that, they subject you to either recorded messages promoting their products or services, repetition of the same recording telling you how important your call is, or music which fits neither your taste nor your mood.

The obvious thing to do, perhaps, is what we always used to do—hang up the phone and try again later. The downside to this tactic is that 99 times out of 100 you will get the same recording each time you call and never reach a human being without eventually playing the waiting game.

Another annoyance is the answering program which gives the caller a multiple choice—often a gamble —of actions to take:

"Hello. You have reached the Amalgamated Widget Corporation's computerized answering device. Your call is important to us. If you are using a touch-tone phone and know our secret code, press the preferred 15 symbols, letters and numbers in sequence...now. If you want to reach a custodian, press C...now. If you have a complaint about a product, press Z...now. If you are a leggy brunette, press 1...anytime. If you have infinite patience, an hour to kill, like funk rock music and desperately want to talk to a real person, stay on the line and your call will be answered as soon as our receptionist gets back from lunch. And have a nice day.......Hello. You have reached the Amalgamated Widget........."

Answering machines which direct the caller to leave a message can also be an annoyance. As many times as we have contacted these contraptions, it still seems unnatural to talk to someone who isn't there. Furthermore, if the call is long distance, you incur charges when the machine "answers," and the party called is left in the sometimes awkward position of either not returning the call or having to pay another long distance fee to do so.

Of course, trying to get along without telephone service would be difficult. It is a vital communication link for business, emergency and socialization. It is also an insistent intrusion that begs immediate attention when it rings. We knew a businessman who, faced with long lines at airline ticket counters, always went to the nearest phone, called the ticket agent and received almost immediate service while those in line in person continued to wait.

Now, with these new-fangled answering systems, using the phone is an increasing frustration when there is any degree of urgency or explanation required.

Better were the days long ago when you could ring the operator, ask for Marge at Amalgamated Widget, and have Gertie tell you not to waste your time because Marge ran off with the payroll clerk the day before yesterday. That was back when there was some meaning to the word service in telephone service.

Two Messages In The Same Statistics

Statistics can sometimes be misleading or only show one facet of a situation. At other times they can provide information that may not have been the primary purpose for preparation of the statistics. Such is the case with information from the U.S. Census Bureau regarding the rewards of heading back to school.

Frequently cited by people in the educational field is the financial advantage of getting as much formal education as possible. The Census Bureau provides figures for that purpose, showing that on average a person will do better financially by staying in or going back to school for more information and training.

But the chart provided and entitled "1995 Mean Money Earnings by Educational Attainment and Sex for Year-Round Full-Time\Workers Ages 18 and Over" also shows the increasing disparity in average earnings between men and women as education increases.

For example, the mean earnings for those who are not high school graduates averages $20,442 with men averaging $22,454 and women averaging $16,049—a difference between the earnings of men and women of $6,400 or about 29 percent. For those with professional degrees averaging $98,197 in income overall, men average $111,654 and women average $59,793—a difference of $51,800 or 46 percent. At this level the average woman with a professional degree earns $38,404 less than the overall average for that class of educational qualification.

Granted, the statistics provided are a couple of years old and some strides have been made toward reducing the gap in disparity, but the difference likely has not changed substantially. For whatever reason or reasons, women who have the intelligence and determination to seek the highest degrees of professional training would appear to be not comparatively compensated with their male counterparts.

Put in paragraph form, the charted information is as follows with mean earnings for both sexes, for men only and for women only listed respectively:

Not high school graduate, $20,442, $22,454 and $14,049; high school graduate, $27,038, $31,063 and $21,298, some college, no degree, $31,128, $36,546 and $23,750, associate degree, $33,425, $37,628 and $28,510; bachelor's degree, $44,523, $51,998 and $33,665; master's degree, $55,384, $64,544 and $41,676, doctorate degree, $72,099, $77,815 and $55,041; and professional degree, $98,197, $111,654 and $59,793.

It is likely that the averages are affected by the actual amount of time spent in the workforce. A number of women, for example, interrupt their careers or cut back on their work hours either voluntarily or otherwise to spend more time rearing their children. This would reduce the potential earnings and account for part of the discrepancy.

However one views the pay differential on a gender basis, the obvious message in the statistics is that—on average—it pays for anyone to get as much formal education as he or she can. It is a good message to listen to as classes open for the fall season.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I recently received an article which appeared in the Northern Watch. To my surprise, there was a photo of the 1967 class reunion held over the July 4th weekend in Thief River Falls.

It appeared that approximately 40 graduates from the Class of '67 had attended. Evidently I was not the only graduate who did not receive notification, considering the class numbered over 200. It is a shame that more classmates were not contacted, considering some family members still live in the surrounding area. Perhaps next time more diligence is in order.

Sincerely,
Carol Schmidt

Plummer schools ready for 1997-1998 classes

School District 628 at Plummer is ready for the start of the 1997-98 school year Tuesday, September 2, with several changes from a year ago, according to Supt. Richard Lorenson.

Two new teachers have been hired, a latch-key program started and changes made in attendance policy, Lorenson said.

A full day of classes will be held on opening day for students in grades one through 12. Students in kindergarten will start classes on Wednesday, September 3.

Bus route lists were provided in a newsletter sent to residents of the district and students are advised to be ready a few minutes early and watch for arrival of the bus.

The latch-key program is a first for the district and has been instituted at the request of a number of parents. It will provide supervised activities in the school building from 3:15 to 5:45 p.m. for children in pre-school and kindergarten through sixth grade.

Cost to parents or guardians will be $1 per child per hour, the superintendent said. Arrangements for use of the service can be made by contacting the school office.

New teachers this year include Brian Larson, who will replace Jen Solie in high school English, and Karen Bakken, who will be a new addition to the staff as a special education instructor. The 2 1/2-hour position in home economics, vacated by the resignation of long-time instructor Margaret Hammon, had not been filled as of Thursday, Lorenson said, but contacts are being made and the classes could be covered internally if necessary.

A new set of guidelines regarding attendance is being provided to parents to review with their children as part of the high school handbook. Lorenson said purpose of the policy changes is to strengthen attendance and provide for a more positive experience in school.

In summary, the policy states that students have the right to attend classes at Plummer but also have the responsibility to maintain punctual, regular attendance. Parents or guardians are asked to notify the school office on the day of an absence (the school office is open at 7:30 a.m.) and the school reserves the right to determine if an absence is excusable.

A student may lose credit for any course when absences reach beyond five days of any one marking period. Acceptable are absences approved through the office, official religious holidays, death in the immediate family, court related, educational activities or honors sponsored by organizations which are approved by the school and certain college visits.

Counted in the five-day absence rule will be illness without medical documentation or determination, family emergencies and prearranged absences with parental permission.

Students missing school due to a long term illness or injury should contact the school, and days missed because of these situations—and verified by a parent or guardian—will not count toward the five-day rule.

Students who are tardy for classes, and the tardiness is not excused, are also subject to penalty. Five such incidents of unexcused tardiness will equal one day of unexcused absence.

Parents were also reminded in a newsletter distributed prior to the start of school to have their students' immunizations brought up to date.

Lorenson said that the board of education has authorized additional computers which have been purchased for use by school staff and high school students in the learning resource center. They are equipped with the latest software and can be used to access the Internet and/or the local area network.

The superintendent has also noted that there is at least one position open on the community education advisory board which meets bimonthly or as needed. Interested persons are invited to apply by calling the school office in Plummer or Dianne Gagner in Brooks. Ideas or requests for classes are also invited.

Supt. Lorenson invited persons with questions or concerns to contact the school office as soon as possible. "Those questions and concerns are important to us," he said, "and we want to address them immediately."

Keri Skiba, 21, daughter of Dave and Kathy Skiba of North Branch, was crowned the 44th Princess Kay of the Milky Way August 20 in St. Paul at the Minnesota State Fairgrounds. Runners-up were Shennan Larson, 18, Winona and Lisa Mounts, 21, Dalton. Region 1 representative in the contest was Ingrid Hanson of Thief River Falls. The new Princess Kay represented Region 2, which includes the counties of Aitkin, Anoka, Carlton, Chisago, Crow Wing, Isanti, Itasca, Kanabec, Mille Lacs, Pine and St. Louis. She will represent Minnesota's nearly 11,000 dairy farmers as their goodwill ambassador for the next year and make an appearance at the Region 1 Dairy Princess contest June 8 and 9, 1998, in Thief River Falls.

Stumpf says Legislature was kind to NW Minnesota

Because of a spirit of cooperation and not a great deal of partisanship, a lot of good work was done by the 1997 Legislature, according to Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls.

"All in all, this was one of the best legislative sessions in recent memory," he said. "The 1997 Legislature did well by residents of Northwestern Minnesota, particularly in the areas of agricultural research funding and state rules on individual sewage treatment systems. Knowing their importance to the people of our area, I was very active on these issues."

Stumpf said that wheat and barley scab research being done at the University of Minnesota will continue over the next two years with a state funding commitment of $1.6 million. He authored the legislation in the Senate and worked to convince urban House members who dominate the House Higher Education Committee that it is a worthwhile project.
